Nolan - Leinster Wedding

At Holy Cross Church, Montague, September 19, the marriage took place of Margaret Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nolan of West St. Peter's, P. E. I., and Mr. Thomas James Leinster, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leinster of Belfast, Ireland. Rev. Father Thomas Hennessy officiated. The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of blue lace over tulle with matching hat, and carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli. Miss Myrtle Nolan was bridesmaid for her sister, and Mr. Joseph Nolan, brother of the bride, groomsmen.

Plans were discussed for holding an auction sale at the close of the December meeting. It was also decided to pack boxes for servicemen at the next meeting, and Mrs. Stan Pearson and Mrs. Clair were appointed on a committee to obtain names and addresses and also purchase gifts. A sum of money was voted towards the crippled children's auction. Mrs. John Gaudet, Miss Sue Hemphill and Mrs. Stewart were appointed on the nominating committee for the next meeting. At the close of the meeting the members enjoyed a delicious lunch and social half hour.

Public Hearings

This became a reality the Commission might be compelled to decide on the prudence of such an increase in operating costs. Permission had been granted the Union to hold a strike vote at a special meeting of the Executive Council held September 21. The strike was originally called for October 28, but a special session of the Legislative Assembly, which opened October 21, passed an amendment to the Trade Union Act. This served to bring various orders-in-council within the Act itself. One provision regarding strikes stated that the Public Utilities Commission, following certification, set a date within 15 days for the holding of a public hearing. Aside from the Union representatives and the Telephone Company itself it is not known as yet what other submissions may be made by interested parties.

AMSTERDAM, (CP) — Amsterdam's public prosecutor said Saturday capsules of arsenic mistakenly distributed as vitamins by a drug company have killed two persons and left five others partially paralyzed. A two-month investigation has traced the capsules to an Amsterdam firm.

Montague Men's Ass'n Meeting

The regular meeting of the Montague Men's Association was held in the A. D. MacKenzie Hall on Monday evening with the president, Mr. James Cudmore presiding. The members sat down to a delicious turkey dinner prepared and served by the Ladies' Aid of the church. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Several guests were introduced to the members. Mr. Lorne Wigginton gave a short resume of the activities and accomplishments of the association since its beginning in December 1949. He paid special tribute to Dr. A. D. MacKenzie, then minister of the congregation, and to Mr. John MacNair, Charlottetown, who in no small way, helped the association off to a good start. A short sing-song led by Mr. Gordon Coffin was much enjoyed by all. Mr. Fred Gumble of the Y. M. C. A., Charlottetown, was guest speaker for the evening. He was introduced by Mr. James Cudmore and spoke on the topic "The Church and Christian Citizenship." The thanks of the association was extended to Mr. Gumble for his very interesting address, by Mr. George Wright. Discussion followed regarding the sponsoring of a boys' basketball game. A committee was appointed to work with coach Dannie Murray concerning the proposed game. Mr. Gordon Coffin spoke of the merits of the United Churchman, and the congregation of every family in the congregation. A committee was appointed to look into this and bring in a report at the next meeting, which will be held in December. The meeting closed by singing "God Save The Queen."

Aimed Chiefly

Continued from page 1 petition with Canadian industry from other countries. It planned to remain within the principles of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, they said.

Being "Evasive"

The 200-member delegation from textile-manufacturing communities in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia was one of the largest ever to meet the government. Its submission was delivered by the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CUCL); but the group includes industrialists and local civic officials.

The brief accused the government of being "evasive" in foreign policy on textiles—a charge that the ministers denied—and it called for quick action to halt what it described as "critical" unemployment in the Canadian textile industry. The delegation proposed these steps: Safeguards against "unfair trade practices" by Japan in any amendment to the Trade Union Act with that country, where low-wage production enables goods to enter Canada inexpensively. Immediate changes in regulations to protect Canadian industry against dumping. Limitation of textile imports into Canada to the extent needed to encourage the growth of a prosperous textile industry. No treaty with Japan until full agreement is reached on such a program.

Interests Sacrificed

The delegation said its urgings were directed, not only at the possible new threat from a Japanese trade treaty but also at reconsideration of policies on textile imports from the United States, Britain and other countries.

In the face of unemployment caused by imports, the brief said, "the government has in fact been evasive."

"In promoting the interests of other economic groups," it added, "it has deliberately allowed the textile interests to be sacrificed by the flood of imports."

In response to the demands and accusations, the ministers indicated action now in hand will be directed largely at Japanese and U. S. flooding of the Canadian market.

As to dumping, Mr. Howe said: "There has been some dumping, we have been told, and I think we are about to take certain action which will have the effect of stopping it." He called "wholly untrue" an implication that the textile industry was less favored than other industries by the government.

Equipment

Continued from page 1 ing to build up northern defence with the all-weather OF-100 jet interceptor and radar network. There now are two OF-100 squadrons in operation and a third is being formed. But it will take more squadrons and more radar to build an adequate defence perimeter across the north. The second phase of home defence, besides adding to present strength for the north, will include new reconnaissance aircraft and a new aircraft carrier and carrier planes.

Island Odds And Ends

Here's an item for an Islanders' scrapbook. A few days ago the Central Creameries of Charlottetown sent a carload of canned cream to Edmonton, Alberta. Islanders can be quite sure that it never happened before, and equally sure that it will happen again. The cream is said to be of the same quality as the company's perfection evaporated milk, which has scored a tremendous success since it went on the market a few months ago. Its quality therefore will guarantee repeat orders.

There is something highly satisfying in the thought that this carload of cream will pass through the great dairy province of Ontario, enroute to its destination. It is distinctly encouraging to know that the new concentrating milk products plant, set down here by the sea, can meet Canadian competition practically anywhere in the Dominion, despite the long freight haul.

Only a few weeks previously the company commenced the shipment of powdered skim milk to Mexico, and a further shipment to that country is being made this week. It can be seen that this Island product is reaching out far, and finding new markets. This expansion of export outlets is probably one of the most important developments economically in the recent history of this Province. Increased markets are the dream and aim of every country in the world, and no section of the universe needs them more than this million acres of farm land.

Climax Of

Continued from page 1 against Hall and Mrs. Heady. A state charge of kidnapping also is on file against the pair in Missouri. In both states, death is the maximum penalty.

Enjoyed Trip Hall's confession said little Bobby "appeared to be enjoying himself during the trip" from the exclusive Catholic school where Mrs. Heady lured him, away on the pretext that his mother was ill.

While Hall got a plastic sheet ready for the murder in the back of Mrs. Heady's station wagon, Bobby sat on the front seat unaware of his fate.

"I took my .38-calibre revolver and fired what I believe to be two shots at Bobby's head at close range. "I missed him on the first shot.

Suggests Livestock Marketing Board

OTTAWA, (CP) — Creation of a national livestock marketing board to stabilize livestock prices and assure proper grading was suggested Tuesday by Fred S. Zaplitzny (COP-Dauphin).

Mr. Zaplitzny, speaking in the throne speech debate in the commons, also recommended an investigation into prices of farm implements and fuels and a better federal plan to make loans available to young Canadians who wish to buy their own farms.

but the second one entered his head, causing him to bleed profusely and subsequently die.

Then, because on the ground, Hall pulled him out of the bloodied and put it back in the station wagon, wrapped in a blue plastic sheet.

A long-handled shovel, used to dig Bobby's grave the day before he was kidnapped, was inspected by the jury.

The shovel was still marked with clay from Bobby's grave, where his body was found in Mrs. Heady's yard Oct. 7.

After the burial Hall's confession continued with the steps he took to get the $600,000 ransom. It was finally picked up in a Kufas bag under a bridge east of Dufferin City the night of Oct. 4.

In all his telephone contacts with the anxious family, Hall said he assured them little Bobby was alive and well. Once he stalled off Mrs. Greenleaf when she wanted replies to questions only her own child could answer.
