District Deputy Governor On Visit To Local Kinsmen Club

"Because of their religious beliefs and the character of Christian teachings, it was definitely in the minds of the founders of the first Kinsmen Club to go forward in service," Eric H. Mahony District Deputy Governor of Saint John said in a dinner address before the local club last night at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Mr. Mahony touched on the variety of activities which engage the interest of Kinsmen and give expression to their desire to play a worthy part in their community. He stressed the value of the training received in the organization which fitted members to give leadership in many fields.

Three hundred clubs in Canada with a membership approaching 10,000 indicate the growth of the Kinsmen movement since its inauguration in Hamilton, Ont., on Feb. 20, 1929. District No. 7, which is comprised of the Atlantic Provinces, consists of 24 clubs, three of which are in Newfoundland. The district membership is just short of one thousand.

National Polio Secretary On Visit To Work In Province

A very great concern with regard to polio, was expressed last night by Mr. Alex C. Solomon of Montreal, National Executive Secretary of the Canadian Foundation for Polio myelitis and local foundations would welcome having these people contact local representatives and make their needs known. Only then can the necessary treatment and assistance be made available. He pointed out that there are many ways in which these people can be helped to live a more useful life.

Mr. Solomon arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on a routine visit to familiarize himself with the work and methods being used in this Province and also to give information on methods and treatment being conducted in other parts of the country.

He expressed pleasure at the greatly increased interest in the problem of polio that has developed in the various governments. It is with this assistance along with the work of the Foundation that a great deal of the terror of the dreaded disease has been pushed into the background. The Provincial Government institutions are supplying the majority of medical treatment and as this progresses the Foundation becomes interested in the physical, economical, psychological and vocational aspects of the treatment with the purpose of making the patient adapt himself to a new way of life and to channel his talents towards suitable employment.

Artificial Insemination Is Discussed At Area Meeting

Keen interest was evinced in the establishment of an artificial breeding unit by a representative group of farmers who met in Charlottetown yesterday afternoon to discuss the feasibility of such a step. The general areas represented included those from Cornwall, York and Pownall and surrounding vicinities.

Dr. George Fisher, director of veterinary services for the Province was the main speaker at the meeting. He told of the success that an artificial unit is having in Eastern Prince County. It started on June 6 of last year and up to the end of December had serviced 1,500 cows.

BREEDER INTEREST

Dr. Fisher said that in order to establish an artificial breeding unit in any given area, there must first of all be interest shown among the breeders.

Pointing out some of the advantages of artificial breeding, Dr. Fisher said that it gives access to a superior type of bulls which the ordinary cattle owner could not afford to purchase. It tends towards higher milk and butterfat production. It makes room for another cow or two cows in the space occupied in the barn by a bull. It eliminates the danger element which is ever

Address On TV At Lions Club

"Canada is the third largest television viewing country in the world, exceeded only by the United States and Great Britain," Mr. Robert Large told members of the Charlottetown Lions Club last night as special guest speaker at their regular bi-monthly dinner meeting held at the Queen Hotel.

The meeting was presided over by co-chairman Lion Bill Warren. Other guests present were Messrs. Bill Archibald and Ken Carruthers, both of Montreal, R. A. Johnston, Barrhead, N. S., and Ray Stund-

Speaking on the subject of television, Mr. Large pointed out that TV is a big topic to break down into a few words to convey its complex system to the listener, but nevertheless did much in accomplishing this in an instructive and amiable way. He outlined the growth of TV in Canada during the past few years, which was not much more than an idea and a few thousand sets in 1950, to an estimated three million individually owned sets by the end of this year and at present boasts 26 privately owned stations and light CBC stations throughout Canada.

He stated that the big stumbling block in the development of TV is the tremendous cost involved.

The speaker predicted, however, that by 1958 Canada would have a micro wave TV linkup system that will be able to carry live programs such as baseball, hockey and many other entertainment productions right across the Dominion. He said that part of the cost of such an installation would be shared by telephone companies across the country who will also utilize the micro wave system for long distance service. This will be a great advancement in the field of television communication and will be particularly useful in times of emergency such as the micro wave installation at Tea Hill, which was the only telephone communication service to the mainland earlier this winter when the Maritimes were hit by the most destructive silver thaw in history.

Mr. Large closed by saying that he hoped that the Charlottetown station, of which he is the manager, would have TV on the air by June of this year.

Lion Robert Younker introduced the guest speaker to the meeting and Lion Reg MacNutt moved a warm vote of thanks to Mr. Large at the conclusion of his talk.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of The Queen.
