Wings Flying High

DETROIT Red Wings move into Boston Gardens Thursday night for a game with the men of Phil Watson.

The Wings will be putting their undefeated record on the line when they battle the youngsters and the sprinkling of oldsters who comprise the Bruins club. Detroit hasn't tasted defeat in these first five starts, possessing four wins and one tie in the first two weeks of the NHL campaign.

Red Wings' supporters are delighted at this unexpected showing of Sid Abel's boys. Not too many expected an improvement over last season's fifth place standing. They may, of course, not better that in the 1962-63 campaign but at the moment they are showing no signs of failing back into a spot that will not qualify them for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

OF course, a great many folks who hadn't predicted any improvement in the Red Wings' showing are merely adopting a 'wait and see' attitude. They are certain this opening burst is merely a "flash in the pan' and that Detroit will seek its proper level in a very short time. That could well be but the Detroiters may like things as they find them now and decide to abandon forever a spot such as they occupied last year.

Terry Sawchuk, one of the greatest in his day, appears to have given the Wings the lead and if he continues hot there's no telling what the Motor City boys might do.

Better For League

AT least its nice to see somebody like the Wings up there on top and the National Hockey League is all the better for it. Domination by a few teams is not good for any league and that's what has happened in the NHL for several seasons back.

This start by the Red Wings could well mean that they'll at least make the Stanley Cup playoffs. Had they performed in the closing days of last season's schedule, the way they are performing these days, then the New York Rangers might not have had a chance against Toronto Maple Leafs last spring.

Missing Stanley Cup playdowns doesn't agree with the Detroit top brass. They have played a big part in National League playoffs and they won the mug on many occasions. Watching from the sidelines while the others fight it out isn't a successful season as far as the Detroit management is concerned.

The 1962-63 performanceould well indeed be more successful.

Island League Meets

DR. Hillard Clark, president of the Island Senior Hockey League, has called a meeting of his loop for Charlottetown Armouries tonight at 8:30.

After reading Norman MacDonald's Sport Echoes Monday, we are inclined to think there is nothing to the rumor that Crystals and Evinrudes will combine their forces. Norman suggested that such talk was nothing more than idle gossip. At least we got that idea after carefully reading Sport Echoes as they came over our wire Sunday night. However, there's no doubt about it—Crystals will be hard hit by the fact that all RCAF personnel will be required to play with their own club. Crystals in these past few seasons got much-needed help from the Airmen.

Latest word around Charlottetown is that both Royals and Penguins will be back but the birds will be minus Frank 'Duck' Acorn at the helm. Frank acted as manager-coach last season but has told this column that pressure of other business will keep him out of the hockey wars this season.

Tonight something definite should be forthcoming and local hockey fans should have some idea what's in store for them this coming winter. We sincerely hope that a well balanced league comes into being. All clubs should see the necessity of such balance. Without it, the league will soon lose the interest of its patrons and no league can prosper without fans in the rinks to watch the teams perform.

Dr. Clark undoubtedly will have his headaches getting things away on an even keel but we're sure the genial and efficient president will leave nothing undone to insure the success of the ISHL in this 1962-63 campaign.

Dawn Fraser Lowers Mark

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Australia's Dawn Fraser achieved one of her major ambitions Tuesday night when she lowered the world freestyle swimming record for 100 metres and 110 yards to 60 seconds flat.

The strapping 25-year-old blonde, swimming in the Olympic Stadium where she won her first Olympic gold medal in 1956, clipped two-tenths of a second from her own records for both distances in the nation's trials for the British Empire Games at Perth, Australia, next month.

Moncton Man Is Appointed CBF Executive

MONCTON (CP)—Harry Lampert, 44, of Moncton, has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Boxing Federation.

Lampert has been a member of the Moncton Boxing Commission for six years.

Gene Horseman, chairman of the Moncton Boxing and Wrestling Commission, earlier declined the position.

Arnold Palmer Remains On Top

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, professional golfdom's biggest money winner, has been idle for the past several weeks, but still remains No. 1 on the list of top ten in the business.

Palmer's take for 21 tournaments and seven victories is $81,440. Second is Gene Littler with $65,300. Bill Casper is third with $61,842 and Jack Nicklaus fourth with $61,318.

Fritz Crisler Criticizes Blocking With Head

NEW YORK (AP)—Blocking with the head in college football may be ruled illegal because of the increasing number of head and neck injuries, Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler, chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association football rules committee, predicted Tuesday.

"One of two things will happen," said Crisler, who is athletic director at the University of Michigan "My guess is we will get a different piece of headgear or that the rules committee will pass legislation that blocking with the head will be illegal"

Crisler, speaking before a luncheon regarding the problem of high school football injuries in general and football head injuries in particular, said the injury problem will be widely discussed at the annual rules committee meeting set for Jan 15-14 in Los Angeles, the week following the annual NCAA convention.

"There is really nothing wrong with the manufacture of any helmets," said Crisler, "but many coaches have their players using their heads in a spearing and goring manner. We ought to get something in the rules about blocking with the head."

Crisler emphasized that he was speaking as an individual and not as an official NCAA spokesman. He said he is getting more mail than ever regarding football injuries.

"Rule changes are designed to curb the injuries in football. In deliberations on any rules, first and foremost is the safety of the player. Better design of equipment has helped cut down injuries to the abdominal area but now there's a growing concern about head and neck injuries."

Stirling Moss Is Comfortable After Operation

LONDON (CP) — Stirling Moss, British auto racing star, was comfortable Tuesday after undergoing a nose and eye operation, a hospital announcement said.

Moss, 33, underwent surgery Monday for the clearance of a blood blockage and a tear also in the left eye. The trouble is an aftermath of the injuries he received in a crash on the Goodwood circuit in April, 1960.

Moss has said the operation should make good a defect in his vision and speed his return to the racing tracks.

SAY TRAFFIC UP

OTTAWA (CP)—Preliminary statistics indicate that cargo traffic on the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the St. Lawrence Seaway up to the end of September this year exceeded 18,000,000 tons, an increase of 9.1 per cent over the same period last year, the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority and the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation—the U.S. body—reported today.

Football Transportation Big Business To Airlines

By BRUCE LEVETT

VANCOUVER (CP) — Once upon a time, when a football team was said to be taking to the air, it meant only one thing —passes.

Nowadays it can have another meaning—the team is flying out to play in a city at the other end of the country. And everybody pays cash — the passes are out.

The transportation of big-time football teams and all their gear is big business to Trans-Canada Air Lines.

This year, under the semi-interlocking system used in the Canadian Football League, the teams will pay an estimated $200,000 to TCA.

Of this, says team general manager Herb Capozzi, the British Columbia Lions will pay $50,000

Frank Walden, writing in the Vancouver Sun, relates the case of Gary Schwertfeger's contact lenses as an example of the service Canadian football gets for its money.

Schwerty's lenses were popped from his eyeballs by a jarring tackle during a game in Ottawa's Lansdowne Park July 19. Lions were 2,500 miles away from home and the player's spare lenses were lodged with care in his Empire Stadium locker.

The coach pondered the choices — send the half-blind Schwertfeger home, send him to an optometrist or play him in myopic misery against Hamilton Tiger-Cats four days thence.

Bruce Hay, TCA sales representative who travels with the team to help solve just such problems, telephoned his Vancouver office, TCA here rang the stadium and somebody unearthed the spare lenses.

Addition To B-E Team Pops Few Eyeballs

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

A few eyeballs popped the other day when it was announced in Toronto that Bob Fisher - Smith of Ottawa had been added to Canada's track team for the Nov. 22-Dec. 1 British Empire Games in Australia.

The first question some people asked was: "Why not Nancy McCredie?"

It was a good question, particularly since the 17-year-old Brampton, Ont., miss had established herself as No. 3 woman discus thrower in the Commonwealth with a heave of 151 feet three inches. Officials had a ready answer.

The left-handed Miss McCredie isn't ready to go up against the best in the Commonwealth. Her coach, Lloyd Percival of Toronto, said the youngster had already started on a program aimed at reaching a peak by next April in time for the Pan-American Games in Brazil.

NEAR WORLD RECORD

Percival wasn't disappointed that officials had by-passed his protege in favor of Fisher - Smith, whose best time in the 100 yards is just four-tenths second off the world mark of 9.2 seconds, held by team - mate Harry Jerome of Vancouver.

Miss McCredie hadn't received an invitation from track officials to join the team.

"I talked it over with the selectors, Nancy and her parents," Percival said. "It was a group decision that she wouldn't go to Australia: Mind you, though, she had not received a definite invitation to go.

"Nancy hung her head a bit, looked up and said: 'Let's forget about Australia and really go to work on Brazil and the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.'

"We felt a trip to Australia might interfere with her training, which has been pointed towards the Pan-Am games.

"Besides, Nancy really didn't want to go unless she figured she had a reasonably good chance of winning a gold medal.

"She thinks she can do that in Brazil next spring."

REPLACES JUMPER

Fisher-Smith took over the spot vacated by Emmett Smith of Weyburn, Sask., who won the broad jump in the track and field trials back in August. A student at Brigham Young University at Provost, Utah, he said the trip would interfere with his studies.

The selectors made a good choice in Fisher-Smith, who has shown steady improvement in the past couple of years.

"Now we have a men's 440-yard relay team," enthused Ken Twigg of Toronto, manager of Canada's track team. "And we have a fair chance of taking a gold medal." On the team are Jerome, Lynn Eves of Victoria and Bill Crothers of Toronto, a middle - distance star who started his track career in the sprints.

Tiger Captures World Crown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dick Tiger of Nigeria captured the World Boxing Association middleweight title Tuesday night when he scored a unanimous 15-round decision over champion Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah.

Referee Frankie Carter scored it 10-1, judge Jack Downey 9-5 and judge Vern Bybee 7-3, all for Tiger. Fullmer weighed 160, and Tiger 159.

Contrary to previous indications, the 33-year-old Tiger apparently had no difficulty in making the weight. Fullmer is a natural 160-pounder.

SAYS A-OK

Everything is fine," the champion said as he stepped off the scales after the weigh-in ceremonies in a downtown hotel.

"Just right—as much as is allowed," added manager Marv Jenson, referring to the 160-pound limit.

Tiger was flanked by several countrymen attired in the flowing robes of their native dress. Among them was Hogan (Kid) Bassey, a considerably heavier than when he held the world featherweight title.

Now a sports director for the Nigerian government, Bassey is the only Nigerian to have held a world title.

Tiger appeared relaxed and smiled easily as he and Fullmer posed for cameramen.

FIVE-POINT MUST

Scoring was by the California five-point system—one or more to five for the winner of a round, zero for the loser and zero for an even round.

Robin Roberts Takes Award For Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Right-handed pitcher Robin Roberts, who showed flashes of the excellence that made him one of the National League's outstanding pitchers, was named American League comeback player-of-the-year Tuesday in the annual Associated Press poll.

Roberts received 21 of the 106 votes in the balloting by members of the Baseball Writers' Association. Dick Donovan of Cleveland was second with nine, followed by Hank Aguirre, Detroit, and Billy Moran of Los Angeles Angels, three each.

Cast off by Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees, Roberts won 10 games and lost nine for Baltimore Orioles while compiling the second lowest earned run average in the circuit, 2.77. In 1961, the veteran right-hander won only one game and lost 10.

In 14 seasons with the Phillies, Roberts won 234 games. He had six 20-game winning seasons in succession, 1950-55. He was sold to Yankees last fall and they released him May 8. Orioles signed him as a free agent two weeks later.

Aces Whip Barons 5-1

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec Aces, leading the American Hockey League's Eastern Division, Tuesday night won their fifth game in six starts by whipping Cleveland Barons 5-1 before a crowd of 6,205 fans.

Danny Lewicki, Jim Morrison, Ron Attwell, Bill Sutherland and Gary Bergman shared the Quebec scoring, with Bergman getting two assists and Lewicky one.

Fred Hilts scored the only Cleveland goal in the second period after Aces had run up a 3-0 first period lead. Quebec added two more goals in the third.

Shortly afterward an airlines pilot was handed an envelope marked "fragile" for personal delivery in Toronto, where Schwerty was waiting.

Airline arrangements are laid on early in March when game scheduling is announced.

In the case of Lions, Hay huddles with Capozzi to arrange travel space. About 45 seats are blocked off for the various flights and return space is laid out

WEIGHT IS PROBLEM

Airline personnel have to consider the weight problem also. The average football player outweighs the average airline passenger by about 35 pounds. When the schedule calls for a lighter aircraft—such as a Viscount—the players are seated up forward to provide better takeoff balance.

Regular passengers are in for a treat on the player flights. The menu provides thick, juicy steaks and double ration of milk and juices.

The flying airlines man is a busy soul. Hay has to keep track of about 2,100 pounds of uniforms, helmets, footballs and personal baggage and keep schedules in mind.

Capozzi says that the interlocking schedule as it now is costs his team alone an extra $10,000 in travel expenses a year. Full interlocking schedule would increase that by another $20,000.

Canadian Pacific Airlines would like a piece of that action, but under present cross-country flight restrictions it just can't make the schedule.

Gerry Moore Named Coach Of New Team

ST. STEPHEN, N.B. (CP) — Gerry Moore, ex-Saint John Oilers winger, has been named playing-coach of the newly-formed St. Stephen Hawks hockey club.

Moore's appointment came following an organizational meeting here.

Fred Woodcock is the St. Stephen manager and the club's secretary-treasurer is Lester Johnson.

The Hawks, hopeful of playing in a proposed league with Woodstock, Fredericton, Camp Gagetown and Lancaster Brewers and possibly Saint John Oilers, will play their home games at the newly-constructed Sir James Dunn Memorial Arena at nearby St. Andrews.
