

Tortured by Itching

Women are almost driven Insane.

Instant Relief in Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

One of the most distressing symptoms imaginable is the almost unbearable itching which is an accompaniment of Leucorrhoea or whites. The nerves are irritated by the poisonous discharge, and the result is an itching which is only rendered more excruciating by rubbing or scratching.

Especially at night, when the body is warm, the patient is tormented beyond the powers of human endurance. Sleep or rest is out of the question. Nervousness, irritability and despondency are a natural result.

In these offices there are on the file thousands of letters from grateful women who have found in Dr. Chase's Ointment a quick and certain cure for this itching to which women are subject.

During the expectant period many women suffer similar agony from itching of the parts, or itching piles, which are absolutely cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The first application of this great discovery of Dr. A. W. Chase will afford prompt relief. At all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Doing Right.

Being approved by good men is no sure sign of being right, neither is being disapproved by good men. The right is the right, whether good men approve or disapprove. Good men are not all agreed as to particular acts or measures or opinions. He who looks for the approval of his course by the good will often be mistaken, but he who does just right will so far be right, however others may think of him.—Advocate.

"He Called Her In."

He called her in from me and shut the door,
After long struggling with my pride and pain
A weary while it seemed, in which the more
I held myself from her the greater pain
Was I to look upon her face again;
At last—at last half conscious where my feet
Were faring, I stood waist deep in the sweet
Green grasses there where she First came to me.
The very blossom she had plucked that day,
And, at her father's voice, had cast away.
Around me lay
Still bright and blooming in these eyes of mine;
And as I gathered each one eagerly
I pressed it to my lips and drank the wine
Her kisses left there for the honeybee.
Then after I had laid them with the tress
Of her bright hair, with lingered tenderness,
I, turning, crept on to the edge that bound
Her pleasant seeming home—but all around
Was never sign of her! The windows all
Were blinded; and I heard no rippling fall
Of her glad laugh, nor any harsh voice call!
But clutching to the tangled grasses, caught
A sound as though a strong man bowed his head
And sobbed alone—unloved—uncomforted!
And then straightaway before
My tearless eyes, all vividly was wrought
A vision that is with me evermore;
A little girl that lies asleep, nor hears,
No heeds not any voice, nor fall of tears,
And I sit singing o'er and o'er:
"God called her in from him and shut the door."
—James Whitcomb Riley.

Trimmed Lamps.

It is not enough that lamps be filled with oil; they must be trimmed. It is not enough, either, that they be lighted; they must be trimmed. Grace in a heart lighted with holy fire is not enough. The lamp must be trimmed. Untrimmed lamps are lamps that, while better than no lamps, are not much better. Secret prayer, holy meditation, the reading of God's Word, the means of grace, personal labor for Christ, are the means by which we keep our lights trimmed.

Trimming the lights does not take the place of oil or fire, but it makes more of the oil and fire. Trimming the spiritual lamp does not give salvation, but it renders our light more effective and serviceable to those who need it. Some try in vain to make a light without any oil or fire. But prayers and religious forms never of themselves save us. Nevertheless, untrimmed lights are poor lights. An untrimmed light gives an ill-proportioned light. It flashes up in one part of the wick and dies down in the other. Many have their light much like this; strong in one direction, weak in another. Little time for prayer or meditation weakens their light. No man becomes a strong Christian who does not "meditate on these things," and give himself to a life of communion with God that does not go by fits and starts.

The poorer the trimming the less oil can be used, and hence the less light will be reflected on this dark world. "Trim your feeble lamp, my brother," by much prayer and praise.—Ch. Witness.

WOODSTOCK WONDER.

A Crippled Rheumatic Restored by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Woodstock, Ont., May 22.—Never, in the social history of this town since the Birchall trial, has such great interest been shown as the "Cutmore Case" has caused.

Mr C. J. Cutmore, 91 Main Street, was crippled by Rheumatism and Lumbago during five years. He couldn't sit straight, and had to be helped from his room.

To-day he is straight and strong; sound in every limb, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Other remedies were used, but did no good. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him. Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.
