Honeywell Awards offered

Maybe Franklin would have walked away with a $1,000 or $500 prize.

Banting and Best certainly would have wowed the judges. Maybe you have the stuff these great futurists were made of. If you are a full-time Canadian university student, graduate or undergraduate, with a fascination for the future, the 1983 Honeywell futurist Awards Competition is your chance to find out.

You will be asked to write about two of the following areas: computers, energy, software/development, computer aided learning, biomedical technology and electronic communications; as well as the social impact of these changes.

Your ideas will be judged by a panel of experts according to their originality and feasibility. The winners will also be honoured guests at the futurist awards presentation.

To receive your official entry book, write to:

Honeywell Futurist Awards,
155 Gordon Baker Road
Willowdale, Ontario M2H 3N7

The deadline for entry request is December 1, 1983. Completed entry books must be postmarked no later than December 31, 1983.

Parliamentary Internships (Canadian Political Science Assoc.)

The internship involves working as an assistant to a member of the House of Commons in Ottawa. You will be assigned specific responsibilities and upon completion, must prepare a paper analyzing an aspect of parliamentary government in Canada. The internships are open to men and women who have recently graduated or will be graduating this year. They run for 10 months beginning in September 1984, and award a stipend of about $9,000 plus travel expenses. Application forms now available for the January 6, 1984 deadline.

Bernardine Hall Bursary

This bursary, which was established last year, is once again available to a Junior or Senior female student living in residence for two or more years. Students must have an average of 70% or above, and must write a personal essay about their participating activities in residence during their stay there.

The competition will be judged by the Scholarship Committee and two people from Guidance Services. The bursary will be awarded at the end of January.

Sylvia Crawford is the Financial Aid Advisor with UPEI Student Services. For more information drop by Student Services on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 4 p.m.

Biology Club sponsors Pub

Biology Club is holding a November Bender Mystery Pub on Wednesday, November 23 at the U.P.E.I. Barn. The pub will run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and free draws will take place all night. Music will be by 2001, and the $1.00 admission includes tickets for all draws.

Rotary scholarships

Rotary scholarships are available for students to study abroad in the field of their choice.

The purpose of the rotary foundation scholarships is to further international understanding and friendly relations among peoples of different countries.

Five scholarships are available: Graduate scholarships, undergraduate scholarships, vocational scholarships, teacher of the handicapped scholarships and journalism scholarships.

Nancy Comeau, a graduate of UPEI, was the most recent recipient of a Rotary scholarship. She will be returning from a year of study in Australia at the end of November.

Applicants must not be members or dependents of members of a Rotary club. They should choose a country in which there are Rotary clubs established, should have high grades, and an outgoing personality.

Each award covers round-trip transportation, educational and living expenses for one academic year.

For more information, contact Sylvia Crawford, the financial aid advisor, at student services, first floor Main Building, or Gordon Avard, Rotary club member 892-6319.

- Friday, November 25. "Thomas Merton, the Humanist". 10 a.m., Chaplaincy Centre, U.P.E.I.
- Friday, November 25. "Thomas Merton, the Mystic". 2:00 p.m., Faculty Lounge, first floor Main Building, U.P.E.I.

MAPUS meets on Monday

Attention all part-time and mature students at the University of Prince Edward Island!

You are invited to attend the monthly meeting of MAPUS — that is, the Mature and Part-time University Students at the Island University — Monday, November 21 at 7 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge in the Main Building.

Guest speaker will be Anna Sawicki, U.P.E.I. archaeologist, who will speak about the dig at St. Peters Bay, P.E.I., where she worked this past summer.

Jock Talk

Panther win/lose averages were quite respectable this past week as we won five contests losing but three for a 62.5% showing. Certainly not a statistic about which we can complain.

In hockey our boys travelled to Wolfville, N.S. for a game against Acadia. We were scheduled to play on Friday night but wind and weather conspired to make a strait crossing impossible so the contest was postponed until Sunday. Islanders are quite accustomed to such occurrences but we wonder what our newcomers thought about the delay.

It's not too bad, boys, when you can't go because of stormy conditions and we hope you'll NEVER run into the difficulties occasioned by inclement weather while en route! Being stuck in a snowbank, or packed ice can be a most unhappy experience!

The delay did not seem to affect the Panthers too much as they had little difficulty in trimming the Axeman 4-1. Greg Gravel scored twice for us while Don Clow and Doug Currie got singles. This brings our record to 3-1 and bodes well for us as we face St. F.X. here on Saturday and the U. de Moncton on Sunday.

In a season as short as A.U.A.A. teams play, every game is important and a couple of weekend wins would be very acceptable. St. F.X. is one of the teams we must beat to qualify for the playoffs and Moncton is favoured to lead the league.

There is a new system this year as there is but one section with the top four teams qualifying in post season play for the league championship. We believe we have an excellent chance of ending up in first or second place.

After our soccer success we find we enjoy the somewhat unique experience of being #1!

Our Women's Volleyball team started off their season with a pair of contests against U.N.B. The Lady Panther lost both matches to the Red "Something or others" who were much taller and more experienced than Coach Donna Sears' players who, in their starting lineup, have three newcomers to intercollegiate play and three sophomores.

They now face three "Away" games with St. F.X. and Acadia and will not be at home until after the Christmas break. In their third year of play, Coach Sears is confident that she has the talent to make the playoffs.

In Lady Panther basketball exhibition play our team started off in good style with a pair of wins over St. F.X. On Friday night, sparked by Libby Baldwin's 14 points we won 38-35 even though our rookie, Sonia Edwards, from whom so much is expected ran into early foul difficulties and exited in the first half!

On Sunday, at St. F.X., Sonia played a more careful game, scored a game-high 23 points and chalked up 13 rebounds as the Lady P.'s won 61-53 after trailing 26-28 at the half.

King's College of Halifax will be here on Sunday for an exhibition game before our team opens their A.U.A.A. league play against St. F.X. here November 22.

The men's basketball team travelled to Maine this past weekend for three games and also, in some cases, to renew their American accents.

On Friday they managed to nose out the U. of Southern Maine 56-55 after leading 33-31 at the half. On Saturday they were beaten in a low scoring defensive contest by a very good St. Joseph's club whose accurate shooting seemed to be directed by answered prayers. We trailed 37-32 at halftime.

On Sunday Mike Morgan, with 27 points, led the Panthers to an easy 96-75 victory over Thomas College as all nine of the Panthers were on the scoreboard. Coach George Morrison was well pleased with the team's performance in these three exhibition games as he was able to experiment with different combinations in preparation for the A.U.A.A.'s opening game Saturday night when former Panther coach Gary Heald will be here with his S.M.U. team.

Gary is a very nice chap and we wish him well EXCEPT when he plays the Panthers.

The Guardian's basketball pundit, Bob Gray (a former Panther) picks the S.M.U. team to win the title this year and we hear that some of the Panthers are hoping to make him eat his column on Saturday night. Gary usually puts on quite a show and it will be interesting to watch him and our freshman coach George Morrison (no mean thespian) compete!

Probably our final note on soccer ... we congratulate Jean Francois Painchaud, Steve Polenz and Glen Smiley on being named as All-Canadians. We can think of others who were also worthy of the honour ... including Coach Gordie Wilson.

We must also express our regrets that last week's potato bulletin, sorry "Netted Gem", gave the season's record as 11-12. It should of course read 11-1-2. Quite a difference, there must have been a slipped finger somewhere!

We enjoyed the television showing of the 1-0 win by McGill over the Panthers. Some said that McGill had the better team because they had territorial advantage. Our boys used that tactic several times this year in games they won.

It sounds as though our Warm Bun goalie (last time this year we'll use that pun) wasn't a member of the team!

We were particularly impressed with that incident in the game where Richard Pierre-Gilles and a McGill player struggled out-of-bounds for the right to throw in the ball. The referee blew his whistle to interrupt the mild altercation, reprimanded both and saw to it that they shook hands before play was resumed!

Wonder when they'll introduce that custom into inter-collegiate hockey!

Male Athlete of the Week — Greg Gravel.
Female Athlete of the Week — Sonia Edwards.
