Canadian Labor Congress President Gives Statement

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor faces the next winter with deep concern over unemployment; but president Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress said Thursday.

In a Labor Day message, the head of the 1,000,000-member body said that Canada's unemployment record last winter — when there was the highest unemployment since the last war — was "a national disgrace."

"Throughout the summer, the number of people without jobs has continued at an alarmingly high level," he said. "Under these circumstances, it is not surprising that we face another winter with deep concern."

"We are well aware that this is a complex problem, that many factors affect employment; but the fact remains that ours is a young country which should offer great opportunity."

"There is obviously need for greater attention to the ordinary human need for work that will provide bread and shelter."

WAGES AND CONDITIONS Speaking of wages and working conditions for labor, Mr. Jodoin advised unions to push for better ones.

"There are still many inequities which must be eliminated," he said.

President Jodoin attacked employers who he said are trying to undermine labor by imposing "right-to-work" legislation dealing with the freedom of an employee to stay at work regardless of his union affiliation.

"Employers who ally themselves with attempts now being made to introduce 'right-to-work' laws in Canada are, in effect, declaring war on organized labor," Mr. Jodoin said. "We are confident that such efforts will not be successful."

FOREIGN AFFAIRS On foreign affairs, Mr. Jodoin said that organized labor will continue to demand a substantial increase in Canada's contribution to technical assistance and capital development programs for underdeveloped countries.

He added:

"While strongly supporting our own defensive shield, Canadian labor will continue to welcome all efforts for the peaceful settlement of international disputes, and specifically for a ban on testing and production of thermonuclear weapons, under proper international control."

31 DIE IN CRASH
MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) Thirty-one persons were killed Wednesday when a bus slid off a cliff in eastern Colombia near the Venezuelan frontier, police reported.

A Word of Appreciation

The family and relatives of the late David Ahlberg, who were called to Prince Edward Island from the States on such a sad mission wish to express their sincere and deep appreciation of the impressive tribute that was accorded our brother and uncle at his funeral.

We are especially grateful, in view of the fact that he was a comparative newcomer to your beautiful Island and is a non-Canadian; and it was most heart warming to see what a host of friends he had made in such a short time. Please accept our heartfelt thanks!

We were also most impressed with the custom that is prevalent here of motorists stopping at the side of the road while a funeral cortege is passing as a courteous mark of respect for the deceased.

THE AHLBERG FAMILY.
