Poetry.

MY EARLY HOME.

Back on the misty track of time,
  In memory's flickering light,
I see the scenes of other days,
  Like meteors in the night.
The garden with its low built fence,
  With stakes and withes to tie it;
That rude log-hut—my early home—
  And one wild maple by it.

Rare were the sports round that wild home,
  When little hands were twined—
And echoing woods swept back the joy,
  Like voices in the wind.
And there, gay birds on bending spray,
  Their wild-wood songs have given;
The robin sang at dawn of day,
  And whip-poor-will at even.

But leaves are scattered not more mild,
  By autumn winds up-hurled—
Than all that group of faces bright,
  Upon this wide, wide world!
But still on memory's page, in light
  When time cannot destroy—
Stand out those scenes—the house, and tree—
  A lost, but sacred joy!

Varieties.

THE PLEASURE OF KNOWLEDGE.

I appeal to the experience of any man who is in the habit of exercising his mind vigorously and well, whether there is not a satisfaction in it which tells him he has been acting to one of the great objects of his existence? The end of nature has been answered: his faculties have done that which they were created to do—not languidly occupied upon trifles—not enervated by sensual gratification, but exercised in that toil which is so congenial to their nature, and so worthy of their strength. iA life of knowledge is not often a life of injury and crime. Whom does such ambition oppress? With whose happiness does he interfere? Whom does his ambition destroy, and whom does his fraud deceive? In the pursuit of science he injures no man, and in the acquisition he does good to all. A man who dedicates his life to knowledge, becomes habituated to pleasure which carries with it no reproach: and there is no security that he will ever love that pleasure which is paid for by the anguish of heart—his pleasures are all cheap, all dignified, and all innocent: and as far as any human being can expect permanence in this changing scene, he has secured a happiness which no malignity of fortune can ever take away, but which must cleave to him while he lives, ameliorating every good, and diminishing every evil of his existence.—Sydney Smith.

The Bar is fast losing its attractions to the young men of this city. There are now thirty young gentlemen, that have received liberal educations, who are serving their "time" as ship-wrights, architects, carpenters, &c. In a few years the United States will have the most accomplished mechanics in the world. A new class is springing up, who will put the present race of mechanics in the shade. The union of a substantial education with mechanical skill will effect this. Indeed, already we could name some mechanics, who are excellent mathematicians, acquainted with French and German, and able to study books in those languages connected with their vocations. Heretofore, fond fathers were wont to educate their sons as doctors or lawyers, to ensure their respectability and success. That day is past. Mechanics will now take the lead, and, in a few years, will supply the larger portion of the State and Federal Governments.—New York Mirror.

TRIFLES NOT TO BE DESPISED.—The nerve of a tooth, not so large as the finest cambric needle, will sometimes drive a strong man to distraction. A musquito can make an elephant absolutely mad. The coral rock, which causes a navy to founder, is the work of worms. The warrior that withstood death in a thousand forms may be killed by an insect.

HOURS OF SLEEP.—We find the following sensible remark in an exchange paper, which we hope, will give offence to none of our readers:—

Nature requires five,
  Custom gives seven,
Laziness take nine,
  And wickedness eleven.

You rarely, if ever, see a politician with smooth hair—a great scholar with fine hair—an artist with red hair—a fop with coarse hair—a minister with long hair—or an editor whose hair is carefully adjusted.

REVERIES OF AN OLD MAID.—In the course of a book lately published at New York, entitled the "Reveries of an Old Maid," we are told, that the weapons to subdue man are not to be found in the library, but in the kitchen! "The weakest part of an alligator is his stomach. Man is an alligator. Let the young wife fascinate her husband with the teapot! Let her, so to speak, only bring him into habits of intoxication with that sweet charmer, and make honey suckle clamber up his chair-back, and grow about the legs of the table—let the hearth rug be a bed of heart's ease for the silken slippers, and the wickedness of the natural enemy must die within him." What excellent wives some of these old maids who write books would make.

ECONOMY OF TIME.—The Chancellor D'Aguesau, finding that his wife always kept him waiting a quarter of an hour after the dinner bell had rung, resolved to devote the time to writing a work on Jurisprudence. He put this project in execution, and in the course of time produced a quarto work of four volumes.

PAUSE BEFORE YOU FOLLOW EXAMPLE.—A mule laded with salt, and an ass laded with wool, went over a brook together. By chance the mule's pack became wetted, the salt melted, and his burden became lighter.—After they had passed, the mule told his good fortune to the ass, who thinking to speed as well, wetted his pack at the next water; but his load became the heavier, and he broke down under it. That which helps one man may hinder another.

NIGGER DEMUS.—A Negro preacher, very recently, selected the visit of Nicodemus, as the foundation of his observations. "My bred'ren,' said he, "dere was in old times a great many preachers on de 'erth, who went about among de people. Many of dem white preachers, such as Peter, James, and John. Dere was also a great many coloured preachers, and de greatest among dem all was the Nigger Demus!"

BEET SUGAR IN UTAH.—Messrs. J. W. Coward, Collinson and Russell, who have recently emigrated from England to Utah, have taken with them machinery for the manufacture of beet-root Sugar on the largest scale. They are wealthy men, and have invested $250,000 in this enterprise alone.

CALIFORNIA FORTUNES.—It is calculated that out of every hundred persons who have gone to California, fifty have been ruined, forty are no better than they would have been had they remained at home, five a little better, four something better still and one has made a fortune.

A NEW PAINT.—Water lime (hydraulic cement), mixed in the same way with oil as Blake's Ohio paint, or any of the several mineral paints lately brought into use, has lately been discovered to be equal to any other substance ever used for painting walls, roofs, floors, fences, or any other work, while in point of economy, it is one to eight or ten. The discovery was accidentally made by Mr. John Herald, of Hempstead, Long Island.—The Plough.

It is somewhat singular that Washington drew his last breath in the last hour of the last day of the last week of the last month of the last year of the last century. He died on Saturday night, at 12 o'clock, December 31, 1799.

We cannot multiply our pleasures as we multiply our possessions. We may indeed set no limits to our acquisitions; but Nature sets limits to our capacity for enjoying them.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 7 Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY;

SIR,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, has been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period, she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredibly short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—August 2, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

(Signed) HENRY COE,
North Street, Lynn, Norfolk.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT.

Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Heydon, Esq., Sidney, New South Wales, dated February 25, 1851.

SIR,—A Mr. Thomas Clark, a settler at Lake George, was for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a complaint of the Liver, together with the Gravel. His medical attendants, after trying all their skill, candidly told him that his case was hopeless, and any further efforts useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and as a forlorn hope he did so, the first dose gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required.

(Signed) WM. JONES, Proprietor of Goulburn Herald, New South Wales.
