Canada Adds One Million To Colombo Plan Contribution

OTTAWA, (CP) — The government announced Monday it will ask Parliament to boost Canada's Colombo plan contribution by $1,000,000 to $26,400,000 next year.

It was understood a high-ranking diplomatic official originally proposed a boost of 10 times that amount, which was turned down by treasury officials.

The external affairs department said in a statement that if the $1,000,000 increase is approved by Parliament, it will allow for expansion of technical assistance to South and Southeast Asia "and the investigation of other projects which might be suitable for development in future years."

The department also said Colombo plan governments next year will consider the future of the six-year, $5,000,000,000 capital aid plan which expires June 30, 1957.

"Such consideration will, of course, include the question of the amount of future contributions," the department added.

URGE MORE AID

The democracies in southern Asia which the plan is designed to assist have been pressing the Western powers included Canada for increased assistance.

This pressure from an area holding one-quarter of the world's population was stepped up during the Oct. 4 consultative committee ministerial conference in Ottawa.

The Colombo plan was devised as a means of fighting Communist influence by providing funds to build new industries, power and irrigation dams, and provide natives with better-paying jobs and better living standards.

So far in the first four years of the plan, Canada has contributed $25,400,000 a year, making a total of $101,600,000 distributed among India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

SINK TWO RED JUNKS

TAIPEH, Formosa (Reuters)— The Chinese Nationalists Monday claimed to have sunk two Chinese Communist motorized junks and damaged the rest of a Communist flotilla south of Wuchiu island. A defence ministry communique said the Nationalist warships returned to their base "without damage."
