POLITICAL MEETING.—The meeting at Little York last evening was a great success for the Conservatives. EARLY and LARGE.—Mr. Burke had in the market to-day a number of very fine cauliflower, one of which weighed five pounds.

CONVENTION.—The Baptist Convention of the Maritime Provinces will meet at Yarmouth, N. S., on August 23, at 10 o'clock a. m. CITY TAXES.—Thursday next will be the last opportunity citizens will have of taking advantage of the rate of discount on city taxes. Make a note of this.

THE NEW BOAT.—Mr. Elijah Ross, with three of the South End's No. 1 crew, gave an exhibition spin in their new boat to quite a number of spectators last evening. The crew say she's "a dandy."

GO TO-NIGHT.—There was a large audience at the rink last night to see the Japs, and a much larger one is expected to-night. They will be here but a few days longer, a fact which should be made a note of by those who have not yet seen them.

TEACHERS' APPOINTMENTS.—At last night's meeting of the School Board, Mr. John McSwain was appointed Principal of Queen Square School, and Miss Lizzie Haloran was appointed to one of the junior departments. Miss C. Stumbles was appointed teacher in one of the departments in West Kent School.

HIS FACE DISFIGURED.—Mr. D. F. Ross, wood-turner, in the employ of Messrs. Mark Wright & Co., was badly injured while at work on Saturday. A piece of wood flew out of his lathe and struck him across the temple, the result being almost fatal. As it is his face is badly disfigured. It is pleasing to learn, however, that Mr. Ross is doing well under the circumstances.

A FATAL SUNSTROKE.—The World says: A Weldford, Kent County, correspondent under date of the 23rd inst., writes: Parsons McGlinchy was working on the highway near Capt. Smith's corner (so called) on Monday, 21st inst., when he was stricken with paralysis and had to be conveyed home. Dr. Keith was summoned and found it to be a fatal case of sunstroke. McGlinchy died last night. He leaves a wife and several children in the best of circumstances.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.—The promenade concert given by the Citizens' Band in Queen Square Gardens last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the season. The music was of course, excellent, and attendance was very large. The two electric lamps newly opposite the front of the Provincial Building were lighted for the first time this season, and the kindness of the Electric Company was the subject of much favorable comment. The lamps north of the Provincial Building will, we understand, be fitted up shortly.

HAND BADLY INJURED.—Little Arthur Newson, the nine-year-old son of John Newson, Esq., met with an accident which might have resulted in the loss of a hand, yesterday afternoon. It appears that while the men were hoisting hay at Warren Farm, the lad placed his hand on the ropes of the machine fork, and while in this position the horses started ahead. The rope sped through the blocks, and little Arthur's hand was dragged in before he could let go. After much shouting, and not till they heard the little fellow's cries, those outside stopped the horses, when his hand was taken out. The hand was all skinned on the inside of the fingers, the flesh was torn out of the hand below the little finger, and the thumb was split open to the bone and crushed flat. A crew were got together, and they rowed the little fellow to town where he received medical treatment, never flinching once while his wounds were being dressed. Notwithstanding the shaking up the little fellow received, it is pleasing to learn that he is doing very well.

ANOTHER DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Between eleven and twelve o'clock this forenoon two apprentices in the employ of Messrs. Cairns & McLean, marble workers, named George Beaton and James Bateman, left the city in a boat for the purpose of going bathing in the Hillsborough. They selected a place on the Southport side of the channel, at a place on the opposite Fernald wharf, and stopping the boat, took off their clothing and got into the water. Bateman swam off from the boat, while Beaton clung to her side. For some time Beaton held on, but finally let go and made one or two strokes, as if trying to swim. Then he began to splash the water with his hands. Bateman at first did not think there was anything serious the matter with his companion, but the splashing continuing, he swam over to see what was the cause. He found Beaton sinking, and caught hold of him and tried to keep him up. He was not equal to the occasion, however, and the boat, which was not anchored, having drifted out of reach, he was obliged to let go of Beaton in order to save himself. Beaton sank beneath the water soon after Bateman let go of him. As quickly as possible afterwards, Bateman brought news of the sad affair to the city. Young Beaton was a son of Mr. Hugh Beaton, of West River, and was in the second year of his apprenticeship with Cairns & McLean, who speak very highly of him.

At a largely attended meeting of Oddfellows, held in their hall, Union Street, it was unanimously decided to banquet the grand lodge on the occasion of its meeting here, August 13th. It is understood that the affair will be on a grand scale.—Telegraph, 26th.

The Oddfellows of Moncton, N. B., celebrated their annual decoration day on Friday last, by placing flowers, link, crosses and crown shaped, on the graves of their departed brethren. A beautifully worded oration was delivered by Rev. George M. Campbell, the Vice Grand of Prince Albert Lodge.

The demonstration under the auspices of the Oddfellows was held at Kingston, Ont., on 23rd inst., with great pomp. Eight cantons and local and visiting brethren turned out in procession, which was magnificent, and viewed by thousands of people. As the cantons marched, they went through various manoeuvres, bringing forth cheers from the crowd.

DR. ASHLEY AGAIN.—Mr. Henry Morris, of Chatham, writes as follows to the World: For the benefit of those persons who have not already, like me, had the painful experience of the King of Dentists, Dr. Ashley, the so-called painless tooth-drawer, I can give them my experience. He went at a tooth for me, broke it several times, fractured a portion of the jaw-bone, and left it in that state. I was suffering great pain, and at once proceeded to a dentist in the town who took out the roots and gave me instant relief. I would, therefore, advise others needing dental assistance not to allow themselves to be duped as I was, but to go at first to a professional practitioner in our midst, for my experience has been that he does his work better and with less pain than the traveling impostor.
