DIED IN MASSACHUSETTS. Word has been received here of the death in Jamaica Plain, Mass., of Mr. John Lemuel Maher, formerly of Charlottetown, who passed away on September 8 at the age of 63. The late Mr. Maher was a son-in-law of Mrs. James Clinton, this city, and had spent a vacation here only last month when he came to the Island for Old Home Week. His wife, the former Miss Annie Clinton, predeceased him several years ago.

TURNIP MOVEMENT LIGHT. There has been little movement in turnips this year so far, although the quality of the root crop is excellent, with no evidence of the turnip maggot which has plagued the crop for several years. Most of the turnips grown on the Island are grown within a radius of 20 miles of Charlottetown and it is reported that only a car and a half of turnips have been shipped out of the Province during the month of September, a time of year when the shipping season would ordinarily be at its peak.

SEEKING VOCAL TALENT. A talent searching team for "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" has arrived in the Province to continue their Maritime tour in an effort to locate Canadian singers of the future. Here to look over, and listen to, Island singers are Mr. John Adaskin, Toronto, producer of the show, and Mr. John Winter, of the advertising agency of Cockfield, Brown and Company, Montreal. It is the first time the producer has visited here in search of new talent and he is hopeful of finding several top grade performers. The two visitors report excellent results on their tour thus far.

POLICE COURT. Eighteen cases were disposed of before Magistrate Martin in City Police Court

Pleased With Result

Pleased at the election of Mr. Harold Smith, Pownal, in yesterday's election in North Queens, was expressed last night by Premier A. W. Matheson (above) who said he was very happy to see the official Party candidate endorsed at the polls by the electorate.

vocated uniformity of the age limit of juvenile delinquents. This varies from 16 to 18 years.

Delegates agreed there should be uniformity as to age but when a resolution was introduced to fix the limit disagreement arose and the matter was put off for further study.

Other questions brought up in committees dealt with taxation, succession duties, and administrative boards established by provincial governments.

The Quebec sub-section on civil liberties represented that the Quebec legislature adopted measures to make such boards immune from the courts of justice. Decisions of these boards could not be appealed.

The Quebec committee's report was introduced by Perreault Casgrain of Rimouski, Que., who said the action of the legislature was in contravention of article 50 of the Quebec Civil Code.

The article makes subject to the "superintending and reforming power of Quebec superior court" all court judges and magistrates, and all bodies politic and corporate. An exception to the rule is the court of Queen's bench-highest in the province.

"Abolition of recourse to the tribunals of common law is undemocratic and contrary to long constitutional tradition. It renders possible crying injustices and can provoke serious social difficulties," Mr. Casgrain said.

In the civil justice committee a somewhat similar question was raised. Jacques Van of Montreal, said provincial governments tend more and more to appoint laymen instead of lawyers to boards which are immune from judicial powers.

"We must react against such encroachments and act to protect our rights," Mr. Van said.

The constitutional issue was raised in the civil justice committee by Oscar F. Lundell of Vancouver, chairman of the British Columbia sub-section on this question.

Mr. Lundell's report said the Canadian Bar Association should give marked and distinctive leadership to the people of Canada in the matter of revising the British North America Act.

those completing this grade, but that grade twelve is being established and will be required as the standard for matriculation. He said that grade twelve would be opened in as many centres as feasible, and he expected the Montague Board of School Trustees would ask for one to be established here next year. He outlined the need for complete high school education and stated that in order to provide this to the people of the Province as near their homes as possible the Government is prepared to pay a larger portion of the expense of both grades eleven and twelve. He spoke of the course of studies of these two grades and said that a minimum course would be uniform throughout the Island schools including Prince of Wales College. He also spoke of the possibility of a student failing in the regular examinations at Prince of Wales College, and by a further two or three weeks study might be able yesterday morning. Three drunk and incapable were given 20 days, six drunk and incapable were given 10 days. Four drunk and incapable were fined $10 and costs or 10 days, and another $5 and costs or 5 days. A female drunk was dismissed and a vagrant was sent to jail for 60 days. A prisoner who had attempted suicide on Wednesday was committed to Pownal. A resident of Clyde River who was charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated was given 7 days in jail.

Sebagos Top List In Seed Certification This Season

According to information received from the Seed Potato Certification Office, 23,296 acres or 80.9% of the total of 28,805 acres entered for inspection have passed final field inspection this year. The following shows the acreages which passed by variety in comparison with those of last year:

Table with 3 columns: Variety, 1952, 1953. Rows include Sebage, Irish Cobbler, Katakhdin, Green Mountain, Canso, Pontiac, Keswick, Warba (Early), Kennebec, Netted Gem, Bliss Triumph, Chippewa, Sequila, Early Epicure, Col. Russett, Early Ohio.

As indicated by the above figures, the Sebage tops the list of varieties passing certified seed showing of grade eleven during the past year.

The Minister said that he was most concerned by what appeared to be a bottleneck in the educational system at the grade ten level. This is the only Province in Canada so far as he knew, which offered a provincial examination at this level, and he greatly regretted the large percentage of failures, and that only about 60 percent passed.

The name of the examination he stated would be changed to the grade ten examination as it was no longer for the exclusive purpose of entrance to Prince of Wales College since a large number of students now attend rural high schools. He wondered what was the cause of so many failures at this grade ten level, and he was giving this problem most serious consideration. He outlined one reason for many failures might be due to the examination being based on the work covered over a period of several years, a condition which did not exist in examinations given elsewhere. He stated that colleges and other educational institutions based their examinations generally on each half year's work and stated that to ask a student to write an examination covering several years of subject matter was a heavy requirement. He said he would like to see this bottleneck broken so students might freely move on to grade eleven and twelve so that all might have the advantages of complete high school training.

In conclusion Mr. Clark urged teachers to co-operate to the fullest measure with the trustee boards and parents so that the scholastic year would be one of harmonious relations in the school district.

The convention was presided over by Mr. John Hughes, president. Mr. D. J. MacCormack was appointed secretary to replace Mr. J. B. McConnell.

Teachers enrolled for the convention. The committees appointed were as follows: Press, Leslie Stuart; resolutions, Joseph Scully and James MacBeth; nominations, Rita Wight and Mrs. Enid Ross; question box, Betty MacDonald and Grant Clements. Mr. Hughes addressed the convention briefly at the opening.

Outlines Activities

Following Mr. Clark, Miss Estelle Bowness, general secretary of the P.E.I. Teachers Federation, gave an outline of the activities of the Federation during the past year. She stated that there were many schools that would have to vote higher supplements to allow their teachers to get the benefit of the $125.00 paid by the Department of Education on all over the minimum supplement.

Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie representing the Department of Education was the next speaker. He reported that a new course for grade eleven had been drafted and adopted. He pointed out that curriculum changes were necessary to keep step with world changes. He explained that the government pays a subsidy on text books which helps to ease the load on parents.

After a short break, Mr. Ralph MacLean spoke on teaching science. He mentioned several methods which are used, but advised the use of simple experiment as the most successful.

After dinner the following were elected to the Board of Governors: Mrs. Minnie MacDonald, Grant Clements, James MacBeth, Joseph Scully, John Hughes.

Mrs. Hickox addressed the group on the subject of language. She dealt with it from the standpoint of oral and written work. She stressed the importance of the teacher setting a good example in all use of language. She demonstrated many devices which could be used to good advantage.

A short song song followed with Mrs. MacLure as leader. The supervisor, Mr. Willard Brehaut, stressed the importance of the program of studies, and called attention to the school act, and regulations of the Department of Education. Among other things Mr. Brehaut spoke briefly on the use of report cards, and the advantages of using a filing system for important papers, etc. He stressed the need of professional ethics among teachers. He complimented Mr. Hughes on the excellent

Illustration Stations In Magdalens Doing Well

The two Illustration Stations in the Magdalens are doing splendid work in the interest of the fisherman-farmer, is the view of Mr. R. C. Parent, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm here, who returned yesterday from a brief visit.

The Arherst Island Station began operation this Spring while the Grindstone Station has been in operation for a year. There are approximately 1200 fishermen farmers who have farms averaging about 25 acres of which 10-12 are cultivated.

The stations are operated by a Mr. A. LaPierre (Amherst) and Mr. Edward Bouffard (Grindstone).

The stations are featuring better pasture management, and gardening. Experiments conducted this year include variety testing with potatoes. These varieties include the Canso which results show is remaining blight resistant under Magdalens conditions. There are also experiments in varieties of vegetables and pasture fertilization. It is hoped next year that field day will be held at each station under Mr. Norman Black, supervisor of Illustration Stations here. Mr. Parent referred to the splendid co-operation received from the Agronomes Messrs Jerome Soloman and Louis, Thibodeau. In attending an exhibition at Levernier, the Superintendent was amazed to find 19 collections of vegetables. They were of exceptional good quality and he assisted Mr. Soloman in the judging. In the evening a special program was held in which Mr. Parent gave an illustrated lecture on his recent trip to Europe. In addition to scenes of London during the Coronation and Paris there were interesting shots depicting farming in the British Isles.
