Following this the audience was entertained by Lois Hughes, Dianne Shaw, and Margaret MacLean, who performed tap dance routine.

The certificates were then presented to the graduating class, after which Miss Evelyn MacLeod delivered the valedictory.

GRADE TWELVE
The following is the prize list: twelve prize list: Highest standing, Evelyn MacLure; second highest standing, Kenneth Ballum and Billy MacIntyre; third highest standing, Norma Scott. Special prizes: Outstanding leadership in school activities, Kenneth MacIntyre; history, Roland Sullivan; algebra, Bernadette Power; chemistry, Kenneth Ballum; a special prize for outstanding application went to Jack Yorston.

PEPPIER MATHESON
Mr. Norris then presented Premier A. W. Matheson who addressed the graduates.

The Premier's informal talk was greatly enjoyed by both graduates and audience. He said that at one time he was told you would never have a memorial erected to you if you stayed on P.E.I. after receiving your education, but that times have changed greatly, and opportunities were available to all, through scholarships and hard work. He went on to say that high marks in high school were not enough. That what you learned by studying, you must apply in daily life.

He cautioned the graduates to back up their parents and that it was better to be blamed for doing wrong than to be blamed for doing nothing at all.

Hon. Keir Clark, Minister of Education extended his congratulations to the graduates after which Dr. Lloyd Shaw spoke briefly to the graduates and entire audience.

The exercises closed with the singing of "The Queen".
