THE DAILY EXAMINER.

FEBRUABY 13, 1895.

MR. DAVIES AND THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

In the session of 1890, when the Opposition were laying their plans for the approaching election, Mr. L. H. Davies spoke in the House of Commons in favor of a number of public works for this Province, and among others a railway to relieve Belfast and Murray Harbor. Upon this latter point he said:

"I submit to the Minister that the demand I make with respect to a railway is very small, indeed. The hon. gentleman knows, for he has been in the Province, that the Island is divided into two parts by a large river, and that the portion lying south of the river, embracing what is known as the Belfast and Murray Harbor District, comprising fifteen or sixteen townships, with a population of our fifth of the whole Island, has no railway communication whatever. It has been suggested by some surveyors, that for a very small cost, a small feeder could be built, running from one of the stations on the road through these two districts of Belfast and Murray Harbor, touching somewhere near the great village of Montague and going down from Belfast towards Wood Islands Breakwater."

Practical men have shown that this little scheme of Mr. Davies was ridiculous and altogether inadequate. But Mr Davies' anxiety for railway extension to Belfast and Murray Harbor was at all events placed upon the record and impressed upon the electorate. Coming home to Prince Edward Island, Mr. Davies continued his advocacy of railway accommodation to Belfast and Murray Harbor. At the Caledonia meeting and at other meetings, if we mistake not, he spoke strongly in favor of the project in which the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor are so deeply interested. Then he was elected. Since then he has attended four sessions of the Dominion Parliament and delivered many speeches. Has he said one word in advocacy of a railway for Belfast and Murray Harbor? Not one. If he has said one word we have not seen it reported. He has, in this regard, wholly neglected his duties as a representative of the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor. So silent has he been that some of his friends have written for the press as if the Belfast and Murray Harbor Railway were a new idea, sprung upon the country on the eve of an election by that "bad man, Ferguson," to corrupt and bribe the electors.

But Senator Ferguson had not forgotten the great want of the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor, expressed from time to time throughout the past twenty years. Though defeated by Mr. Davies' arts, and rejected by the people, he still kept the interests of the country in view, and at the very first opportunity demonstrated to the Senate the fact that Prince Edward Island has a strong equitable claim upon the exchequer of Canada, and drew attention to the fact that this claim may be equitably met in part, at least by the construction of a railway through the Belfast and Murray Harbor districts. Mr. Davies' morning organ has striven to inveigle Mr. Ferguson into a bargain in which the Government were to be pledged to guarantee the construction of a railway in consideration of the people's support at the election. Failing in this it has resorted to its old trick of wresting from their contexts certain sentences in different parts of THE EXAMINER, garbling and distorting the meaning thereof and prating about "designing politicians." As a member of the Senate of Canada and Privy Councillor of the Dominion, Mr. Ferguson can afford to treat with contempt these efforts of the harebrained Guardian while he continues to advocate in Parliament and in Council the claims of the people of Prince Edward Island, including those of Belfast and Murray Harbor. Certainly his conduct presents a strong contrast to that of Mr. Davies, who used the Belfast-Murray Harbor railway cry before the election of 1891, and said nothing about it afterwards.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—We hear that, owing to the unsettled weather and bad state of the roads, the political meetings advertized to be held at Rustico and York have been postponed.

—Mr. L. H. Davies says that the elections will take place in the first week of April. The morning organ of the Grits in this Province says the same thing. Must be so.

—St. John Sun: Mr. Laurier discussed the Manitoba question at length the other day. The conclusion he reached was that it was not yet time for him to express an opinion. When the Government decided what to do, then he would speak. And of course he will say that the Government ought to have decided the other way. It is the Riel question over again.

—The voluntary abdication of Queen Liliuokalani was lately announced. As Her Majesty was a close prisoner and liable to lose her head at any moment the word "voluntary" may be taken with a grain of salt. As the oligarchy now ruling that which is called the Hawaiian Republic ousted the Queen from her throne by a combination of double dealing an unlawful violence, so it is charged similar causes were behind the abdication, in spite of all its protestations of spontaneity.

—The Speech of Hon. Mr. Foster at Sherbrooke on Tuesday will be remembered as one of the events of the campaign. The Finance Minister has few equals as a speaker among Canada's public men. He thoroughly masters his subject before he undertakes to discuss it, and is equally effective in exposing the weak points in an opponent's position as in developing the strong points of his own. His review of the past record of the Liberals on the tariff issue was a scathing exposure of variation, contradiction and instability, such as no political party has equalled in Canada. His exposure of the unsuitableness of Canada's conditions of the free trade policy of the Liberals was complete. The address was delivered before a community chiefly interested in agriculture, and dealt largely with the position of the agricultural interest under the proposed free trade policy, if it should be put in force; but it can be read with profit by all classes.

WHAT THE POWERS WILL DO.

The London Times correspondent in Paris says: Some Russian embassies have received instructions as to the attitude which Russia, England and France, and very likely, through Russian intervention, America, intend to take toward the questions raised by the war in the east. Primarily, it has been decided that the eventual interference of the powers at the proper moment shall be absolutely disinterested. China will be asked in her own, as well as in the world's interests, to open her ports. Seeing that her present system has led to ruin, the powers will wait until China admits herself vanquished and sincerely negotiates for peace. They then will inform Japan they cannot allow her to annex an inch of Chinese mainland. Other proposed annexations will be open o discussion. There will be no meddling as to vessels, arms, booty or indemnity. Nor any objection to Japan's retaining certain positions as pledges of payment. The whole world is to profit from any opening of Chinese posts of the interior. In the Chinese currency the European system will be insisted on with a view to facilitate the new foreign loan which the Chinese will be obliged to raise.

SOUTH AFRICA'S GOLD FIELDS.

Owing to the discovery and partial development of its immense gold fields, South Africa has within the past few years rapidly risen to a position of importance in the financial and commercial world. The gold fields of South Africa are said to be so extensive that some authorities are inclined to believe that the consequent large influx of the yellow metal will force the nations to remodel their monetary systems. Whether this opinion has a substantial foundation or not is, and undoubtedly will remain for some time to come, problematical. It is, however a demonstrable fact that South Africa has a vast amount of gold stored away in its reefs and conglomerate deposits. Its rapid increase in production of the precious metal since 1887 has turned all eyes to the home of the Boer, and it is predicted by those familiar with the African gold fields that by 1896 South Africa will lead the world in gold production. Since 1887 the production of gold in South Africa has risen from 22,155 ounces in that year to 1,842,055 ounces in 11 months of the year 1894. The discovery of gold in South Africa antedated the finding of the diamond fields. A number of causes, however, delayed the location of the most valuable gold lodes.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP.

Without doubt, the most remarkable meeting in the United States since the congress of religions in Chicago was held in the Opera House at Bay City, Mich., a few nights ago. At the hour of commencing there was not a vacant seat in the vast auditorium. An admission fee of ten cents to defray the expeases was taken. The surplus will be devoted to charity. This was the first public meeting brought about by the Christian unity movement, in which Protestants and Roman Catholics are united on the same common ground of Christian charity. The movement had its inception last Thanksgiving day, when the Congregational minister gave utterence to some remarks which convinced the Roman Catholic priests that they could meet them half way. Four preliminary meetings resulted in outlining the purpose. The aim is to instil into every Christian heart the necessity of mutual love and respect among members of the mystical body of Christ. It was agreed that the presence of a minister or priest at one of the meetings should not affect distinctive religious principle. On the stage at the last meeting were six Roman Catholic priests and twelve Protestant ministers, besides a hundred representative citizens of many different creeds.

TROUBLED HER GREATLY.—A peculiar suit has just been begun at Pittsburg, Pa. Mrs. Elizabeth Goughney sues C. L. P. Schriner, A. T. Richie, Walter Scott and W. A. Graham for $10,000 damages. The defendants were the managers of a railroad dance at McKee's Rocks, in that state, to which the plaintiff was denied admission, the defendants intimating that the rule which excluded disorderly persons referred to her. Mrs. Goughney claims the exclusion has injured her reputation; has done harm to the standing of her children and husband; has so preyed upon her mind that the worriment has reduced her weight from 140 to 112 pounds, and that she is losing more flesh, and that for three days at a time she has been unable to eat food, so great was her humiliation.

Waterproofed goods usually have a seedy dusty look which repels all people of taste. They are either rubber, and then you are suffocated with your own vapors, or the chemical process used stamps them as waterproofs in appearance. Priestley's Cravenette waterproofed dress goods are absolutely indistinguishable from the non-waterproofed goods a peculiar and important merit which no other waterproofed goods possess. They may be had in the newest fabrics, and though they are perfectly rainproof, there is nothing whatever to indicate it. Perfectly porous and non-odorous Cravenette, exactly meets the need for rainproof garments which can equal in beauty the finest materials. See that "The Varnished Board." Priestley's trade mark, is in each piece.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

REV. MR. MILLER'S LECTURE.

SIR,—I had much pleasure in listening to the Rev. U. G. Miller's lecture on "Women's Rights and Influence," on Tuesday evening, Feb. 12th. The learned lecturer had a good audience, who greatly appreciated his discourse, which will bear repeating. The rev. gentleman's endeavors in building up his congregation have been successful.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

AN EXPLANATION.

SIR,—It has come to my knowledge that a large number of ladies and gentlemen who went to the Y. M. C. A. last evening for the purpose of taking part in the debate have the impression that it was my fault that the discussion did not come off as expected. In defence of my own credit I beg to say that I had nothing whatever to do, directly or indirectly, with its postponement, and that I was much astonished and chagrined when, on arriving at eight o'clock, I found that the meeting had been cancelled.

ARTHUR MELLISH.

—The report of British Commissioners of Prisons shows that "for thirty years until 1877 the prison population rose and fell alternately about every three years, but with a general tendency on the whole to rise during that period." In 1877, however, the Government took entire charge of all prisons and put a new system in operation. Since then "the prison population has almost continuously fallen notwithstanding the increase of the general population, so that the number of convicts for 1891-2 (12,663) is 37.8 per cent. less than in 1876-7 (20,361.) This extraordinary decrease in the number of convicts is explained on the ground that the prison system has become more truly reformatory and educational, so that the number of second offences is diminishing. It is pointed out that under this system England is closing prisons for lack of occupants—two in 1-92 and others since. This is a remarkable testimony, first to the wisdom of the British prison system, secondly to the improving conditions of life in Britain, resulting naturally in a decrease of crime.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.—The Union, of Springfield, tells a story of the late George W. Stearns. He was defending a young fellow for larceny, the evidence against whom was only circumstantial. Stearns urged that circumstantial evidence ought never to convict a man. "Why," said the counsel, "when I was a boy I remember a playmate of mine, who, while his parents were absent, went to the pantry and nearly devoured a big custard pie before he thought of the parental strap. When he did he looked around for some means of hiding the traces of his guilt. He saw the family cat in the corner, and taking puss by the neck he carefully smeared her paws with the custard, took the guilty cat into the back yard and shot her. As the shotgun rang out the boy observed to me: 'There goes one more case of circumstantial evidence.'" The jury disagreed.

THE PROCEEDS of the grand orchestral concert to-morrow night will be used only to help the Y. M. C. A. in their year's work for young men. Give them a good house. Never before has the whole Opera House been thrown open to the public at 25 cents.

OLD ENGLAND.—Mr. Benj. Bremner will sing the old English character song, "Giles Scroggins," the country bumpkin, at the Y. M. C. A. concert in the Opera House to-morrow night. If you want lots of laugh and care for music, come. 25 cents pay all.

SCOTT ACT.—A summons was to-day served on George Carver for a first infraction of the Scott Act. It is returnable on Monday. Summonses returnable the same day were also served on Spencer Amos and James Steele.

THE STANLEY got to Georgetown this afternoon early, and the mails and passengers will reach the city by special train about 4.45. There are between sixty and seventy passengers and 124 bags of mail matter.

MASS OF REQUIEM.—A Pontifical High Mass of Requiem for the repose of the soul of Rev. James MacKenna was celebrated in St. Dunstan's Cathedral at nine o'clock this morning.

ICE AT GEORGETOWN.—There is considerable ice in Georgetown Harbor, and the Stanley had a good deal of trouble getting up to her wharf to-day on that account.
