

St. Dunstan's Alumni Ass'n Annual Meeting Monday

Judge J. Sylvère Desroches, of Montague was elected president of the St. Dunstan's College alumni association at the annual meeting held last evening.

JUDGE DESROCHES

Considerable discussion centered around the planning for the liquidation of the balance of the debt on the Alumni gymnasium auditorium. It was announced that more than $100,000 has been paid to date, including principal and interest, in the seven years since the building was constructed.

Other officers named were Lt.-Col. Simon G. Parent, Quebec City, 1st vice-president; Eugene A. MacDonald, Charlottetown, 2nd vice-president; Rev. Edmund J. Roche of the College staff, secretary-treasurer; Rev. Francis J. Ledwell, Charlottetown, assistant secretary.

Rev. T.P. Butler is the past president.

Members of the executive include R.B. Johnston, Boston; Henry Wedge, Summerside; Dr. Francis Burge, Charlottetown; Urban MacQuaid, Southport; E.

Somerled Trainor, Lester P. O'Donnell, Elmer Blanchard all of Charlottetown.

Funeral Of Mr. P. Murnaghan

The funeral of the late Patrick Murnaghan was held on Monday morning from his late residence, 28 Pownall Street, to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Pius Murnaghan, Deacon and sub-deacon were Rev. Vincent Murnaghan and Rev. Francis Corcoran. His Excellency the Most Rev. Malcolm MacEachern, Bishop of Charlottetown was present in the sanctuary.

Other clergy present in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Msgr. R.V. McKenzie, Rev. K.C. McPherson, Rev. Earl Dalton, Rev. G.A. MacDonald, Rev. James Kelly, Rev. Clarence Roche, Rev. Preston Hammill, Rev. Walter Reid.

The members of the Canadian Legion and Knight of Columbus attended in a body.

The pallbearers were: Wilfred McKenna, John Connelly, Col. Leo F. McDonald, Noel DeBlois, John MacKinnon, Thomas Gallant.

Interment was in Catholic cemetery where services were conducted by Rev. Pius Murnaghan assisted by Rev. Vincent Murnaghan. The legion grave were Rev. Vincent Murnaghan and Rev. Francis Corcoran. His Excellency the Most Rev. Malcolm MacEachern, Bishop of Charlottetown was present in the sanctuary.

Other clergy present in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Msgr. R.V. McKenzie, Rev. K.C. McPherson, Rev. Earl Dalton, Rev. G.A. MacDonald, Rev. James Kelly, Rev. Clarence Roche, Rev. Preston Hammill, Rev. Walter Reid.

Car Collision At Cornwall

Three people were sent to the Prince Edward Island Hospital at 4.30 on Saturday evening, the result of a two car collision near Cornwall.

James MacPhail of Meadow Bank received several broken ribs and a broken wrist. Miss Bertha Barnhill of Truro received a fractured skull. Mrs. William Barnhill also of Truro received several cuts and abrasions.

It is reported that Mr. MacPhail was coming onto the Trans Canada Highway from the south side of the road when his car was in collision with that of the Truro ladies who were proceeding towards Charlottetown.

All three patients are said to be resting comfortably. Miss Barnhill, the most seriously injured, is reported to be "coming along fine."

Flu May Close Schools In N. S.

HALIFAX (CP)—School authorities in at least three Nova Scotia communities were expected to count heads today to decide whether an outbreak of influenza warrants closings of classrooms.

Officials said Sunday, attendance would be checked in Halifax, Glace Bay and Sydney schools. There were indications other centres might follow suit.

Many Cape Breton schools reported attendance down to 50 per cent before the Thanksgiving holiday and 50 per cent absenteeism was recorded in Middleton.

School attendance in Antigonish was reported "reasonably good" but a visitors' ban at St. Marth's hospital will remain in effect indefinitely. Two Glace Bay hospitals have also been ordered closed to visitors while the influenza outbreak continues.

The 'flu, described by health department sources as of a mild type, left Stadacona sailors of the Nova Scotia Football League with only eight players able to dress and resulted in postponement of a scheduled Monday game with Dalhousie University.

Festival Atmosphere At Federal Capital

By VIC RUNTZ
Guardian Representative

OTTAWA — It was something like coming as a guest to a Thanksgiving festival, arriving as we did in Ottawa just before the Queen. All the vast work of preparation had been done, the stage set and the climax of it all fast approaching. An air of expectancy hung over a gaily decorated city, resplendent with bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

LINED WITH PEOPLE
Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

Many readers saw and heard on television the same things bunting, flags and placards everywhere. Add to this autumn's golden foliage against a backdrop of the clearest blue, the early morning frost evaporating by a warm October sun.

Two hours ahead of the royal plane's arrival and before crowds clogged the traffic arteries, we drove out to Uplands Airport. Miss Lena McLure, The Guardian's Women's page editor accompanied us. Time passed quickly. The special guests were escorted into the hangar to tiered seats in a centrally situated section just below that assigned the press. Taking their places were the new cabinet ministers and wives including Hon. Angus and Mrs. McLean and the newest honourable, Sidney Smith, Minister of External Affairs. Ex-prime minister Louis St. Laurent with other former ministers and dignitaries sat near at hand.

Outside the hangar were bleachers lined with people, also there by special invitation. This group included school children decked out in gay autumn clothes, fluttering a sea of flags. During a sprightly band concert by the RCMP Training Command Band, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker arrived, then His Excellency, the Governor-General.

The Guard of Honour performed flawlessly, speaking well of the brief five weeks' training they had. These young men were from all parts of Canada, mostly with short length of service. The commander of the guard of honour Flt. Lieut. Val Burdett of Winnipeg, on learning we were from The Guardian, told us he spent an enjoyable three years, 1949 to 1952, stationed on the island.

ed States and Great Britain were also in evidence. In the line of television radio and newspapermen to meet the Sovereign and her consort were two cartoonists, Gordon Johnston of the Ottawa Citizen and The Guardian's accredited representative.

One American guest, a CBS-TV man told us he and many other people in the United States would like to claim Elizabeth as their queen too. We appreciate the sentiment, said in sincerity, and did not think it was quite the moment to remark "well then, come on back with us."

F. R. McLaine Ltd. Receive Chrysler Award

WINDSOR, Ontario.—Presentation of a number of Long Service Awards to Chrysler of Canada dealers was made at recent dealer preview meetings held in Toronto, Montreal and Moncton, N.B. The award presentations were carried out in conjunction with the dealer preview of the 1958 models of Chrysler of Canada's passenger cars and trucks.

In attendance at the presentation ceremonies were senior sales executives of the company led by Ron W. Todgham, president and C.O. Hurly, vice-president in charge of sales. Each of the 80 eastern Chrysler of Canada dealers honoured in this fashion received a plaque and an individual gift from the company.

F. R. McLaine Ltd., Charlottetown, P.E.I., received a Long Service Award at the recent dealers' preview meeting in Moncton. F. R. McLaine, president signed the original Chrysler of Canada franchise in 1932. He is associated in the firm with his son Wendell.

Hoffa Barred From New Office

By NCRMAN WAL'ER
WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, battling a barrage of federal court charges threatening to loosen his tight grip over the teamsters, was barred Monday from taking over as union president.

Federal district Judge F. Dickenson Letts granted a New York teamsters member group a 10-day restraining order against the 44-year-old Hoffa, the unions' president-elect, barring him from taking the reins from retiring

WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Observed temperatures issued by the weather office.

	MIN. (Night)	MAX. (Day)
Dawson	—	24
Vancouver	48	56
Victoria	48	59
Edmonton	41	51
Calgary	44	51
Regina	43	65
Winnipeg	49	68
Toronto	42	63
Ottawa	46	65
Montreal	43	61
Quebec	35	58
Fredericton	30	57
Saint John	35	57
Moncton	32	55
Halifax	43	61
Charlottetown	—	52
Sydney	41	52
Yarmouth	41	43
St. John's	31	42

HALIFAX (CP)—The weather office says little change is expected in the weather today.

Forecasts:
Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick: Clear with a few cloudy intervals; a little warmer; light winds. Low - high at Halifax 40 and 65, Yarmouth 40 and 60, Kentville, New Glasgow and Goshen 30 and 60, Sydney 32nd 55, Charlottetown 35 and 60, Moncton and Fredericton 30 and 60, Saint John 32 and 60, Edmundston 35 and 60, Campbellton 30 and 60.

High tide today at Charlottetown at 1.44 a.m. and 3.14 p.m. At Rustico at 10.17 a.m. and 9.49 p.m. Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 6.28 a.m. and sets at 5.28 p.m.

Dave Beck.
Hoffa, due to face federal wire tap conspiracy and perjury charges in New York today, said in Detroit he has "no comment whatsoever" on Letts' order, adding:

"It's a legal matter and will be handled by the lawyers." P. 1 KNOWLES. 6 ..

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker in August of 1956 the Commons speakership to Stanley Knowles, deputy CCF leader, on a permanent basis.

Mr. Knowles, member of Parliament for Winnipeg North Centre and an acknowledged expert on Commons procedure, declined the offer on the grounds that his first duty was to his constituents, it was learned Monday night.

Colleagues said Mr. Knowles felt that he should not "quit the fight" after arguing for years for more and better social security measures.

Death Sunday Of Mrs. Fred Large

The death occurred Sunday evening in the Prince Edward Island Hospital of Mrs. Fred Large of Charlottetown, an illness of several years.

Mrs. Large was the former Florence MacKinnon of North River. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKinnon.

A member of St. James Presbyterian church, Mrs. Large took a keen interest in the work of the church and contributed generously and effectively of her time and her talent.

She leaves to mourn her husband, Fred Large and one daughter and three sons. The daughter is Mrs. John Boyle of Mexico City. The sons are Robert F. Large and R. Newton Large of Charlottetown and William Large of Ottawa.

Mrs. Milton Bell is the only sister.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the Mac-

PERSONALS

Lean Funeral Home to St. James Church, service commencing at two o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Ruffee of Annapolis Royal were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Parker.

MONUMENTS

Vere Beck & Son
MONTAGUE
and
CHARLOTTETOWN
Skilled Memorial Craftsmen since 1870

Legion Poppy Campaign

The chairman of the Poppy Committee of the Charlottetown Branch, Canadian Legion, wishes to announce that the Ladies Auxiliary are starting their sale of wreaths to the business firms of Charlottetown on October 15.

For the convenience of the public the ladies will be at their rooms in the branch home from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

ANNOUNCING THE CANADIAN NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR THE BLIND ANNUAL APPEAL FOR FUNDS October 15 to 29

Provincial Objective $9,600.00
Provincial Campaign Chairman—Mr. M. A. Farmer
Charlottetown Special Names Co-Chairmen—Mr. B. E. MacKay
Mr. L. D. MacKay

LOCAL CHAIRMEN
Mt. Stewart—Mr. Stirling Clark; Hunter River—Mr. Clarence McLaughlin; Crapaud-Victoria—Mr. Frank Myers; Montague—Mr. Douglas McGowan; Souris—Lions Club; Morrell—Mr. J. B. Jay; St. Peter's—Mr. R. J. MacDonald; Georgetown—Mr. Ray Solomon; Murray Harbour—Mr. Nathan Irving; Murray River; Mr. G. G. Jardine; Alberton—Mr. Cyril Leard and Mr. W. W. Currier; Borden—To be announced; Kensington—Lion Keith Walter; Summerside—Lion Ralph Ozen; Summerside Special Names—Lion Bob Schurman; O'Leary—Mrs. W. C. Dennis; Tignish—Mr. J. H. Buote.

They see with their hands. You see with your eyes. Support the C.N.I.B. who serve the blind and carry on a Prevention of Blindness Program. You can do this by contacting your local Chairman or mailing your contribution to the C.N.I.B. District Office, 142 1/2 St. George St., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

CITY AND CENTRAL

LARGE oak barrels Waddell Bros.

BUY Island products. Ask for local celery now at its best.

WE TREAT the sick well. Giggey's Pharmacy, open 8.30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

VISIT HI-STYLE Millinery. Gt. George Street, "where every style is Hi-Style."

OPENING Card Party in West Royalty Hall, Tues. Oct. 15, 8.15 p.m. Lunch. Admission 50 cents.

ARTIFICIAL INSEMININATION All breeding clubs on Prince Edward Island will be shut down from October 16-31 inclusive. Service will commence again on Nov. 1st.

ARTIFICIAL Insemination — All breeding clubs on Prince Edward Island will be shut down from October 16 - 31 inclusive. Service will commence again on Nov. 1st.

HUNTER River Beauty Salon will be closed from October 21st, in order to attend the "Cavalcade of Beauty" at Halifax.

BROADCAST—The Department of Education urges teachers and pupils to listen over CFCY on Thursday the seventh, from 10:00 to 10:30 a.m. for Her Majesty's opening parliament programme.

POSTED TO B.C.—Sgt. Roy MacKenzie, RCMP, formerly of St. John's, Summerside, has been posted to the air station at Fort Nelson B.C. Sgt. MacKenzie and family left the Province on October 13th en route to their new home in the Canadian West. Prior to their departure Sgt. MacKenzie and his family paid a brief visit to his father and aunt, who reside at 46 Reserve Street.

FUNERAL SATURDAY —The funeral of Angus J. McKinnon was held Saturday morning from his late residence in Naufrage to St. Margaret's Church for Requiem High Mass celebrated by Rev. Wendell McIntyre. Present in the sanctuary were Revs. George McDonald and Rev. Floyd McLaughlin. The pallbearers were: W.M. Hanning, R.D. McKinnon, H.B. McDonald, John W. McDonald, James McDonald, Elmer O'Hanley. Interment was in the Catholic Cemetery, where services were conducted by Rev. Wendell McIntyre. The funeral was largely attended.

N. D. MacLean
UNERTAKER
EMBALMER
Charlottetown and
North Wiltshire
DIAL 5549

Charlottetown
Funeral Home
78 Euston St.
DIAL 4626
Robert E. Bradley
Complete Funeral and Ambulance Service
— Director —

BUY Island products. Ask for local celery now at its best.

KING GANAM—Tommy Hunter Stars in person at hitting and stepping championships, Sports Arena, Oct. 23.

FOR SALE—Large oak barrels suitable for water tubs. E.P.I. Waddell Bros., Crapaud, P. E.I.

EVANGELISTIC services continue this week Ch'town Baptist Church, Tue. Zion Presbyterian Church. Final Meeting, Wed.

83RD BIRTHDAY—On Saturday evening, October 12th, many friends and neighbors called at 46 Reserve Street to wish Mr. Neil MacKenzie "many happy returns" on the eve of his 83rd birthday.

CARD PARTY—Mrs. Eric Farquharson won the ladies' first prize last night at the Spring Park card party. Mrs. Dolph Gallant was second. Harold Cudmore was the prize winner for men. The freezeout winners were Mrs. Ray Gallant and Mrs. Ella Somers.

CENTRAL Christian Church is host tonight at 6 p.m. at a supper meeting of the Charlottetown Bible Society - Canvassers. At eight o'clock Rev. E.M.B. Wheelock will speak and show slides illustrating the work of the Society in Europe.

FRUIT JOBBERS—John MacEachern, vice-president of the Maritime Fruit and Vegetable Jobbers Association and Sterling MacDonald of Charlottetown will attend the annual meeting of the Association to be held in Amherst this Wednesday.

MATERNAL Health Classes, new series begins, Tuesday, October 15, 1957. Afternoon class 2.30 p.m., evening class 8.00 p.m. Thursday, October 17, at 8.00 p.m. (if both parents are able to attend) at The Health Centre, 188 Prince St. phone 9515 for further information. Child and Maternal Health Program Department of Health.

MET AT OTTAWA—At the Ottawa Press Club on Saturday night Vic Rutz, Guardian cartoonist, met some camera club friends a former young Charlottetown couple, Larry and Betty MacInnis. Larry is employed by the Montreal Herald and had recently completed an interesting assignment photographing Annette Diones wedding.

BIRTHS