♣ A 8 5 4

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	2♥	3♠	Dble.

Opening lead—king of hearts.

This hand arose in the second half of a team of four match. South decided to open the bidding with a psychic spade bid. His team had fallen way behind during the first half of the match, and South thought he might create a swing in favor of his team by opening with a bluff bid.

West overcalled with two hearts and North, unsuspecting, jumped to three spades. East had serious doubts that this contract could be made, and doubled. Everybody passed.

At the other table, we might add, the bidding followed a different course. There, after two passes, North opened with a diamond. East bid a spade and West two hearts. East's two spade bid then bought the contract, West retiring regretfully from the auction. The result was that East went down three tricks vulnerable—300 points—for a bad score.

But let's go back to the first table where the contract was three spades doubled. West led the king of hearts and South saw he had his hands full. He took the ace of hearts.

To salvage what he could he embarked on a crossruff. He cashed the ace of diamonds and trumped a diamond. Then he led a club to the king, another club back, and ruffed a club in dummy.

Now he led another diamond from dummy and trumped. When he played the fourth round of clubs, West showed out, and South was able to ruff the club low in dummy with complete safety.

By this time eight tricks had been played and declarer had won them all. The lead was in dummy. East had come down to a flush in spades—the A-K-Q-9-5.

Declarer led a diamond from dummy and East had had it. Regardless of what he did he could not prevent South from making a trump trick—and the contract.

So the North-South pair scored 530 points, which more than overcame their teammates' loss of 300 points at a spade contract in the opposite direction.

Backstretch

His horse holdings were sold with the exception of Greyhound 1.55¼, that he left sufficient funds for so that he would have a lovely home, plenty of pasturage, and when he passed away, would be interred in a beautiful spot surrounded by metal fencing where a plaque would show his harness racing history, and he would be ever afterwards cared for.

SYNDICATE PURCHASE

Edith Shaw, writing from Del Mar, California, to "The Harness Horse," states that a syndicate has purchased Wattage by Bill Gallon, dam Evelyn Watt. He is a three-quarter brother to Stenographer.

Members of the syndicate are: Bill Lachenmair, Jim Camp, Joe O'Brien, Bill Jeffries and two others. Wattage will be trained in the S. A. Camp stable, and on the Camp farm half-mile track where Joe O'Brien and assistant trainer, Tommy Carter, are working a number of two-year-olds, most of which are home bred at the beautiful Camp ranch at Springville, which is not far from Shafter, where Maynard Shetler and Gene Matucci are training a group of two-year-olds over the ranch half-mile track.

The list of two-year-olds in training numbers twenty, most of them home bred, but four are purchases from the Harrisburg sale.

Racing has already started in California, where Bay Meadows opened its first race meeting at San Mateo on January 17; the fastest mile was in the "A" Pace, purse $1,800, won by Oakland Hills (Hall) in 2.02 4-5. The Camp Stable will not likely be racing at this meeting, unless at the latter end of it. But they will, no doubt, take part in the later meeting at Santa Anita, California.

At the Bay Meadows meeting, there are races for runners also, and these are mostly at a mile and a quarter, single dashes. There was a time, a few years ago, when the runners dominated the California tracks, and for quite a while it was difficult to make progress with trotters and pacers. But when California permitted pari-mutuel racing, it changed the picture, and now it is the trotters and pacers that are the favorites.

We owe it to California that the harness horse industry is what it is today. It was there that Leland Stanford, a man who had made a fortune in the gold-mining days, brought in trotting sires and established the biggest breeding farm in the world, and Charles Marven, harness horse trainer, became a noted authority on training, shoeing and balancing trotters. It was to his farm that the late W. A. Brennan, proprietor of the Summerside Journal and Agriculturist, went in the early '90's and bought the stallions, "Parkside" and "Ballston." Parkside proved a foundation sire, and his blood flows freely through hundreds of trotters and pacers bred in the Garden of the Gulf and elsewhere.

CAC President Wonders Why Farmers Grumble

CALGARY (CP) — Isabel Atkinson of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Association of Consumers, said Thursday she can not understand why some farmers claim they are not being helped by federal and provincial governments.

Miss Atkinson told the annual meeting of the Dairy Farmers of Canada that the combined budgets of federal and provincial agriculture departments exceeds $150,000,000 a year.

"This is more than is spent to assist any other economic group and yet there are farmers who appear to think the government does nothing for agriculture."

She asked whether increases in farm production do not in some measure offset either the drop in price of farm products or the increase in cost of what the farmer has to buy.

"Surely the fact that farm labor has, perhaps, doubled in price in a certain period, is offset in some degree if the physical output for each man hour is 75 per cent greater.

Dec. Newsprint Output Is Given

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian newsprint production last December was higher than in December 1957, but the 1958's total production was lower than in 1957, the Newsprint Association of Canada announced Thursday.

Last December 476,232 tons of newsprint were produced, compared to 435,269 tons in December 1957. However in 1958, 6,095,553 tons were produced, against 6,396,501 in 19[illegible]

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation
