

CHILDREN

Are they troubled with headaches? Are the lessons hard for them to learn? Are they pale, listless and indifferent? Do they get thin and all run down toward spring? If so,

Scott's Emulsion will do grand things for them. It keeps up the vitality, enriches the blood, strengthens mind and body. The buoyancy and activity of youth return.

The Eyes Feed the Brain.

Parents who neglect their children's eyes are more cruel than the Chinese, who encase the feet of their little ones. One dwarfs the feet—the other stunts the mind. When we adjust glasses study becomes a pleasure.

NOME.

Standing on the deck of the steamship "Tacoma," among eight hundred passengers as she pulled away from the City of Nome, on Tuesday, the 14th of August, 1900, I, for the first time in my life, imagined I felt the poetic inspiration rising within me, and I then and there pulled out my pencil and wrote the following lines. The production may not be poetry, not even decent rhyme, but it has the merit of being my honest opinion of the place, and I believe of nearly every person who spent the summer there.

J. H. FLETCHER.

Thou magic city of the frozen north,
Black spot upon the midnight sun
Wistfully sought for, but of little worth;
Gladly, we from thy precincts run,
And thus escape
The wretched fate
Of those who hope great wealth to make.

O, Nome! Thou Mecca of the miners' hope,
Base deceiver, built upon a lie;
Already thou hast stretched the hempen rope
Its full length: thou shalt hastily die,
And meet the fate
Of the ingrate
Who basely robs the small and great.

O, Nome! Thou wretched blot upon the face
Of all the Arctic's boundless waste,
Thou hast promised much to all the race.
Then fleeced them to the Queen's own taste.
And I am one
Who'll always shun
Thy muddy streets till time is done.

What plans thou hadst formed, that when inflamed,
The crowds came rushing to thy shore—
Thou'd sell thy worthless tundra claims
And stock thy tills with gold galore;
But, oh, sad sight,
They didn't bite,
But left thee in a sadder plight.

O, Nome! Behold the wrecks upon thy beach,
The millions scattered everywhere—
Grim monuments of the "sour dough" leach,
Who throngs thy streets and breathes thy air.
The tents and tools
In auction stores
Attest the dupes who flocked thy shores.

City of sharks and crooks, of dives and rougns,
Of buncoes, thieves and thugs and hell—
Of suicides, of murders and of rougns
We bid thee now a long farewell.
Then let us pray
That those who stay
May find some means to get away

Thou basest city of the frigid zone
As cold as hearts that thus beguiled
"Chee—chacos" to thy tundra, O, Nome!
Thou standest now defamed, defiled.
Then tarry us on,
"Tacoma," on
To our loved homes in Oregon.

Why should we leave a land of fruits and flowers,
To seek for gold in thy dark soil?
Why seek a home amidst thy chilly showers,
And spend our days in useless toil?
While we can run
Beneath the sun,
And shout, "There rolls the Oregon."

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50 cent size bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It contains over three times as much as the old 25 cent style, which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equaled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have told Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1891.

As a family remedy it has been used and endorsed for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments. Internal as much as External.
Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. J. B. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

OUR FOREIGN FRIENDS.

Does Great Britain remember how shocked it was to see us rejoicing in victory over so small a rival as Spain?—Chicago Record.

The present French ministry has been in power about a year, which is a green old age as French cabinets have been going.—New York Post.

It is stated that the empress dowager of China is in a bad temper. That is enough to give a lot of oriental statesmen a pain in the neck.—New York Sun.

Russia, it is said, will fall to pieces after one great defeat in battle. None of her critics seems inclined, however, to teach her the lesson of a great defeat.—San Francisco Call.

It certainly won't be the fault of impatient war correspondents if Russia and Japan are not led to see that the only hope for peace and quiet lies in a speedy truce to a finish.

A Tonic Needless.
Mrs. Hohmboddie—John, dear, while you're down town I wish you'd just call and pay the milliner—$17 the bill is, but if you give her $10—

Mr. Hohmboddie—I'd rather settle it in full.

Mrs. Hohmboddie—Well, but I want you to bring me six yards of that lovely stuff from Matchem's—I'll get you the pattern—and that will take the other $7. Then I'll just make a memorandum of the trimmings, that will be about $3 more, and if you love me you know the kind of gloves I want. You've bought them often enough. Now, dear boy, you won't forget?

Mr. Hohmboddie—No, I'll remember; and, by the way, I'll take my tonic bottle along and get it renewed. I've felt quite run down of late.

Mrs. Hohmboddie—Your tonic? Why, that costs $1.50! It seems just like throwing money in the street to pay for medicine. Don't you think you could get along without it?—Judge.

C. C. RICHARDS & Co.

Dear Sirs,—For some years I have had only partial use of my arm, caused by a sudden strain. I have used every remedy without effect, until I got a small bottle of MINAR'S LINIMENT. The benefit I received from it caused me to continue its use, and now I am happy to say my arm is completely restored.
