FAREWELL MEETING.

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 19th, the members of Cavendish, Stanley and North Rustico congregations held a farewell meeting in the Presbyterian church, Cavendish. Mr. Archibald, the retiring pastor of this section, has labored earnestly and successfully here for 17 years, and during that time has greatly endeared himself to those under his pastoral care. The meeting was addressed by Rev. J. C. Spurr, Wm. McNeil, ex-M. P. P., Alexander McNeil, G. W. Simpson, Esq., and others, all of whom expressed their heartfelt sorrow at the removal from among them of such a zealous Christian worker and good citizen. At the close of the meeting Mr. Archibald was presented with a handsome gold watch and the following address:

Rev. Wm. P. Archibald:

DEAR PASTOR,—We have learned with deep regret that you are about to sever your connection with us as pastor of our church, and in view of the many and kind services you have rendered us while laboring in this corner of the Master's vineyard, we feel that we cannot allow you to depart without giving expression to our gratitude and esteem of them. Since taking charge of this pastorate you have labored with all a Christian's zeal for its improvement religiously, socially and morally. Your sojourn with us, though extending over a period of seventeen years, seems short. The happy days spent together in God's house, where words of truth and comfort were spoken, have come and gone, and we must say farewell. We rejoice that, though the tie of social life must be broken, we have so woven one of Friendship that not one cord will part asunder. In our Sabbath-school you took especial delight, ever happy when instilling into the minds of the young pure, holy thoughts and urging them to follow Him "from Whom all blessings flow." We shall miss you from the ranks of temperance workers, where with faithfulness you have always upheld the cardinal principles of our order—Love, Purity and Fidelity. Not only do we feel in your departure the loss of a pastor, firm to the trust, but a sympathizing friend in every time of trouble, a kind neighbor, a counselor and assistant in difficulty, a welcome visitor in every household, leaving a vacancy in his church not easily supplied, and a place in the affections of every member of the congregation which time will not efface. To Mrs. Archibald you will convey our sincerest good wishes and thanks for the interest she has manifested on all occasions in connection with our church, and we pray that by God's help she may be instrumental in bringing up the little ones under her care in the fear and love of Him. Please accept this watch as a small token of our esteem, with the hope that to you and your partner in life years of usefulness may be spared in the church here below, ere the message comes calling you up higher.

Signed on behalf of congregation,
JAMES ANDERSON,
G. W. SIMPSON,
OLIVER BERNARD,
E. J. MCKENZIE,

Cavendish, Nov. 19th, 1895,

MY DEAR PEOPLE,—

I thank you heartily for the kind and cordial words of your farewell address, and the appropriate and valuable gift accompanying it. I feel that you have formed too favorable an estimate of my work and character. I have endeavoured to use the talents which God has given me in His service and for the good of my fellow-men. I have aimed constantly to manifest the Spirit and disposition that ought to characterize a Christian and a Minister of the gospel; but as every earnest man knows, achievement in this line often falls far short of aspiration. The seventeen years are better of my pastorate have been very happy years. Your kindness and thoughtful consideration have been very helpful to me in my work. You speak of the happy days that we have spent together in the house of God. One of the most satisfying rewards of a true minister is to see his people waiting with eagerness upon the preaching of the word and receiving the truth with willing and obedient hearts. This satisfaction it has been my privilege to enjoy. The memory of hallowed seasons of praise, prayer and meditation that we have participated in together will abide with me while life lasts. My work among the children and young people has always given me special pleasure. They are the hope of the church as well as of the state. Many of the fathers and mothers have fallen asleep since I came among you, but I trust that instead of the fathers will be the children who will arise and carry on the work of God with vigor and success. My social relations with you have ever been of the most agreeable character. The warm welcome I have always received to your homes, and the unstinted hospitality shown there have made my pastoral visitations a very easy and pleasant task. I have been with you in hours of joy and sorrow; at the marriage festivity, at the sick bed, and at the trying hour when you have buried your dear departed ones. These experiences and associations have, in the course of years, formed ties which are not easily broken. May the friendship of Him, who is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother, be yours in richest measure, and may the God of Israel fill your homes and hearts with His light and love. On behalf of Mrs. Archibald, I thank you for you kindly expressions of good will towards her. You speak of her interest in the congregation. Her heart has been in the work. She has been specially interested in the Sabbath School and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, and has had much pleasure and satisfaction in both these departments of Christian activity. Any credit that may be given to me for my work I feel ought to be shared with her, for her sympathy, counsel and co-operation have been a constant source of strength to me. And now, brethren and friends, farewell. I commend you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and to give you an inheritance among all them that are sanctified. May our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God even our Father, who hath loved us and given us everlasting consolation and good hope, through grace, comfort your hearts and establish you in every good word and work.

WILLIAM P. ARCHIBALD.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

At a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary Aid Society, held November 14th, in the church at Cavendish, Mrs. Wm. P. Archibald was presented with a purse of money and farewell address by the ladies of that society, expressive or their esteem for the earnestness she has displayed in the society's welfare and their sorrow at her departure from the presidential chair and community.

Bacon—Does that young man who is paying attention to your daughter leave at a seasonable hour every night? Egbert—Yes, I have no reason to kick.—Yonkers Statesman.

Benny Bloobumper—What do they do in bucket shops, papa? Mr. Bloobumper—You should say "Whom do they do in bucket shops?" They do the bucket shoppers.—Life.

D'Auber—Who is that homely woman rhapsodizing before the picture of the handsome society matron? D'Angelo—She's the original of the painting.—New York Herald.

Skinnum—Remember, if anybody calls I am in to nobody. Servant (gotto voice)—Well, this is the first time I ever saw you when you weren't into somebody.—Philadelphia Record.

Young wife (at the fancy ball)—You're improving wonderfully as a dancer. Don't you remember how you used to tear my dresses? Young husband—Y-e-s; I wasn't buying 'em then.—Boston Globe.

Papa (enraged)—Why, Constantia, daughter, I've never, in all my life, seen as soft, green, unsophisticated spoony an idiot as young Puddington— Mamma (emphatically)—I have:—Cleveland Plaindealer.

"I'm sorry now, mamma," sobbed Bobby, "that I stole those apples." "Oh, yes," said his mother, "your conscience hurts you, does it?" "No," returned Bobby, "it's my stomach that hurts."—New York Herald.

"I can see no reason," said the S.P.P. A. boarder, "why it shouldn be thought advisable to dock a horse's tail." "Probably," suggested the Cheerful Idiot, "they are docked for being behind."—Indianapolis Journal.

When he asked for her hand she replied, "No, George; my heart is quite at your service; but I think I had better keep my hand myself. It might be useful to me in case you couldn't support me, you know."—Boston Transcript.

Miss Antique—People are always talking of self-made men. I wonder why they never speak of a self-made woman? Miss Austere—Because a self-made woman generally doesn't like to have it known.—Harper's Bazar.

Grandpa—Don't get scared, Willie; the tiger is about to be fed; that's what makes him jump and roar so. Willie (easily)—Oh, I ain't afraid of him, grandpa. Papa's the same way when his meals ain't ready.—Standard.

Daughter—This piano is really my very own, isn't it, pa? Pa—Yes, my dear. "And when I marry I can take it with me, can't I?" "Certainly, my child; but don't tell any one. It might spoil your chances."—New York Weekly.

Father—You may as well give up thinking about that young man, Dashing. He does not love you. Daughter—How do you know, papa? Father—I met him at the club just now, and he refused to lend me a fiver.—Boston Globe.

"I wonder," said the man who was about to start to Atlanta, "if I'd better take a heavy overcoat along?" "You will not need it," replied the man who had been there, "but you'd better take a heavy pocketbook."—Chicago Tribune.

Housekeeper—You don't look as if you had washed yourself for a month. Tramp—Please, mum, th' doctors say th' proper time to bathe is two hours after a meal, and I haven't had anything you call a meal in six weeks.—New York Weekly.

Hicks—Did you hear of that case of safe blowing last night? Wicks—No; did they get much of a haul? Hicks—Ha, ha. Very natural mistake. It was not a burglar, but only a prizefighter twenty miles away from the ring.—Boston Transcript.

"I wonder," said the man who had been out for the evening, "why some bright women marry such insignificant husbands?" "William," she said admiringly, "you are really too modest; you nearly do yourself an injustice."—Washington Star.

"If I give your friend a place," said the banker, "he will have to give a bond. I suppose you will go on?" "Bond?" exclaimed the other man. "Why, he can be trusted with uncounted millions." "Yes, but all the money we have is counted."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Have you anything to say before sentence is pronounced against you?" asked the judge. "The only thing I'm kickin' about," answered the convicted burglar, "is bein' identified by a man that kept his head under the bedclothes the whole time. That's wrong."—Judge.

Hicks—I see they've arrested young Geevus for pilfering nuts and apples off the street peddlers' stands. It'll go hard with him, won't it? Wicks—I don't know; it looks like a clear case of heredity. His father was a policeman, you know. The fact will be urged in extenuation.—Boston Transcript.

"Bunkins, I guess, is about the smartest man of his years in this community," said the citizen who observes. "Knows a great deal, does he?" "Knows a great deal? I should say so. Why, sir, that man knows almost as much as his nineteen-year-old daughter who is in the high school."—Washington Star.

Romantic Miss—Have there not been moments in your experience when life seemed full of unsatisfied wants? Mr. Hardhead—Y-e-s, that's so. Romantic Miss—At such times I always fly to music for relief. What do you do? Mr. Hardhead—I advertise.—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

THAT ACHING HEAD.

What Causes It and How Overcome.

How often the remark, "Oh, my head aches," and there are so many varieties of aches and pains the head is subject to all along the line from the dull and heavy and oppressed feeling over the eyes to the persistent, racking and torturing misery of Sick Headache. The cause is in most cases the same, the overflow of poisonous uric acid is not extracted from the blood by the Kidneys, and accumulating in the blood, causes high and irregular pulse, headaches, mental depression and nausea. Chase's K. & L. Pills tone and restore the Kidneys, excrete poisonous matter from the blood, sending it on its way pure and health-giving, curing Headache, and removing all the attending symptoms from its wake. Mrs. G. Bird, Harriston, Ont., while attending the 1894 Fall Exhibition at Toronto, was taken very ill with Sick Headache and dizziness. She was subject to these attacks for years, compelling her to take to her bed. In this case by using Chase's Pills relief was immediately obtained, and the usual days of misery and prostration avoided. Thousands of such cases can be referred to where Chase's Pills have cured Sick Headache and its attendant symptoms. 25 cents a box, of all dealers, or by addressing Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard St., Toronto.
