If tomorrow is your birthday, you may look forward to a particularly exciting and eventful year, with special emphasis on your personal life. Social, domestic and romantic matters are favored, as are all forms of artistic and cultural expression.

Those engaged in the arts should gain exceptional prestige as a result of original and imaginative ideas, and the stars shine most brightly on those in the entertainment world and those who cater to social functions.

Travel is under excellent aspect and, for you who are single, courtship and honeymoon trips are under their most beneficent aspects.

A child born on this day will be clever, versatile and endowed with extraordinary warmth of personality.

Exposition Leaders Address Services At Montague

Two largely attended services were held in Trinity United Church, Montague, on Sunday, May 10th.

At 11 a.m. a "Mother's Day" service was conducted by the minister, Rev. J. M. Fraser, who preached on the text: "Her children arise up and call her blessed." Music was provided by the junior choir, with Mrs. L. A. Johnston as organist. The choir sang an appropriate anthem, and a chorus, with Florence MacDonald singing a solo very beautifully, with her mother, Mrs. Daniel M. MacDonald, as accompanist.

At 7:30 p.m. Very Rev. C. M. Nicholson, D.D., the past moderator of the United Church of Canada, and the principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, preached a most challenging sermon from first Peter: "But the end of all things is at hand; be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer." The speaker spoke of certain dangers which threaten our civilization similar to those which caused the breakdown of the Roman Empire—the sacrifice of the best blood of our nation, with the deaths of so many of our young men in two world wars; moral collapse illustrated by the prevalence of divorce, and the breaking of the marriage vows of so many people, also the wide circulation of indecent and immoral books and magazines; the tremendous urge to amass vast public good, and the loss of faith in God, and consequent widespread loss of nerve, and innumerable nervous and mental ills.

The apostle's warning came true, "the end of all things", for the world of government and society, as men knew it in the first century, passed from the face of the earth. Dr. Nicholson stressed Saint Peter's prescription to the faithful, to be sober—there is need, of course, for cheerfulness and gladness—and with it, a tremendous need for men and women to take responsibility in home, church, and community life; to keep steady—not the psychiatrist, nor current books on peace of mind, but the word of God is the supreme source of strength and peace; to pray—not that we may be kept safe, but that whether the issue be life or death, nothing can separate us from the love of Christ.

Trinity men's choir sang the anthem: "Brother James' Air", and the mixed choir sang "Be Thou My Vision". At the 3 p.m. service in Lower Montague United Church, Rev. R. J. MacNaught, of Lanark, Ont., one of the Exposition leaders, was the guest preacher, speaking on St. Paul's word to Timothy: "Stir up the gift of God which is in thee." Rev. J. M. Fraser conducted the service, and Rev. A. C. Fraser, Valleyfield, led in prayer. The church choir, with Mrs. Austin Ross as organist, led the service of praise.
