REMEMBER THE DATE.—Few plays of recent date have been more highly commended than "In Old Kentucky," in which Wm. S. Hawkins' Company appears at the Opera House on Wednesday evening. It was, beyond question, the most successful play on the road last season. Three companies have been playing it in various parts of the country, and all to great financial returns. The play tells a comparatively simple story in a stirring way, the types represented by the characters are interesting as well as human, and what is most important of all, they appeal to the heart. The heroine is a sweet Kentucky girl—a girl of flesh and blood, a product of nature untrammelled, a blushing girl on a wild rose bush, in whose love affairs one takes a lively interest. The production is an elaborate and expensive one, and the scenes represented are remarkable for their fidelity to nature.

GREAT MEETING AT CAPE TRAVESER

On Saturday evening last the electors of Cape Traverse and surrounding country turned out in large numbers to hear Hon. Mr. Ferguson and H. A. Powell, Esq., of Sackville, N. B., discuss the questions of the day. The cordons were well packed and the best of order prevailed.

A. E. C. Holland, Esq., took the chair and introduced the speakers in a few well chosen words.

The Hon. Mr. Ferguson then came forward and spoke on the trade question and general administration of the affairs of Canada. He showed that the grit administration from 1873 to 1878 was characterized by lack of faith in Canada and its resources. Hence they failed to carry forward with energy the building of the C. P. R. and their refusal to adopt the policy of protection when strongly urged to do so by the representatives of the industries of the country, backed as they were by an important section of the party itself.

Mr. Powell, on coming forward, was received with unbounded enthusiasm, and for nearly two hours he held the audience spellbound by his eloquence and convincing argument. He dealt principally with the Manitoba School question, and placed before the meeting the most conclusive evidence drawn from the English Blue Books and other sources, of the solemn compact entered into at Confederation between the inhabitants of the Red River and the Parliament of Canada. He showed that the settlers insisted that their schools should be maintained, and that the minority should be protected, and the Protestants were then in a minority. He defended the action of the Government on the question from its inception in refusing to disallow the Manitoba School Act, in referring the matter to the courts, and in unflinchingly standing by the Constitution of Canada, as interpreted by the highest court in the Empire. He voted for the Remedial Bill because the constitution called for the restoration of the rights of the minority, and because the bill was a moderate and sure of relief. The whole sum and substance of the bill was that Roman Catholics who elected to support schools of their own were allowed their own taxes for this purpose, with the strict proviso that the schools of the minority should be in all respects maintained as efficiently as the other Government schools. Manitoba was not coerced, as it was not attempted to divert one dollar of the revenue of Manitoba for the support of the separate schools. The Catholic people who wanted separate schools were allowed to use their own direct taxes to maintain them and nothing more. Mr. Powell briefly referred to the terms of Confederation, showing that they were left perfectly free in education matters except Quebec and Ontario. It was at the instance and in the interest of the Protestants of Quebec that the constitutional guarantee for the preservation of the rights of minorities were entered into in the British America Act, and if these guarantees were not honorably carried out to the minority in Quebec, Protestants in every part of Canada would join their brethren in Quebec in demanding justice. Why, then, should not Protestants and Catholics ever where join hands in supporting the constitution, which was now being invoked in the interest of a weak Catholic minority in Manitoba, but which might have to be invoked at some future time on behalf of an equally weak Protestant minority in Quebec.

Mr. Powell concluded one of the best political addresses ever heard in this part of the country by touching on the title and administration questions and pronouncing a splendid eulogium on the great leaders of the Conservative party.

Mr. J. H. Bell, M. L. A., attempted to answer Mr. Powell, and disputed the statement that the Remedial Bill did not attempt to compel Manitoba to vote public money to the Catholic schools. After a few minutes it became apparent that Mr. Bell had confounded the propositions discussed between Mr. Dickey and his colleagues and the Manitoba Government with the Remedial Bill. Mr. Bell's failure was so apparent to the meeting that it served to emphasize the magnificent effect of Mr. Powell's address. The electors of Cape Traverse are overwhelmingly in favor of Mr. Hunt and the policy of the Government.

MEETINGS IN EASTERN FRANCE. Our esteemed candidate, Mr. Hunt, met the electors in Stanchon schoolhouse, Friday evening. Considering the unfavorable state of the weather, there was a splendid turnout, which contrasted strongly with the meeting held the same evening by Messrs. Laird and Wachtel, at the Springfield schoolhouse, the audience, I am credibly informed, consisting of eight, three or whom were Conservatives. Mr. Hunt discussed in his able and practical way, the different issues before the electorate, and made a good impression.

Mr. McLeod followed and discussed the trade and the school question and the general policy of the government in a very clear and lucid manner. Any who doubted that there was a compact made with Manitoba guaranteeing separate schools to the minority and that it was the duty of the Government to remedy their grievances must have gone away quite satisfied with the address of the speaker. Mr. Hunt with regard to that question after hearing Mr. McLeod's able exposition of it.

Mr. Hunt will have an overwhelming majority here on the 23rd. The electors in this section will be the exception of two or three callous grits, will give Mr. Hunt a solid support.

Stanchon, June 13th, 1896.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

To Rev. T. F. West and Mrs. West—A Token of Appreciation.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. West, Orchardcroft, Eldon, was the scene of a very pleasant time on the evening of June 3rd. Quite a number of young people gathered to bid adieu to Mr. West, as he was about to depart on the following day to assume his duties at St. Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown. The evening passed cheerfully but all too quickly, games and other amusements following each other, so that those present will "after time" remember "Auld Lang Syne." The most pleasing feature of the evening, however, was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. West of the following address and a Bible from the pupils of Eldon School. Mr. West replied in fitting and appropriate terms, expressing his heartfelt thanks for the many kind deeds and good wishes of his numerous friends. The company then broke up after singing "God be with you till we meet again."

To the Rev. T. F. West and Mrs. West. DEAR FRIENDS,—As we understand you are about to sever your connection with us, we cannot let this opportunity pass without expressing our sincere regret at losing from our midst those who have been wont to take such an active part in the social and religious welfare of this community. Although we feel we are sending a heavy loss by your departure, yet we are conscious that you are leaving the call of duty to a higher and wider field of labor. In behalf of the pupils of Eldon school, accept this Bible as a token of their gratitude for the interest you have ever taken in their studies. We fully appreciate the example of Christian character which you have ever displayed. It is with feelings of sadness that we say farewell, but rest assured that in whatever place you may be, you will ever have the best wishes of all the pupils of Eldon School and the residents of Belfast. Signed in their behalf,

JAS. ST. C. MOORE, WELLINGTON MURCH, D. B. BOSS, SAMUEL NICHOLSON, THOMAS TREWITT, D. A. McLEOD.
