FASCINATING FUN & DINING

In a World of Holiday Hospitality

Ski Slopes, Skating, Bowling, Dances, Shows, Restaurants All Beckon

By MAUREN DRISCOLL

Christmas holiday time is ideal for fun and sports once the thrills of exchanging gifts have been experienced and church-goers have completed their Christmas devotional programs.

What to do with those extra days away from the office or the classroom should be no problem for any Islander who'll be surrounded with gay activity from the start to the end of the holiday season.

The outdoor species should have no logical complaints to register when it comes to what to do with spare time. Most, if not all, Island rinks will be open and operating next week. Whether you're a whiz on skates or a once-arounder, at least one visit to your local rink or forum arena (which ever name fits) ought to add to your holiday fun.

Skating arm in arm with your favorite beau, while dreamy notes of "The Skaters Waltz" float over the ice could be an event to remember. Or, how about the whole family going skating—If it's something you haven't done in years—shame on you, think of the fun you're missing. Maybe Mom and Dad could show the kids some tricks. Maybe skating rates high on your list of fun activities. If so there are some fine ski resorts that can accommodate the whole family for as long as you so desire. If you long to feel the thrill of sliding over hills, a d whizzing through space as the lift carries you back to the top to do it all over again—this is the time.

Curling is another great sport—if you've always been too timid to try it, here's your chance. With this happy holiday spirit making the rounds feel free to try your luck at something new to you. Surely Mom would like a chance to use a broom for something other than sweeping out the dust. Junior put under the rug. After a few ends of curling don't be surprised if you catch her practicing sweeping the rock down the ice in the kitchen. To many people curling is an old favorite and they too are sure to enjoy it as much as any new comer to the game.

With all the hills and valleys on the Island, a toboggan party should be fun. With toboggans coming in larger sizes every day the whole family could pile on one and zoom down the hill. On one sled, races could add to the fun with the loser pulling the winner back up the hill.

Could be you're the type who prefers indoor sport. Bands and orchestras here and throughout the province will be providing music for all lovers of dancing. Whether you prefer to do the monkey or a ballroom waltz there is sure to be a dance somewhere to fill the bill and make your holidays more fun. Youngsters and oldersters alike will surely be missing out on lots of fun if they fail to join in kicking up their heels and feeling the gaiety of the season in a merry holiday dance.

Local theatres will also be running movies special for the holiday movie-goer. If you're tired out after the rush and bustle of Christmas, you can relax in a softly upholstered chair and be entertained by cartoons, newsreels and what have you as actors and actresses make a story come alive before your eyes. If it's a bit too cold for the youngsters to be outside what about the movies?

Another indoor sport which can be enjoyed by the whole family is bowling. The sound of falling pins as you make that all important strike will be a joy to all on the team. The province has a number of new bowling alleys where an evening's entertainment can be had at any time.

Whatever sport or activity you take part in your sure to work up a healthy appetite. Why not give Mom a well deserved break from the kitchen and take her out to dinner at one of the fine restaurants or hotel dining rooms that are so numerous throughout the Island? A dinner served by candlelight where she can get a chance to show off that new dress to its best advantage might be an answer to a prayer. Some Moms might prefer something less formal, if so you could try some of the fine drive-in restaurants.

Hangings Wait Fate Of Bill

LONDON (Reuters) — Home Secretary Sir Frank Soskice has hinted there will be no more hangings in Britain pending final action on a bill now before Parliament to abolish capital punishment for murder.

The bill was approved Monday in the House of Commons, where it is now in committee and must get a third and final reading before it goes to the House of Lords.

PARKING RISK

BRIGHTON, England (CP) — A car left overnight in a Brighton street was found by its owner to have been stripped of all moveable parts.

MOVIE AT THE CAPITOL

Judy Nugent, 12-year-old protégée of "Rock" Hudson, plays an important role in

"Magnificent Obsession," the holiday fare at the Capitol Theatre here, and is seen here with Jane Wyman, the demeline star in the Lloyd C. Douglas story.

Pope is Alarmed At Arms Buildup

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) — Pope Paul VI, in his Christmas message tonight called for world peace and human brotherhood and spoke out against racialism.

The Roman Catholic pontiff expressed alarm at tendencies 'to build up stockpiles of weapons ever more powerful and destructive.'

He urged governments 'to promote, prudently and unanimously, the process of disarmament.'

The Pope renewed his Bombay appeal to countries to divert at least part of their military expenditure to help the poor and hungry and especially developing countries.

The Pope declared: 'Another obstacle that raises its head again is racism, which separates and opposes the different branches constituting the great human family.'

Racism results 'in pride, mistrust, exclusivism, discrimination and sometimes even oppression, thus ruining the mutual respect and due esteem which ought to turn the diverse ethnic groups into a peaceful concert of brotherly peoples,' he said.

AWARE OF OBSTACLES

'We are not unaware of the obstacles which stand in the way of human brotherhood, and it is with sorrow we observe that at the present moment we are passing through a period in which they appear more clearly in evidence, and prove themselves at times to be dangerously effective.'

'First of all there is a nationalism which divides peoples, putting them in opposition to one another, raising up among them barriers of conflicting ideologies that produce closed outlooks, exclusive interests and self-sufficient ambitions. If not greedy and overbearing forms of imperialism.

'This enemy of human brotherhood is today gaining strength. It had appeared to have been at least virtually overthrown by the tragic experiences of the last

WORLD WAR IS RISING ANEW

'We appeal to governments and peoples to be watchful and to the tactics instilled of prestige and rivalry, for it can once again prove fatal.'

On the arms race, he said: 'We cannot help being alarmed at a militarism no longer focused on the legitimate defence of the countries concerned or on the maintenance of world peace, but tending rather to build up stockpiles of weapons ever more powerful and destructive.'
