

FEDERAL MARSHALS RING LYCEUM BUILDING

Federal marshals stand around the Lyceum Building in Oxford, Mississippi, as they surround the campus of the University of Mississippi. The registration office is located in the Lyceum.

Up To 30,000 Canadians Said Members Of Investment Club

By BRUCE STOVEL ... Canadian Press Staff Writer
Somewhere between 20,000 and 30,000 Canadians from all walks of life are learning the ground rules of the stock market as members of Canada's 2,500 investment clubs.

This is indicated in a recent survey of its member clubs by the Canadian Association of Investment Clubs. The association made up of 270 clubs representing 4,000 individual investors.

More than 100 of the clubs in the association gave complete answers to the survey, providing the first major cross-section of the typical investment club in Canada.

REPORT FINDINGS
This is what they found:
Average number of members—17.
Average age—41 years.
Average monthly contributions from each member—$11.36.
Annual appreciation of investment—4.3 per cent.
Average age of club—3.9 years.
Average number of stocks held—10.85.

Many clubs are formed with five-year charters providing for liquidation of the club after five years if members are satisfied they have received a sufficient rounding in investment to branch out on their own.

The association estimates about 40 per cent of the club members eventually become individual investors.

ESTIMATE MEMBERSHIP
The association says the survey indicates government clubs across the country have a total membership of 20,000 to 30,000 with a total investment in the stock market of between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000.

The survey also suggested the clubs were putting about $250,000 a month into the stock market.

The clubs replying had a heavy leaning toward "growth" stocks—those whose price is most likely to rise over the next several years.

The favorite stock of the clubs surveyed was Dominion Tar and Chemical, held by 46 clubs. BA Oil, held by 38 clubs, and Massey-Ferguson, held by 22, followed.

FAVOR OILS AND GAS
The favorite section of the market was oil and gas stocks. The average club had about 13.6 per cent of its money in these stocks, with 12.4 per cent in food and beverage stocks and 11.9 per cent in public utilities.

The association is trying to organize its member clubs, with additional new members, into a group of regional councils covering the main geographical areas of Canada. It is well on the way to forming one such council in Ontario and another for clubs in Quebec outside the Montreal area.

"These clubs spread like wildfire in districts when they catch on," says association director Bert Kropp of Montreal. "We've got more than 30 clubs in the Chicoutimi area of Quebec alone and about 20 in the Quebec City area."

Author, Artist Dies In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Ludwig Bemelmans, 64, writer, humorist and illustrator famous for his anti-war satires, died Monday at his studio in the National Art Club. Cancer was given as the cause of death.

The irrepressible Bemelmans was a prolific writer who wrote in an urbane, witty style and contrived many pieces to the New Yorker, Vogue, Town and Country and other leading magazines.

He illustrated many of his own books and, in fact, considered himself a painter first and a writer second. His paintings were shown at several important galleries.

Born in the Austrian Tyrol, Bemelmans came to the United States more than 40 years ago and began working as a waiter. He enlisted in the U.S. Army in the First World War, and from that experience came his first anti-war book, entitled My War with the U.S.A. Another satire, Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep, followed.

Bemelmans later worked in Hollywood, but ultimately pointed his satirical sword at the movie colony itself, with a 1947 book entitled Dirty Eddie.

The work that first launched him on the road to fame was a 1932 book of illustrated rhymes called Madeline, in honor of his wife, Madeline Freund, whom he married in 1935. She survives, as does their daughter, Barbara.

BAYONETS IN EVIDENCE AT 'OLE MISS'

Soldiers with bayonets attached to guns are a part of this guard detail at one of the entrances to University of Mississippi. Only authorized personnel are allowed to pass through the gates. Newsmen have been kept out.

Spaak Given Big Ovation On ECM Talk

By JOSEPH MACSWEEEN UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak won a stirring ovation in the United Nations General Assembly when he delivered a plea for understanding of the aims of the European Common Market.

New nations of Asia and Africa joined in the prolonged applause after Spaak, one of the architects of the six-nation, European Community, declined.

"You fear that we are too rich, that we are selfish, and you are wrong."

"Welcome us without fear, for it is to all we extend the hand of friendship."

Spaak in his hour-long address did not minimize the importance of the market, saying that with the proposed entry of Britain—which he believed and hoped would take place—the community would rank in economic power with the United States and the Soviet Union.

But he stressed the longing of Europeans for an end to the strife of centuries and said Europeans are coming more and more to regard the two world conflicts of this century as "civil wars" that must never occur again.

Russia Rejects Test Controls

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Premier Khrushchev again rejected international control over underground nuclear tests—the main issue holding up a test-ban agreement—during a meeting with two Indian peace campaigners.

The government newspaper Ivestia said the Indians met the Soviet premier in the Turkmenistan capital of Ashkhabad Monday and handed him an appeal urging nuclear powers to renounce nuclear weapons, lic-itate their stockpiles and stop manufacture and testing.

Ivestia reported that Khrushchev said reliable control over commitments to end all nuclear tests could be effected by national means of detection.

The Soviet news agency Tass reported Khrushchev emphasized that "at present, there are all the necessary conditions for the immediate solution of the problem of ending nuclear tests."

The Soviet premier gave his views at a meeting with two members of the Gandhi Peace Foundation, Indian parliamentarian U.N. Dhebar and Govindan Ramachandran.

Alberta Students Invite Meredith

CALGARY (CP)—The Calgary branch of the University of Alberta's Students' Union Monday night invited Negro James H. Meredith to study at the university.

The Students Union sent a telegram to Meredith, centre of the violent integration dispute at the University of Mississippi, providing all expenses would be paid "should you care to study at the University of Alberta, Calgary."

The union also sent a telegram to Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett protesting his conduct in the Meredith case. Maurice Yacowar, union president, said the organization would pay the expenses of Meredith's travel, room and board, tuition and book expenses if he accepted the offer to come here.

The telegram to Governor Barnett said in part: "UAC deplores the animal prejudice and inhumanity manifested in the denial to James Meredith of two fundamental human rights—the right to education and the right to simple human dignity."

"We deplore these sins and pity their perpetrators. We would be proud to have a man of Meredith's courage and dignity on our campus."

ANGLIAN COMMUNION

The Anglican communion comprises 17 autonomous churches with a total membership of 40,000,000.

LIVESTOCK

MONTREAL (CP)—Livestock prices were steady on the Montreal markets Tuesday. Trading was generally active and demand good.

Receipts Tuesday were: 221 cattle, 233 calves, 93 hogs and 45 sheep and lambs. Monday's receipts were: 1,641 cattle, 1,487 calves, 299 hogs and 358 sheep and lambs.

Good cows were 17.50, medium 16-16.50, common 14-15 and canners and cutters 11-13.

Good weaners 26-32, medium 22-27, common 18-23 and grassers and drinkers 15-17.

Lambs were 14—17.50. Hog prices were not established.

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Green said Tuesday he is "disturbed" by reports of two Canadian girls being asked to leave Ceylon because they declined to be seduced by senior officials of that country. He said in a Commons reply to Paul Martin (L—Essex East) the Canadian high commissioner in Ceylon has been asked to "do everything possible to help them."

GMC leads with Extra Values for '63!

New Engines New Frames New Suspensions

Three new engines make GMC's power team range the most extensive ever. These new engines, a 154 cu. in., in-line 4, a 230 cu. in., in-line 6, and a 292 cu. in., in-line 6 are engineered to give you top performance with greater economy. Class for class, GMC truck engines are best in every way—in power, in economy, in durability—and that means extra value for you job after job!

GMC's new girder-strong, ladder-type frames put real backbone into every job. Super-duty built to minimize flex and twist, these frames will give you longer cab and body life, to put more pay into every load for greater profit. Remember the best profit dollar in trucking is the dollar you save off costs... and GMC diesels save it for you.

Better riding qualities and greater load protection are yours with GMC's new suspensions. Full-coil independent front suspensions on trucks up to 10,000 lbs. GVW and proven Vari-Rate springs are now used on the front end systems of trucks 16,000 lbs. through 27,000 lbs. GVW. These new front suspensions are another in a long list of "extra values" that give you so much more.

GMC

There is EXTRA VALUE in every GMC truck for '63

HILLSIDE MOTORS LTD.
St. Peters Road, Parkdale