4th Republic In France Threatened

PARIS (AP) — France's fourth republic seems to be threatened by the same foe that killed its three predecessors — authoritarian rule. The man who is feared as the executioner, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, is the one who established the fourth republic on Nov. 7, 1944, and became its first defender.

The first republic was born Sept. 22, 1792, during the French Revolution. Napoleon Bonaparte ended it with a coup Nov. 7, 1799, and set up the first empire May 18, 1804.

Three monarchies followed Bonaparte and the second republic was established Dec. 20, 1848, when Louis Napoleon was elected president. The second was the youngest to die. Louis Napoleon became Emperor Napoleon III with a coup Dec. 2, 1851.

Reviewing the employment situation for the month of May, officials of the National Employment Office in Charlottetown, see conditions as improving in encouraging fashion. From week to week throughout the month, there has been a steady reduction in the number of unemployed, and consequently, the number of people drawing Unemployment Insurance benefits. The fairly heavy construction program which has developed in Charlottetown, is beginning to take its toll of unemployed carpenters, laborers and other tradesmen. More and more construction workers are going back to work daily, and as yet very few of the larger projects underway, have reached the stage of employing as many men as they will need later in the summer. The naval barracks on the waterfront, is perhaps the farthest advanced towards completion, but even so, is only beginning to assume the shape of a building. Construction work on the new addition to the Prince Edward Island Hospital, on the campus, on the Royal Bank, on the Baptist Church, is only starting. On the outskirts of the city, foundation work is being done on a number of new houses.

FEDERAL WORKS PROJECTS Information released by the Dominion Department of Public Works, indicates that almost double the amount will be spent on federal projects on the Island this year than is customary. There will also be Provincial Government work in the way of bridges and improvements to highways. Principal among these of course is the bridge-caseway across the Hillsboro River-Charlottetown to Southport. Retail business in the Charlottetown area picked up during the month of May, and wholesalers also report volume of trade to have increased. One dark spot in the agricultural situation, is the very low price of potatoes, but to counteract this, beef prices are good

SUMMER HOTEL JOBS Jobs in summer hotels are among the most popular with the college girls where the vacancies are here on the island or in other provinces. Nine College girls were placed recently with a well-known New Brunswick summer hotel. The local Employment Office like all National Employment Offices throughout Canada, endeavours each month to place handicapped people whenever possible. The Women's Division of the Local Office made one such placement during the month. Hardest to place of all, are those applicants in the higher age brackets, or who because of physical disabilities are unable to accept strenuous or demanding work. For the most part, the men who come under this heading, are looking for jobs as watchmen. Since there is a limited demand for this kind of employment in Charlottetown, many of the applicants remain idle from year to year. The of-
