Six Local Golfers Will Seek Honors In Maritime Championship At Halifax

HALIFAX, Aug. 28—Percival Streeter of Saint John, N. B., found the bone-dry Ashburn course to his liking this afternoon and shot a 71 to establish himself as favorite to retain his Maritime amateur golf title. Par at Ashburn is 67.

Streeter admitted the parched fairways were lightning fast, "but can be played all right with a little study." At the conclusion of his practice rounds he said he was "going good."

Meanwhile Pete Kelly of Charlottetown who bested Streeter for the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island title earlier this season, ran into plenty of trouble. He picked up on several holes this morning, and staggered in with an 80 this afternoon. Kelly was confident he would find his game for tomorrow's play.

62 Entered In Play

Sixty-two Maritime golfers will tee off in the 36-hole qualifying round tomorrow. The top 16 will be matched in the opening championship round on Wednesday. Other players will enter lower divisions according to their scores. The finals are slated for Friday.

Nipper Ross of New Glasgow, N. S., served notice that he has hit his stride as he racked up a 71 in a practice round this afternoon.

Dr. P. C. Jarboe of Chester, N. S. didn't go around the course today. The gray-haired physician's name was heard often in today's locker room chatter, many of the experts favoring him to take the title. In finishing second in the Nova Scotia amateur this year, Dr. Jarboe did the last round in 69.

Saunders Cards a 76

Doug Saunders of Charlottetown, who built up a reputation as a giant-killer in the Canadian amateur at Mount Bruno, Que., this year, went around in 76 today. Bill Crawford of Saint John Westfield, New Brunswick's 1939 Rhodes scholar had an identical card.

Jimmy Rimmer of Ashburn is favored to retain his Maritime open championship in 72 holes of medal play Thursday and Friday.

Other Saint John players besides Streeter and Crawford entered in the amateur include C. H. Little of Saint John Riverside, and W. P. Hurley, A. L. Longtin, H. W. Bell and M. Franklin of Saint John Ridgewood.

Kelly leads a Charlottetown contingent which includes Heath Saunders, R. T. Holman, M Dowling, Doug Saunders and Charles McKinnon.

Victorias And Dominions At Loggerheads Over Officials Named For Series

With the Victorias management unwilling to go on the field with Umpire George Francis and base judges Percy McInnis and Irving McKinnon in official capacities, the fourth game of the intermediate baseball semi-finals between the Victorias and Dominions supposed to be played this evening was set over until a later date pending the outcome of negotiations with Mr. Wilfred Kelly of Summerside, Island vice-president of the M. P. B. A. A. U of C., it was decided at a meeting of representatives of the two teams held last night in the Sporting Club.

The meeting which lasted for over two hours and a half ended in a stalemate when Victorias refused to go on the field with the officials named above with the Dominions willing to have McKinnon replaced but wanting Francis and McInnis to continue acting in the capacities they have held down so far in the series.

Mr. Kelly is to be interviewed today on the matter by officials of both squads and it is expected that the next game will be played Wednesday afternoon with the fifth, if necessary, taking place on Thursday, the date upon which the series must be concluded.

Remember When

The first women's marathon swim was staged at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition 10 years ago today. Martha Norellus of New York splashed home in front over the 10-mile course to win first prize of $10,000.

A FOXY FELLOW

An Irishman in London saw a coat, outside a pawnbroker's priced $10, and thought he could buy it. He took it inside to the pawnbroker. "How much is this worth?" he asked innocently.

"Not more than $5," the pawnbroker replied.

"I'll take it," said the Irishman.

"Take it?" gasped the pawnbroker. "I thought you had come here to sell it."

Darkness Ends Junior Game At Summerside With Teams Tied 3-3

Last night's junior game at Summerside which ended in a 3-3 draw produced some very fine baseball with both squads giving all they had when darkness forced the end of the contest before the 7th inning could be completed.

Going into the top of the 7th with the score knotted Charlottetown got runners on second and third with two out but Willett bore down superbly to strike out Trainor and retire the side scoreless. In their turn at bat Earle Boates was safe at first following an error at shortstop stole second and got to third on Landry's sacrifice. He scored a moment later when a low pitch got away from the visiting catcher. However, Umpire MacCallum was forced to call the game before the side could be retired and ruled that the game reverted back to the end of the sixth.

Summerside is understood to be lodging a protest but meanwhile the series will continue with a game at Summerside at 2 o'clock sharp Wednesday.

It would be difficult to pick any stars out of last night's game as each player performed both individually and as part of his respective team in a highly efficient manner. The pitching for each side was very good and as mentioned each was well supported.

The big highlight of the game was probably Albert Morrison's triple to centre in the sixth which drove in one of the tying markers and put himself in position to score the deadlocker moments later on Bernard's sacrifice fly to right field.

Among those making the trip will be: Armand Mondou, Georges Mantha, Pit Lepine, Walter Buswell Peul Haynes and Willie Cude.

Siebert drowned Friday while swimming in Lake Huron at St. Joseph, Ont. His body was recovered early today.

Reds Retain Lead Margin Despite Lose To Giants; Yanks Win 10th Straight

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 —(A P)— Melvin Ott and Bill Lohrman combined today to give the Giants a 3-1 baseball victory over Cincinnati Reds, but despite the defeat, the Rhinelanders maintained a five-game lead at the head of the National League pennant race as St. Louis Cardinals lost to Boston.

Ott's single in the first inning drove in one run, and his 27th homer of the campaign, in the fourth, sent the other two Giant tallies across. Lohrman held the Reds to seven hits and blanked them until the ninth when three singles and a fly pushed their only run across.

What may be of more importance to the league leaders was an injury to big Ernie Lombardi, their No. 1 catcher, who was struck on the groin by a foul tip off Tom Hafey's bat. He had to retire from the game and Will Hershberger took his place.

Gabby Hartnett's Chicago Cub teammates, with a 5-3 victory over the Phillies, ably helped him celebrate a big occasion today—the 1,722nd game he caught for the Cubs.

Exceeding by one game the mark previously held by Ray Schalk of Chicago White Sox, Gabby's 1,722 games form a new major league record of catching for a single game.

St. Louis Cardinals' grip on second place loosened a bit when the Bees, getting off to a six-run flying start against rookie Nate Andres, gave them a 10-5 beating.

Al Moran, lanky righthander up from the Bees' Hartford farm, went the distance for Boston and held the Cards fo nine hits, one a homer by Terry Moore in the fifth inning.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 —(AP)— New York Yankees advanced today from the "Murderers' Row" to the "Slaughterhouse Squad" stage. They hit the Tigers with everything in the book and piled up an 18-2 victory to stretch their current winning streak to 10 straight American League baseball games.

Joe DiMaggio walloped a homer with the bases loaded and another with two mates aboard. Charley Keller also clouted a round-tripper in the first with one on. Young Marius Russo, southpaw rookie, stopped the Tigers with four hits for his fourth victory this year against three setbacks.

Every member of the Yankee starting lineup hit safely at least once in the 18-hit attack. All but Joe Gordon drove in at least one run—DiMaggio sending eight across. And all but Babe Dahlgren and Russo scored at least one run.

Ted Williams hit one of Mel Harder's three-two pitches into the stands and gave Boston a 6-5 win over Cleveland. The homer, Williams' 20th of the season, came in the eighth with Joe Vosmik, who had walked, and Jimmy Foxx, who had singled, on base.

Up to that time the Indians seemed on their way to their 8th straight victory, and Harder en-route to his seventh straight. In the seventh Hal Trosky had hit his 22nd homer, with Ben Chapman on base. That headed Eldon Auker for the showers, but he was the official winner.

St. Louis Browns, behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Trotter, trimmed Washington Senators 12-2 to break their latest losing streak at eight straight.

Cecil Travis homered in the fourth to drive in both Washington runs. Don Heffner, Brownie second baseman, hit his first circuit blow of the season with one on in the seventh.

Simmerings Around The Sport Front

(By Alan Randal, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—Al Weill says he wants no part of the welterweight championship for Lou Ambers. Al's reason is that he has a first-rate welter championship prospect in Sammy Luftsprings of Toronto. But if Ambers wins the title, Lou couldn't defend it against a stablemate. And in the opinion of the vest, (Weill to you) there are no other outstanding welters around.

Ambers says he'll defend the lightweight toga in three months if promoter Mike Jacobs can produce a crowd-drawing opponent. Count Theo Rossi de Montelera will not defend his gold cup speed boat championship at Detroit this fall because of the tense international situation. Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., driving his Miss Canada III, is one of the favorites.

Jack Doyle, Broadway's one-man Lloyds, gives odds of 5 to 1 there will be no war within 30 days. Jack will give odds on about everything. But he grants that, should war occur, everything the sports fraternity considers important would become pretty second place.

Kay Stammers, one of the greatest hands at drawing a crowd among the international tennis troupe, is also one of the greatest hands at forgetting her baggage between stops. Incidentally, what with the refusal of Yugoslavia's Ferenc Puncec to go through with his scheduled Davis Cup tennis match with Adrian Quist, the Longwood Cricket Club is none too keen on sponsoring the inter-zone Davis Cup finals.

Bashful Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who Saturday won the United States women's golf championship was once shooed off Texas' golf courses because she was a nuisance. Anyway, the way Miss Jameson feels about things she had rather play tennis than golf but she couldn't find anybody to play with her. The way Johnny Longden is galloping his mounts it looks as though the jockey from Taber, Alta., is going to be a tough nut to stop in his march toward national jockey honors for 1939.

Protest Of Dominions Thrown Out

Dominions protest of Umpire Jimmy Dodds' decision in Sunday's baseball encounter between Dominions and Victorias in the third game of the semi-finals to decide the team to meet Summerside All-Stars for the Island title was thrown out by the Island vice-president Mr. Wilfred Kelly of Summerside it was learned last night, Kelly upholding Umpire Dodds' decision on the play.

The play on which Dominions lodged their protest occurred in the first half of the eighth inning when "Skinny" McKinnon parked on second was ordered back to third base after crossing the plate on a bunted ball that was thrown wide to first base by the Victorias hurler.

CAMPFIRES

Campfire pictures are easy to take with any camera. Try it!

WITH the arrival of cooler days and nights just about everybody, it seems, wants to take advantage of every opportunity to get out in the country, the lake or seashore for marshmallow roasts, fish fries, corn roasts, clam bakes, and what have you.

Taking pictures at night around the campfire is a lot of fun and the results very pleasing and out of the ordinary. Since the introduction of the photoflash lamp there has been a tremendous interest in campfire pictures for this lamp is so simple to operate. The photoflash lamp is similar in appearance to a common electric bulb and can be screwed into a special holder resembling an ordinary hand flashlight tube. These holders are very inexpensive and can be purchased at almost any store selling photographic supplies. The flash is set off by pressing a button, as on an ordinary flashlight, and it gives an intense light without any noise or smoke.

This is how you take a campfire picture. The people should be grouped as close to the fire as comfort will permit. The arrangement of the group can be viewed in the finder of the camera by having someone hold a pocket flashlight or firebrands at each side of the scene. This will indicate just what and who is included in the picture.

And let me warn you—be sure you have everybody in full view in your finder or else in the finished print you may find the decapitated body of a dear friend appearing in the shadows of the night as the reincarnation of that famous character in Washington Irving's "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" — the Headless Horseman — who scared the daylights out of Ichabod Crane.

It is well not to have the fire too bright, nor yet allow it to die down to embers when the picture is made.

With the camera resting on a tripod or firm support, set it at stop f.8 (U. S. 4) or largest opening on slower lens cameras; open the shutter, flash the bulb and then be sure to close the shutter immediately. When using the photoflash bulb, hold it to one side of the camera, and slightly back of it. This position prevents possibility of lens flare from the flash. Here's one simple precaution: —see that the camera is placed where possible smoke from the fire may not be blown towards the lens or between it and the subjects.

Remember, too, it is not necessary to own an expensive camera to take campfire pictures at night. You can take such pictures—and good ones —with a box camera by using the largest stop.

So if you are planning on an outdoor party at night, be sure to be prepared to take some fascinating outdoor photoflash pictures.
