THE Civic Elect[illegible] on Wednesday, the 26th inst.

THE matrimon[illegible] is spreading. There were five w[illegible]ngs at St. Dunstan's Cathedral last Tuesday morning.

DR. BLANCARD acknowledges with thanks the receipt of $25 81, a donation toward the Asylum library fund, made by some gentle[illegible] who visited the Institution yesterday.

WE learn that C. C. Gardiner, Esq., and Dr. Dodd, with their wives, who left the Island last month are now in London, G. B., and will visit Rome and other cities of Europe before returning to the Island in the spring.

MR. REUBEN SPRINGER, of Cincinnati, at Christmas, gave a United States bond for $1000 to each of eight charitable institutions in his city. Each of the faithful servants in his household also received $1000.

WE are informed that there is to be a go-as-you-please pedestrian foot race to take place in Summerside in a few days for a purse of $35,00, and a medal for the championship of P. E. Island. Race to continue for two days—6 hours each day.—Progress.

THE Pacific Mutual Insurance Company of New York, to which reference was made by us last week, as being in trouble, has, we understand, decided to go out of business, reinsured all its outstanding risks, and expects to be able to pay its liabilities in full.

A London despatch says:—"Hanlan and Laycock were both afloat Monday afternoon on the Thames. Ross and Hanlan started from the aqueduct at a racing pace, and passing the 'Star and Garter' Hanlan led by a length. Hanlan and Laycock each had two good pulls on the river on Tuesday, Laycock is much improved.

WE have received from the Secretary, Mr. Jas. D. Seaman, a pamphlet of the "Proceedings of the Convocation of the Educational Association of Prince Edward Island." It is quite interesting, and is for sale at all Book stores price 10 cents. The Secretary will mail a copy of it to any address on receipt of the price [illegible]

CENS[illegible]SIONER.—The Progress says Richard [illegible] Esq., of this town, has been appointe[illegible] the Dominion Government, Chief Ce[illegible] Commissioner for this Province. One enumerator will be appointed for each township in the Island, by Mr. Hunt, who will report to the assistant commissioner, and he in his turn will report to the chief.

AT the Stipendiary Magistrate's Court on Wednesday, the assault case of McAleer vs. Keenan was called. Keenan, the prisoner, did not appear, and we learn his bondsmen were notified that unless Keenan was produced they would be compelled to pay the amount of bail. Keenan left the Island last week.

MR. ANGUS MCMILLAN, of Summerside, wishes to express his thanks to the business men of Georgetown as well as to the Dominion and local officials there, for the prompt and ready assistance rendered to him while loading vessels at that port a couple of weeks ago. He says that if a vessel fails to take in cargo in quick time at Georgetown it is not for lack of ready hands and generous hearts.—Pioneer.

POLICE TELEPHONES.—The usefulness of the telephone in securing attention to duty on the part of policemen, and aiding in the arrest of criminals, has been demonstrated in Chicago. The system has been in operation for three months in one of the worst districts in the city, and has been found satisfactory. It has utterly rooted out loafing by the policemen, has doubled their efficiency, and reduced crime to a minimum. Would it not be well to have it introduced i to this city?

EDWARDS, THE FASTING PRISONER.—Edwards, the fasting prisoner from Houlton jail, has been sent to the Insane Asylum at Augusta. He adheres to his determination to starve himself to death. He began to fast Nov. 30, making thirty-six days up to Tuesday evening. During all this time he has taken only about half a pint of port wine, and a few spoonfuls of milk, which he was forced to swallow last Friday. The Aroostook Pioneer says Edwards "is contrary as a mule, and relenteth not. The doctor visited him Sunday morning and found him growing weaker, with pulse forty and respiration twenty-eight." He has become much emaciated and unless his fast is soon broken it will soon break him.

A CHALLENGE.—Duchemin Bros. publish in the Patriot of to-day a letter on their suit with Mr. Thomas Alley. They say: "We asked for a commission to investigate the true source of the noise but we were refused and submitted to jail for a noise in Alley's house that we do not make; and we challenge Thomas Alley to the only proof that will satisfy the public, viz: Let men be stationed in his house to hear the noise, and in our shop to see that we work our machinery. If they hear any noise from our machinery that will injure the enjoyment of his house we promise to go no further with this suit. If he is actuated by the "Golden Rule," as he says he is, this is an offer that any honest man would be glad to accept."

MR. JOHN E. MCLEAN writes to the Patriot to say that he was not willing in 1877 to carry coal from Pictou to Georgetown for [illegible] per ton. But in his evidence on the [illegible] case, Mr. McLean is reported to have [illegible]

The Meeting at Baldwin's Road.

A meeting of the electors of Lot 51 was held at Baldwin's Road Schoolhouse on Wednesday the 5th inst., for the purpose of discussing the political situation. Mr. Patrick W. McEntyre was called to the chair, and the undersigned appointed Secretary. Hon. D. Ferguson was the first speaker. He reviewed the circumstances under which the country was placed at the time of the last election. He reminded the meeting that the policy on which the present Government was returned was one of retrenchment. That policy he would show them they faithfully carried out. After the last election the Government directed Mr. Hyndman to examine the public accounts. His report showed that the late Government had incurred a debt of $78,000. The sum of $44,000 which should have been paid to the contractors of the Lunatic Asylum in 1878 was brought forward to the next year and had to be paid by the present Government. Some of the most important offices had been amalgamated and the salaries of officials reduced. There were now no sinecures in the Provincial Building. The Government had economized in every department of the public service except such as were beyond their control namely, the cost of Education and of maintaining the Lunatic Asylum. In both of these departments the expenditure had increased. Last year Education had cost $91,000, and this year $95,000 were placed in the estimates for the same purpose. He compared the expenditures of the six years after Confederation, and said that the average was $100,000 in excess of the estimated expenditure for 1880. In issuing precepts against those in arrears to the Land Office, the Government were doing nothing new. The late Government had passed an Order in Council directing their Land Commissioner to pursue the same course, but were too weak to carry out that order. Legal proceedings had not been taken against anyone who had made payments within the last ten years. After Mr. Ferguson had commenced to speak, Mr. Shaw arrived and, having been called on, addressed the meeting. He charged the Government with having dealt harshly towards those in arrears to the Land Office. They had acted illegally in exacting compound interest from these people. They had added nothing of importance to the legislation of the country except the new Road Act and the amalgamation of the College and Normal School. He said he had supported the latter measure, which he believed to be a good one. He defied any administration to repeal the Assessment Act. He said that he did not belong to the Davies Party and would not vote for Hon. L. H. Davies if he were to offer as a candidate in Queen's County, as probably he would at the next election.

Mr. Ferguson replied that in joining the Opposition party Mr. Shaw must bear the responsibility of their acts. The increase on the taxes for the present year was due to the great storm of 1879. Many important public works had been destroyed by that storm, but he was happy to state that all of them had been re built. He pointed out the measures passed by the present Government for which Mr. Shaw had voted, and quoted from one of his speeches in which he said that no Government could be more economical than the present, and whoever would contradict the statement would say what was incorrect. After some further discussion the following resolution was submitted to the meeting:

Moved by Mr. Robert Curran, seconded by Mr. Terrence Cairns, and carried unanimously—

Resolved, That this meeting, having heard the explanations given by their respected Representative, Hon. D. Ferguson, expresses its approval of the economical policy of the present Government and their general administration of public affairs.

A vote of thanks having been given to the Chairman, the meeting, which was very orderly throughout, dispersed.

Notes from Souris.

SOURIS harbor is clear of ice.

A bark and a schooner were seen off here on the 3rd inst.

A bark was seen off North Side on the 5th, and a schooner off East Point heading north.

The owners of the horse Napoleon, are preparing to contest in a trot with any Island bred hores—the best 3 in 5 straight mile heats. As ice is fast making in the Cove, the course will soon be able to carry. We expect to see great bursts of speed this season in Souris.

Quite a number of vessels are in Souris harbor for winter quarters. We see the schooner General Grant owned by Matthew, McLean & Co. Also the schooner Mary M owned by L. Kickham & Co. This is a fine vessel. She was purchased in Boston last August.

The Bark Journal is reported sunk in Arichat.

BY WILL CARLTON.

"Good morning, sir, Mr. Editor, how are the folks to-day?
I owe you for next year's paper—I thought I'd come and pay;
And Jones is goin' to take it, and this is his money here;
I shut down lending it to him, and coaxed
him to try it a year.

"And here's a few little items that happened
last week in our town;
I thought they'd look good for the paper, so I just jotted 'em down.
And here is a basket of peaches my wife
picked expressly for you,
And a small bunch of flowers from Jennie—
she thought sh must send something, too.

"You're doing the politics bully, as all of our family agree;
Just keep your old goose quill a flappin' and give them a good one for me.
And now you are chockful of business, and I won't be taking your time;
I've things of my own I must tend to—good day, sir; I believe I will climb."

The editor sat in his sanctum, and brought down his fist with a thump;
"God bless that old farmer," he muttered;
"he's a jolly old trump."
And 'tis thus with our noble profession, and thus it will ever be still;
There are some who appreciate its labor, and some who perhaps never will;
But in the great time that is coming, when Gabriel's trumpet shall sound,
And they who have labored and rested shall come from the quivering ground;
When they who have striven and suffered to teach and enoble the race Shall march at the head of the column, each one in his God-given place;
As they march through the gates of the city
with proud and victorious tread,
The editor and his assistants will travel not far from the head.

At Woolwich, 980 men and 620 horses completed embarking in three steamers for the Transvaal, and proceeded to sea today.

The Duke of Cambridge, Commander-in-Chief, in bidding the troops farewell, said: "It was the wish of the Queen that the soldiers should make a mild use of their victories in South Africa."

It is understood that telegraphs to the same effect have been sent to Petermaritzburg and to Bombay, whence the contingent from India will embark to-day for South Africa.

A Dutch correspondent writes to the "Pall Mall Gazette" that the suggestion of a Rotterdam paper that members of the Red Cross Society be dispatched to Transvaal to aid the wounded Boers, had been received with lively sympathy.

A Strong Land Bill Demanded.

A Plot to Assassinate Bradlaugh.

NEW YORK, Jan 11.

A London special says: Mr. Shaw was expected to curse Land League in his speech, but instead of that he blessed it, saying that it was the only salvation of the country. His description of the condition of the peasantry in the West of Ireland was startling and sensational and surprised those Irish members who were present.

Mr. Shaw spoke of some of the Connaught farmers as rotting on their farms. The speech will be a material help to the Land League, which is now demanding a strong land bill. Mr. Parnell entered the House near the close of Shaw's address, and was loudly cheered.

LONDON, Jan. 11.

The authorities sent a detective yesterday to Bradlaugh to inform him that they were in possession of sworn information that there was a plot to assassinate him.

The person who gave the information stated that he had overheard a party of foreigners arranging to kill Bradlaugh on his way home from the House of Commons.

The Blood-Sweating Boy.

A somewhat remarkable case of purpura hæmorrhagia, more commonly known as "sweating blood," has come to light, the victim being Willie Crawford, the fourteen year old son of Captain William Crawford, the tug owner. The first symptoms were bleeding at the nose—first noticed seven years ago last summer. This was stopped, but the stoppage was followed by an eruption of great black patches which bled profusely. Blood also flowed from his mouth, eyes and stomach, and once from his bladder and kidneys. He recovered from his first attack, but it was only to be prostrated by others. He bled from all parts of the body, became very weak, and his taste was so affected that he could only eat with great difficulty. The blood apparently issued from every pore in his body, though the discharges were without pain, and, until the last attack, without fever. About three weeks ago he was suddenly taken down with the worst attack in the long series, bleeding so much that his blood became thin and reduced in quality. His whole mouth was covered with large blood blisters and he became weaker and weaker day by day. One rather remarkable feature of the case is that these attacks have sometimes been produced or stopped by some sudden excitement. With all the medical treatment he has had, the young sufferers seems to have gone through about the same sort of experience as that related of the woman in the Scriptures, who employed doctor after doctor and was not bettered, but rather made worse. In this case one doctor pronounced it scurvy, and another prescribed mineral acids, while another, who got the name of the disease right, seems to have succeeded no better than the others in prescribing the proper remedy—if, indeed, one is known. At present the boy is in somewhat better shape than usual, the only apparent marks of the disease being a large spot on the left arm, the widely distended nostrils, which have been enlarged by constant plugging, the bloated face and eyes, and a general complaint of weakness and want of appetite. Proceeding upon the discovery that sudden excitement promotes and intensifies the disease, if, indeed, it does not produce it, though the causes of the disease are said by medical men to be as yet absolutely unknown, it has been, perhaps, sensibly suggested, that the boy be removed to the quiet of the country, and this, it is quite likely, will be done. The last doctor who had him, while claiming to have wrought a cure, admits that it is only temporary and doesn't undertake to say when there may be a relapse. The treatment during the last attack was the administration of secale and phosphorus in homœopathic doses, and the doctor professes to believe that there are grounds for hoping that the boy will eventually outgrow the disease, and, as eighteen months have elapsed between the previous and this last attack, that a still longer period will elapse before another occurs. In the comparatively few cases on record, the sweating of blood seems to have been occasioned by some great mental excitement, but in this particular case—at least in its origin—there appears to have been nothing of that kind.

A despatch from Constantinople to the Times says that the Port has wired its representatives abroad explaining its objections to arbitration of the Greek question. Another Constantinople despatch says:—"The Porte has despatched a note to the Powers setting forth arguments against arbitration and proposing that a meeting of delegates of the Powers, including Turkey and Greece, be held at Constantinople to fix the Greek frontier." The Times' Constantinople despatch announces that the representatives of the Powers have renewed their recommendation that the Port should submit to arbitration, but it is not probable that the Porte will adopt the recommendation.

A bashful young man escorted an equally bashful young lady to her home. As they approached the dwelling of the damsel, she said entreatingly, 'Zekil, don't tell anybody you saw me home.' 'Sary,' said he emphatically, 'don' you mind; I am as much ashamed of it as you are!'

'Any letter for me?' asked a young lady of the female post-master in a country town. 'No,' was the reply. 'Strange,' said the young lady aloud to herself as she turned away. 'Nothing strange about it,' cried the female post-master through the delivery window; 'you ain't ans'ered the last letter he writ ye!'

DIED.

Suddenly, at the residence of his son, Hunter River Mr. Philip Hughes, aged 94 years. He emigrated to this country from County Armagh, Ireland, in 1834, being then 47 years of age, a great part of which time he spent in England and Scotland. He followed farming in this country, and was enabled to retire in 1865 with a competency. He was even healthy and fond of working to his last years. He was one of the very few who kept the "Father Matthew" pledge strictly until his death. He leaves two sons and sixteen grandchildren to mourn his death.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."

REPORT on the LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY:

"We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality.
