Marked Progress In Program Of Artificial Insemination

An increase of almost five thousand cows, artificially bred, was attained last year over the previous year's operation, declared Dr. George C. Fisher who directs the artificial breeding programme for the P.E.I. Department of Agriculture, speaking yesterday at the annual Dairyman's Association meeting in Charlottetown.

He outlined the development of the present artificial breeding programme in cattle, which began with one club, the Eastern Prince County Artificial Breeding Club, in May 1955. Since that time twelve more clubs have been established.

Membership in the various clubs is open to all cattle breeders in the Province.

Ten breeds are available daily in each Club he said. These breeds represent the dairy, dual purpose and beef breeds. The breeds available are: Holstein, Ayrshire, Jersey, Guernsey, Dual Purpose Shorthorns, Beef Shorthorns, Hereford, Red Poll, Aberdeen Angus and a newer breed, which is noted for its rapid gains and red colored meat the Charolaise.

SIRE SELECTION

Dr. Fisher stated that the matter of sire selection was of deep concern to all artificial breeding units. The present bull battery of some fifty bulls is maintained at Fredericton, N.B. by the N.B. Artificial Breeding Co-op Ltd.

The system of sire selection was laid down recently at a meeting of all sire selection committees held in Moncton. These committees are composed of representatives from P. E. I. and N.B. for each of the breeds. Altogether there are five established named: Holstein, Ayrshire, Jersey, Guernsey and a combined Beef committee. This latter committee deals with the selection for all beef breeds.

FIRST IN CANADA

Prince Edward Island is the first in Canada to offer the services of artificial breeding to cattle owners Province wide. The thirteen clubs from west to east extend service daily including Sundays to the breeders. The Clubs are the West Prince Artificial Breeding Club, O'Leary and District, Tyne Valley and District, Eastern Prince County, Kensington and District, Crapaud and District, New Glasgow and District, Cornwall and District, York and District, Hillsboro and District, Morell and District, Montague and District and the Eastern Kings' Artificial Breeding Club.

SELECTED MATINGS

A few years ago techniques were developed whereby bull semen could be frozen. It is maintained at temperatures lower than 120 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. The storage of semen is then made possible over long periods. To date semen has been stored to five years and then used to successfully breed cows. This means that cattle owners can call for the particular sire they feel will best fit into their blood lines. Extended pedigrees on all sire are available through the Inseminator. These also include a picture of the bull in an attractively displayed Sire Catalogue.

The future of artificial insemination in Prince Edward Island has a bright outlook, the speaker said. It will continue to provide superior sires with the best available breeding background. By combining this programme with the more recently announced policy, that of weighing and testing of milk, careful planning and building of the herd can be developed.

It is impossible Dr. Fisher said, to know the production, both milk and fat, without systematic weighing and testing. The breeding of the better dairy cows to straight dairy bulls will perpetuate the more profitable strains within the herd. The low producing cows can be bred to beef bulls of the owners choice, thus producing a cross which will give greater and faster gains.

This type of a programme will enable the breeder within a few years, to build a dairy herd on known production of both milk and butter fat.
