She has already categorically declared that she will do all in her power to facilitate bona fide neutral trade. . .

"What Britain is endeavoring to do is to prevent the German Government from importing goods and material which will enable them to prolong the war.

Britain Claims Free Hand

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons that the reported threat of the German high command to bomb Polish towns and villages to crush civilian resistance was a violation of Adolf Hitler's statement to the Reichstag Sept. 1.

He said Britain would claim a free hand to take "appropriate action" if Germany bombed civilians and that such a move would only strengthen the resolve of Britain and her allies to "ensure the menace we are now fighting is finally removed."

The Foreign Secretary, Viscount Halifax, replying to a question in the House of Lords, said Hitler had agreed not to use poison gases provided his enemies refrained from using them.

False Air Raid Alarm

The day passed without announcement on any action by the British army or the Royal Air Force. There was brief excitement, however when it was reported an air raid warning had been sounded at Southend. 35 miles from London at the mouth of the Thames River. Later it was announced the signal was caused by an electrical defect in the siren

The Government continued to relax the rigid precautionary measures put into effect at the outbreak of war. It was announced that dance halls, theatres and other places of entertainment in England, Scotland and Wales would be reopened tomorrow.

Seize Phosphate Cargo

The first public notice of a war prize cargo published today stated that approximately 5,900 tons of phosphate from the American freighter, Warrior of Mobile, Ala., was now lying in barges at Portsmouth to be sold by order of the Marshal of the Admiralty

When the cargo was seized was not revealed

(The Phosphate Export Association in New York said the Warrior's cargo had been paid for in cash by a German buyer prior to the ship's departure and that the Association had no further interest in it.)

Royal Winter Fair Cancelled

LONDON, Sept. 14 —(CP) —The Ministry of Information said tonight that General Jan Smuts, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa had announced that the Union for the present does not intend to send troops overseas.

General Smuts added, however, that it was to the African Dominion's interest to be in the war rather than wait until Fuehrer Hitler demands restitution of former German southwest Africa.

from the main west wall

The French general staff has concealed exact progress in an effort to prevent the enemy from learning details of the advance

For the last day and night weather has kept German observation craft out of the air and has given the French a chance to sneak forward

PICTURE OF SITUATION

From the location of the French and German fortificatons and a study of the operation maps it is possible to get an approximate picture of the situation in the Saarbruecken sector

In front of Saarbruecken the French advance guards have circled slightly to the east, are in front of the town to the south and are approaching along the west bank of the little Moselle river to the west of the city where it would be possible to pinch off the Saarbruecken fortifications

FRENCH MAIN LINE

The French main line is being established along the hills south and southeast of the town with reinforcements moving up along the two highways and railroads One highway runs from Forbch, which is five miles south and slightly west of Saarbruecken The other is from Saarguemines which is nine miles south and west. The railroads parallel the highways.

Behind this main line the positions of the French artillery famous 76's and lean-looking 155 millimetre cannon known as "long rifles" - -- are concealed in the Warndt forest east of Saarbruecken.

Gov't Offices Besieged By Industrialists

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 —(CP) — Contractors, manufacturers and business men or their agents have invaded this capital seeking war orders and offering to utilize their industrial facilities to meet the Canadian and Allied demand for supplies and equipment.

The City's main hotel is jammed and there generally is a waiting list for rooms. Government offices are besieged by hundreds of businessmen from all over the country. In addition to those making personal visits or establishing their agents here, other make representation by telegrams and letters.

"I am getting out of Ottawa tonight," said one Ontario Liberal Member of Parliament. "People have been hounding me for jobs and contracts. It is mostly people who do not live in my riding. They do not seem to realize that a Member can do nothing to help them. I just direct them to the Board's which have been set up to handle their cases."

While there have been many whose interests, if well served by their visits to Ottawa will be vastly benefitted, Government officials declare that the bulk of offers have appeared unselfish and cooperative.

Those who seek interviews with the Government on matters relating to war contracts or the utilization of industrial enterprises are referred to the Defence Purchasing Board which will shortly be transformed into the War Supply Board with almost unlimited powers to mobilize industry and resources.

Others coming to Ottawa to offer personal service or who write letters with such offers, will be dealt with by the "Voluntary Service Registration Bureau" which is now being set up under authority of the War Measures Act.

With respect to the possible profits which might result from a flood of war orders to Canadian manufacturers and producers, the Prime Minister and all parties in the House have repeatedly declared that a united effort will be directed against the making of huge profits.

The budget proposed a new excess profits tax which will eat heavily into the earnings of any business, incorporated or not, which makes profits in excess of five per cent on capital during the war.

Polish Troops

The swift German attack makes the main highway between Warsaw and the Rumanian border the newest battlefield.

The invaders now are believed in position to attack Lwow, the Ukraine's capital, down the highway from the north and from directly eastward, driving a tank-furrow halfway across the remaining free section of Poland.

Information was received here that German motorized columns from Slovakia were accelerating their attacks in a plan to smash through as soon as possible to the Russian border, thus separating Poland from Rumania.

Cabinet Is Silent On War Plans

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—(CP)—Clothed by Parliament with almost unlimited powers the government moved forward today with preparations to consolidate Canada's resources for a united war effort but no announcements followed the afternoon session of cabinet council.

Prime Minister MacKenzie King and his colleagues were in session for three hours and will meet again tomorrow, when, it was intimated, some details of the government's program might be made public.

Announcement was made earlier today that Dr. E. H. Coleman, under secretary of state, had been selected to head the new voluntary service registration bureau, creation of which Mr. MacKenzie King announced Tuesday. Other members will be Major J. C. Cummins of the defence department and Major G. W. Ross, chief clerk in the railway mail service.

INTERNAL SECURITY

The cabinet sub-committee on internal security of which labor minister Rogers is chairman, held a meeting today, and there was great activity in the committee on information and censorship headed by Postmaster General McLarty.

It is expected announcements will be made shortly in the creation of a public information committee to relieve Mr. McLarty of the heavy additional tasks which have been placed in his hands.

Justice minister Lapointe is expected to announce within a day or two the appointment of a three man court of appeal to handle appeals from rulings made under the enemy alien act.

WAR SUPPLY BOARD

Organization of the war supply board is one of the most important civilian efforts to occupy the government at the moment.

It is anticipated that the defence purchasing board will be the nucleus of the war supply board, and that R. C. Vaughan, purchasing agent of the Canadian National Railways and chairman of the defence purchasing board, will continue as head of the new organization.

But if the situation develops that a ministry of munitions and supply is necessary, it is believed almost certain that the minister will be finance minister Ralston with the possibility Hon. Gordon Scott, former Quebec provincial treasurer, will be asked to become finance minister.

Cape Traverse Young People's Union met at the home of Dora Lord last Friday evening. The meeting opened with the hymn. Breathe On Me, Breath of God. after which Rev. Ralph Barker led in prayer. Eleanor Bell read the scripture lesson and the hymn. Dear Lord and Father of Mankind was sung. Thelma Quigley who was in charge of the devotional period read about the life and works of Dr. Stanley Jones and was followed by Mr. Barker who spoke briefly on the same subject. The president then took charge of the business period. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Twelve members responded to roll call. The following committees were appointed: Devotional—David Murphy: Program—Grace Howatt and Miriam MacDonald: Lunch — Mrs. Douglas Bell, Grace Howatt and David Murphy. The next meeting is to be held Friday, September 15th at the home of Evelyn Bell. After recreation and lunch the meeting closed with the benediction.

The September meeting of the Cape Traverse Women's Missionary Society was held in the Church on Thursday afternoon, September 7th. The Theme was "The God of all the Earth." An appropriate chant was sung by the president, followed by prayer. The opening hymn was "O God Our Help In Ages Past". The scripture lesson was read from Amos, 5 and 6, followed by an explanation of the passages, read by Mrs. Lord. A series of prayers was read by the president, directing our thoughts to the sovereignty of God, and giving thanks for His goodness. The roll call was responded to by nine members. The secretary being absent there were no minutes of the previous meeting. It was decided to send a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Charles Doull. The corresponding secreary having removed from Cape Traverse Mrs. Frank Muttart was appointed to that office for the remainder of the year. The study book "Frontiers of Service" was introduced and an article regarding it was read by the president. The preface, telling of the great avenues of service open to the Church in its different organizations, was read by Mrs. Guignion. Another article on this book was read by Mrs. Muttart. The meeting closed with the hymn " O God of Love, O King of Peace" followed by the benediction. D.

High Command

Polish divisions north of Lodz, 70 miles southwest of the Capital, were reported waging a stubborn fight against capture in what was regarded as the biggest battle of the war. Now in its fifth day, this engagement was upsetting German predictions that these Polish legions would be destroyed within three days.

The high command, meanwhile, instructed submarines and warships to begin an immediate "counter blockade" as an answer to Britain's determination to prevent foodstuffs from reaching the Reich. Just how the blockade war will develop appeared uncertain tonight.

Watch Neutral Reaction

Official eyes were fixed on the reaction of neutral states to Britain's announcement in regard to contraband goods. The Reich expected neutrals to exert themselves to keep trade lanes to Germany open for the "normal" amount of goods Germany usually buys from them.

Nazi action in publishing a list of "conditional" contraband—materials not directly intended for prosecuting war —was said in official circles to be a counteraction to the British move

Interest was manifested over whether four of the biggest neutrals —Soviet Russia, Italy, Japan and the United States— would accept Britain's food blockade of Germany. Special interest was expressed over the possibility of the United States getting involved with Britain over the "Freedom of the Seas" question.

Of operations on the western front, the High Command had little comment except that "stronger French forces than hitherto" advanced toward German outposts between Saarbruecken and Hornbach, but were "stopped by mine fields and German defence fire."

Hear Rumor Bremen At Mexican Port

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14—Passengers and crew of a Pan-American airliner arriving today from Mexico City said there was a rumor in Mexico the German liner Bremen is at the Mexican port of Progresso.

Progresso is a remote port at the northern end of the Yucatan Peninsula on the Gulf of Mexico.

Announce Air Force Promotions

OTTAWA, Sept. 13-(CP)-The Department of National Defence announced today the promotion of 25 flight lieutenants to the rank of Squadron Leaders. They include:

S. W. Coleman, R. C. Gordon, H. M. Carsscallen, W. E. Bennet, R. G. Breise, R. C. Mair, of Dartmouth, N. S.; W. A. Jones, Halifax.

DENIES BREMEN PURCHASE

ROME, Sept. 13-(AP)-It was authoritatively denied tonight that Italy has acquired or intends to acquire the German liner Bremen.

A Rotterdam newspaper had asserted that the Bremen, which sailed from New York Aug. 30 and has not been officially reported since, had become an Italian ship and was bound for an Italian port.

LONDON, Sept. 14 —(CP) —The Ministry of Information will supply only "true information" and "authentic news" to the British public and the foreign press, Lord MacMillan, Minister of Information, told the House of Lords today.

"This is a Ministry of expression, not a Ministry of repression, and least of all a Ministry of depression," Lord MacMillan said. "Nothing could be more dangerous than that we should be allowed to brood in ignorance and be victims of rumors and unofficial gossip."

EYE WITNESS

flight whose navigator was a Canadian.

HEAVY RAIN

"We started for Wilhelmshaven at 4 p. m. on Sept. 4," he said. "When we left the afternoon was fine but as we flew we ran into foul weather with heavy continuous rain. We reached Wilhelmshaven after two hours of flying. As we turned on our last course, five minutes away from Wilhelmshaven, the weather cleared for a few minutes.

"Breaking the flight formation we flew singly into the Schilling roads.

"We could see a German airship taking on stores. We could even see some washing hanging on a line.

"Undaunted by the washing we proceeded to bomb the battleship.

"Flying at 100 feet above mast height all three aircraft in the flight converged on her. I flew straight ahead. The pilot of the second aircraft came across from one side, and the third crossed from the other.

CREW RUN TO STATIONS

"When we flew on top of the battleship we could see the crews running fast to their stations. We dropped our bombs. The second pilot, flying behind, saw two hit. We came round, and the ship's pompom guns (light quick-firers) began to fire as we headed for home. My navigator saw shells bursting almost on the tail of the aircraft."

The account went on that the second pilot took a photograph but it was subsequently found to be blurred due to weather conditions.

By this time the aircraft again were speeding through blinding rain. Tracer bullets looking "like small electric sparks" nipped past the wing tips.

The pilot of the third aircraft who saw the first bomb drop from the second bomber said:

"To me it appeared to drop dead amidships.

"By now the battleship's crew were all at action stations and I got some hot stuff."

He dropped his bombs and made a half circuit round the battleship.

Wheeling, he noticed three bursts of anti-aircraft fire at the leader's machine.

ONE GERMAN AIRCRAFT

During the whole action only one German aircraft was seen. This was a German biplane, which flew past and disappeared.

By 7:30 p. m. the flight were back at their station.

Another vivid account was given by the officers and crew of the aircraft in the squadron which took part in the raids in the Kiel area.

One of the aircraft was hit several times both by shells and bullets but returned home safely although two of the petrol tanks were punctured. The remaining two bombers were not hit.

The leader of this attack said:—

"We were near the German coast when half a dozen enemy fighters came out to engage us. A game of hide and seek in the clouds followed and our craft were successful in eluding their pursurers and left them behind.

"Conditions grew worse and there was heavy rain for an hour. Then the weather improved and my bombers gained height, giving a wide berth to all the island along the German coast. We observed considerable activity by enemy merchant shipping. We made our landfall accurately and flew up the Elbe estuary until we sighted a number of German naval vessels. We were then flying at 6,000 feet under a thin layer of cloud.

ENEMY OPENS FIRE

"The enemy held his fire until we were almost over our target then suddenly he opened with every gun he could bring to bear on us; it was terrific, especially the firing from the big ships, which seemed to carry seven anti-aircraft guns on either beam. You could watch the tracer shells rising in spirals after the flash of the gun and follow the whole of their course.

"We made our aircraft as difficult targets as we could by manoeuvring. We then straightened out and dropped our bombs.

"At once we rose up into the clouds with the shells bursting round us and made for home, after an effective smack at the enemy. Our flight all returned home safely."

Brotherhood Seeks End Of Profiteering

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Sept. 13 —(CP) — The aid of Federal Authorities in stamping out what was termed "profiteering and exploitation" in Saint John is being invoked by the several Saint John locals of the Canadian Brotherhood of railway employes.

At a conference of the district C. B. R. E. executive today, Union officials said an intolerable situation had been created among working people in Saint John by "the rise in prices of foodstuffs and other commodities."

The executive dispatched the following telegram to Labor Minister Hon. Norman Rogers at Ottawa:

"Can you do anything to counteract flagrant profiteering in food prices in this city; we demand immediate investigation and prosecutions be instituted to safeguard us. Prices on food which was in stock before the budget have increased from 20 to 75 per cent. Kindly advise contemplated action in view of urgency of situation.

"The Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employes.

"P. G. CARLIN, President."

U. S. Navy Sub Squalus Is "Surfaced"

PORTSMOUTH, Sept. 13-(AP)-The submarine Squalis was "successfully surfaced" at 4.05 p.m. Adt. today and taken in tow for a Portsmouth Navy Yard Drydock, Navy official announced. They said the undersea craft had a 20 degree list.

The successful raising of the submarine and its 26 dead was achieved on the second attempt of the navy to lift the craft today and climaxed months of salvage work since she sank May 23 in 240 feet of water.

U. S. Senator Opposes Arms Embargo Repeal

By Richard L. Turner
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—Senator Borah (Rep-Idaho) denounced the proposed repeal of the embargo on arms shipments to belligerent countries tonight as an act of intervention in the conflict abroad, likely to be followed by America's armed participation.

"If in a few months we can tear up the law which a nation almost universally approved," he asked in a broadcast address, "how long do you think it will take to put across the proposition of sending our young men into the trenches, once we have intervened?"

Borah's address came at the close of a day which saw several developments in connection with the second great war and the special session which is to convene next Thursday to consider repealing the embargo and other changes in the Neutrality Act.

NOTIFIES WARRING COUNTRIES

State Secretary Hull notified warring countries that the United States government is standing in every way upon its rights as a neutral under international law. Any violation of those rights, he said, will evoke such action from the United States "as may seem most practical and prudent."

The justice department was drafting "anti-profiteering" legislation. Attorney general Frank Murphy said the purpose was to have the legislation ready for possible submission to congress in case it were needed to prevent "gouging" of consumers through excessive prices.

Treasury secreatry Morgenthau announced the treasury was studying the possibilities of an improved budgetary position as a result of the war. Rising commodity prices, might mean a saving on farm benefit payments ,for instance, he said, and an upturn in business would reduce relief costs.

From the federal reserve board came word that the reserve banks bought $230,000,000 of government securities in the week which closed Sept. 13, for the purpose of avoiding any undue decline in the price of those obligations.

TORONTO, Sept. 14 —(CP) — Highway construction in Ontario beyond the mere maintenance of roads has been suspended as a result of the war emergency, Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, said today.

Here are the first pictures of the sinking British liner Athenia, torpedoed 200 miles off the Scottish Hebrides Islands. Photos were rushed to London, cabled to New York City. Top, the big passenger ship starting its downward plunge in the Atlantic Sept. 3. Lower, survivors watch the sinking from the deck of the rescue ship Knute Nelson.
