Cough medicines, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is in greater demand than ever. No preparation for Throat and Lung Troubles is so prompt in its effects, so agreeable to the taste, and so widely known, as this. It is the family medicine in thousands of households.

"I have suffered for years from a bronchial trouble that, whenever I take cold or am exposed to inclement weather, shows itself by a very annoying tickling sensation in the throat and by difficulty in breathing. I have tried a great many remedies, but none does so well as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral which always gives prompt relief in return for my old complaint."—Ernest A. Hepler, Inspector of Public Roads, Parish Terre Bonne, La.

"I consider Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy

For Home Use.

I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults."—Mrs. E. G. Edgerly, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

"Twenty years ago I was troubled with a disease of the lungs. Doctors afforded me no relief and considered my case hopeless. I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had finished one bottle, found relief. I continued to take this medicine until a cure was effected. I believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—Samuel Griggs, Waukegan, Ill.

"Six years ago I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and soon developed all the alarming symptoms of Consumption. I had a cough, night sweats, bleeding of the lungs, pains in chest and sides, and was so prostrated as to be confined to my bed most of the time. After trying various prescriptions, without benefit, my physician finally determined to give me Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took it, and the effect was magical. I seemed to rally from the first dose of this medicine, and, after using only three bottles, am as well and sound as ever."—Rodney Johnson, Springfield, Ill.

Notes and Clippings.

—Heavy frost in some parts of Nebraska and Minnesota, did considerable damage to the corn crop, one night last week.

—Those fishermen who were lucky enough to obtain license made as much money in four weeks' salmon in July and August fishing on Fraser River, C. B., as a well paid mechanic makes in a year or fifteen months. The highest amount earned by any fisherman on the river was made by an Indian who fished for Ewen's cannery. In one month, says the Columbian, this man caught 14,000 fish, for which Mr. Ewen paid him in cash $1,400—an average of over $50 per day for every day's fishing. Other fishermen earned from $600 to $1,200 during the same period.

—An effort is being made to repopulate Vermont with Swedes. It appears that Vermont, though enjoying the utmost of free trade with "the markets of the 60 millions of people right at our doors," over which the Brits were at one time in such ecstatic fervor, is rapidly losing its population. To such an extent has the "exodus" from Vermont gone on, that at the present time the official estimate is that there are 200,000 acres of cultivated land in the State growing up into wilderness. And still the exodus goes on. To prevent the State from becoming wholly depopulated, it is proposed to import Swedes and settle them on the vacant farms. But there are those who doubt the success of the scheme, and intimate that after the Swedes are brought to Vermont they will not likely stay there, but will seek new homes on the fertile plains of the Canadian North-west.

—The Montreal Witness publishes an instructive little paragraph. It is to this effect: "On a recent trip of one of the Mackinac and Sault steamers, the Rev. Father Kavanagh, S. J., of Montreal, being the only clergyman on board, was asked by the passengers, about 70 in number, and exclusively Protestant, to conduct divine service on Sunday. He complied and preached a thoroughly evangelical and much appreciated Gospel sermon, for which he received the thanks of the audience conveyed by formal resolution. There are, remarks the Empire, occasions when the common christianity which unites us all, is allowed to assert itself. The theological controversies that flourish on land are frequently known to dissolve into nothingness at sea, where the presence of danger and the restless elements uncontrolled by human power, beget a tolerance which is not without its effects.

—Within the past few months the Canadian Pacific Railway have been making very great changes in the construction of their locomotives, and are entirely doing away with their lighter grade, which a short time ago were so popular. Formerly a freight locomotive that could haul eighteen cars was considered to be a powerful one, whereas now the new engines can haul with ease thirty loaded cars. The new engines are ten wheelers instead of six, and combine great strength with increased speed. Two of these were built in the early spring by this road for passenger service, and so well have they turned out that the Mechanical Superintendent has recently received an order to build twelve more both for freight and passenger service, and they are now busily engaged working upon them in the shops. These ten wheelers are considered superior even to the Mogul on account of the ease with which they turn sharp curves, and by their being able to run longer before being sent to the shop for repairs, besides being about as powerful, so for these and other reasons the road in question is putting them by degrees into general use.

—It was one of the teachings of Slavery that a colored woman had no virtue to be protected; and one of the chief misfortunes of the negro in the south to-day is the persistence of this sentiment. While the laws in all the Southern States make it a felony to intermarry between the races, public sentiment has allowed the concubinage of a colored woman to go unpunished, and such women have not been excluded from most colored churches, partly as a protest against the law which discriminates so severely against virtuous relationships. A number of negroes in Memphis, Tenn., have caused half a dozen white men to be indicted for living regularly with colored mistresses. Several cases have been dismissed, but there are indictments against three such men; and under the law they might be convicted, be imprisoned for a term or from 1 to 5 years. This action of the colored men made quite an excitement, and they were called "black caps," and it looked for a while as if there might be a "white cap" attack made on them; but when it was found that nothing more was proposed by the colored men than to bring indictments in the courts, the talk of violence subsided. It is certainly an atrocious condition of things, that no notice is taken of it by the public so long as a white man and a colored woman live together in sin, while, should they marry, lynching would be almost inevitable, and the states prison sure if they escaped the noose. The Memphis movement may well spread elsewhere, so long as it is made simply an agreement among certain men to combine their influence and efforts in enforcing the law, and removing the stain upon the reputation and character of colored women. The churches of a better character have been for years giving their help, as are those under the influence of Northern missionary bodies.

"Some years ago Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured me of asthma after the best medical skill had failed to give me relief. A few weeks since, being much troubled with the disease, I was promptly relieved by the same remedy."—F. L. Hassler, Editor Ayer's Table Record, Neb.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

City Neglect.

SIR,—If repairs to those streets where councillors neither reside nor hold property or other personal interests, would not be a violation of any city law or ordinance, I think the south side of Douglass Street is entitled to at least some consideration at the hands of the Council. The sidewalk is somewhat in the same state as when the original stumps were removed, hills, hollows and break-neck angles, and in wet seasons, such as the approaching fall, will be almost impassable because of mud and mire. The pump is situated on this side of the street and the traffic consequently greater than on the opposite side, where there has been a platform for several years. This matter has been brought to the notice of the former city surveyor and the present incumbent, besides sundry members of the council have been stonily importuned to take the matter in hand.

If the work is not looked after at once it will be safe to assume that the residents are expected to do the work themselves and bill the city for the costs.

Respectfully yours,
A. RESIDENT.

Douglass Street, Sep. 11, 1889.

Pownal Notes.

The farmers of this section have about finished cutting the harvest which, owing to the unprecedented fine weather is nearly all housed, and the well filled barns and numerous stacks indicate the thrift and prosperity of the community. But there will be a marked shortage in the oat crop, due to the injurious effects of the blight and rust. The wheat crop has also suffered from the same cause and we fear the potato crop will be a light one.

We are glad to learn that Dr. D. McLeod, who has been unwell for a short time and who is now rusticiating at the home of his youth, is rapidly being restored to health again and will soon be able to resume his practice.

It was our privilege to attend last Lord's Day the services held in the Methodist Church, of which the Rev. George Steel is the deservedly esteemed and popular pastor. The subject for the day was "Baptism," divided under two heads, viz.: "The subject of, and the mode or form of Baptism." In the forenoon the rev. gentleman took for his text Matthew xix, ch. 14 v., and in a concise and well delivered address, proved very clearly and forcibly from Scripture, that infants or children are proper subjects for Baptism. There was a large congregation.

As Mr. Steel announced that the Rev. A. A. McKenzie would preach in the Church at Birch Hill at 2.30 we decided to go, and as we always like to be on time, especially at a place of worship, started early. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid, so it would be hard to hide this handsome little church. Soon its tall and shapely spire came into view. After climbing the hill we found ourselves inside the church, and comfortably seated, we must say just here that this is a very neat and commodious church, and reflects great credit on all concerned. The rev. gentleman took for his text, Nos. 6, ch. 24, 25 and 26 v., and preached a good Gospel sermon. This was the first time for Mr. McKenzie to preach in this part and he made a very good impression.

At six o'clock we found ourself again inside the Pownal Methodist Church, and secured a good seat. It was evident (for the people came thick and fast) there would be a large congregation. In his we were not mistaken, for shortly after the pastor entered the pulpit the church was crowded to the very doors, and in fact there was quite a number seated and standing outside. Soon the organ pealed forth its silvery notes and the service began, and in justice to the choir I must say that at both these services it has seldom been our good fortune to listen to sweeter music or better singing. As before mentioned, the subject for this evening's service was "The scriptural mode or form of baptism." Mr. Steel took for his text, par. of the first chapter of 1st Cor., and for over an hour held his audience in breathless attention. The rev. gentleman appeared quite at home with his subject, which he handled in an able manner.

We would call the attention of the fisheries department to the Pownal Bay oyster beds. Poachers from Charlottetown, and others, have been there the last two or three days picking and raking up the oysters. Are the wardens asleep? Some of the "natives" have been hauled up before now for picking a few for a sick person in the close season. It is high time a warden was appointed for the north side of the bay. If the wardens don't look after these poachers, we will look after them and the poachers, too.

POWNAL.

Pownal, Sept. 10, 1889.

Consumption Can Be Cured

By proper, healthful exercise, and the judicious use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites, which contains the healing and health-giving virtues of these two valuable specifics in their fullest form. Dr. D. D. McDonald, Pettoitidae, N. B., says:—"I have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion with good results. It is especially useful in persons of consumptive tendencies." Sold by Druggists, 50c. and $1.00

SUFFERERS from indigestion, loss of appetite liver or kidney complaints, rheumatism or neuralgia, would do well to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. For all such disorders, no medicine is so effective as this, when faithfully and perseveringly used.
