CANADIAN PRODUCTS

Should Always be Plainly Labeled.

The competition between products of the same kind from different countries for a preference in the market is great and keen. It is not difficult for an excellent quality of anything to displace a poor quality at the same price. The chief endeavour of the producers and exporters at the present time should be to gain a preferential demand which will come from having a reputation for superiority of quality.

Even when the ultimate consumer prefers the Canadian product, and is willing to pay the highest current price for it, there may be trade customs, trade tricks, and other devices of the crafty commercial men, which keep the Canadian producer from obtaining his fair share of what the consumer pays. I think that is the case in the sale of those Canadian products which are not yet altogether sold under their own name. I had ample evidence that beef from Canadian-fed steers was retailed, if not avowedly, yet in such a way as to give the impression to the purchaser that it was "best Scotch" or "best English." Evidence was adduced in courts and otherwise that Canadian bacon had been sold as 'best Irish' and there is no doubt but that a considerable quantity of the Canadian cheese has been, until quite recently, retailed as "best English" or "Scotch Cheddar." The British people readily give a preference to articles bearing names which have a reputation for being preferred by the best class of people. In the case of some products, notably cheese, they will pay 20 or even 50 per cent more for fine cheese under the name "Best English" or "Best Scotch" than they will for an equally good article under any other designation. However, I found the label "Best Canadian" coming into greater favour for butter, cheese, bacon and eggs.—Prof. Robertson's Report.

Shelter for Hogs.

The first essential for the keeping hogs profitably is suitable shelter. A pig can stand a low temperature as well as any other domestic animal, but it cannot stand exposure to cold winds. If a cold wind plays across a hog an hour or two, the animal will be much the worse for it. It is almost sure to cause constipation, which is one of the most common and dangerous ailments that afflict hogs. Hogs require a warm and dry sleeping place, fairly protected against draughts. While a hog needs exercise, which has the effect of making its body quiver with life, that is entirely different from causing its body to shiver with cold. The notion that any kind of shelter is good enough for it has been perhaps the greatest hindrance to progress in the industry.

The swine building should be well lighted. Plenty of light is a great promoter of cleanliness and health. The walls of the hog pen may be built of any material which is convenient and cheap, but if they be built of stone they should be built with a hollow space. While the passengers and gutters in the hog-pen may be constructed of cement, stone or brick, I think the sleeping quarters of the pigs should have a wooden floor. There is nothing better than earth or dry sand for breeding swine or young pigs, until they are put into fairly close quarters to be fattened.—Prof. Robertson.

Scrub Stock.

Scrub stock are not always due to ill-breeding. The best strain of cattle put into some people's hands would in a few years become exceedingly "scrubby" in character.

Why? Because those people do not understand how to feed cattle properly. It has been well said that "feed is half the breed." This is not merely an old saying but a sound truth. And to day the scrub steer found in the country is due as much to bad feeding as to bad breeding. It must be remembered, however, that the better the stock providing good feeding and good care at forthcoming. And though a scrub steer by a system of good feeding may improve and become a passable animal it is only by good feeding and good breeding combined that the very highest type of animal can be produced and this is the kind that every farmer should aim to produce. There is no excuse in these days of improved methods for scrub stock of any kind whether bred or made so by carelessness.—Farming.

MR. HOUSE OF BERLIN

Cured of Lumbago by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—Everyone in Berlin knows Andrew House. He is a respected and prosperous resident, who numbers his friends by hundreds.

For over a year past, Mr. House was tormented by severe pains in his back, which increased in severity in spite of doctors and their medicines.

He was advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. He did so. That night he felt less pain. Daily the pains abated, and in less than two weeks, Dodd's Kidney Pills had cured him thoroughly.

There is only one sure and unfailing cure for Back-ache. That cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills. Experience has provided this thousands of times.

In Quebec the estimates of the provincial expenditure for 1898-90 show that the Government contemplates an outlay next year of $4,624,568, to be slightly added to, in the course of events, by the supplementaries. The expenditure last year was $4,414,370, and the revenue $4,176,139.
