In the Nova Scotia glass works at New Glasgow, 150 hands are employed, and no less a sum than $1,000 is paid out weekly as wages. After all, the men and the money might as well remain in the country.
This morning, the Revs. H. P. Cowperthwaite, Professor Burwash, and W. E. Dawson, Esq., left to attend the Methodist Conference to open at St. Stephen, N. B., on Wednesday next. The Union Question will be discussed; and will probably be decided in the affirmative.

MAGDALEN ISLAND reports of the 19th inst., state the winter has been here cold and severe. April has been somewhat finer than May, which has been, as well as June up to the 15th, cold, cloudy and foggy generally. The shore seal fishery has been a total failure, and our twenty-seven schooners have done little or nothing, but two or three of them. No wrecks since last fall but a Miramichi bark, which got off by lightening herself a few days since. Our island herring has been an almost total failure, vessels having gone to Anticosti and got their load. Mackerel has been remunerative to a few of our fishermen, although many have had little or no success after all diligence.
THE Methodist District meeting of P. E. Island was held at Tryon on the 20th inst. All the members resident on the Island were present. Reports of the work of the past year were presented, showing an increase in membership subscriptions, etc. A public meeting was held on the evening of the same day in the interests of the Educational Society of the Methodist Church. Able addresses were delivered by Rev. John T. Allan, H. J. Baker and Professor Burwash. On the following day the laymen assembled in goodly numbers; and the business connected with the church was satisfactorily arranged. The great kindness shown to all the members of the district by the people of Tryon was the subject of general remark.
WE deeply regret to learn that the Rev. Father McGillivray is much worse to-day. The many enquirers at the Palace learned that small hopes are entertained of his recovery; and his grieving parishioners are sorrowfully assured that they have seen him for the last time exercise his priestly office. In their great sorrow they are not alone. For among all denominations there exists the same sympathy for them and him. Yesterday, at St. Peter's Church, the Rev. Mr. King, from the altar, asked for the prayers of the congregation for Father McGillivray, and we feel assured that from many hearts an earnest prayer has gone up to God to spare him, if it be His good will, and if not, to support and strengthen him in his last journey.
THE Association Meeting on Sunday afternoon was largely devoted to the temperance question. The Rev. Mr. Whitman spoke out boldly on the present state of affairs in Charlottetown. The Stipendiary Magistrate, the police—those whose duty it is and who are appointed to enforce the laws—are aware that this law is daily and openly violated; and, for some unaccountable reason, they refuse to act. Drunkenness is terribly prevalent. On the Holy Sabbath day, and within the space of one hour, he counted nine young men reeling on the street. Mr. Hiles stated that the temperance men had, for the moment, withdrawn from taking an active part, in order to give those in authority an opportunity of doing their duty. The good-thinking, the pious, the educated, control public opinion in this city, and it is just as well for those who are placed in authority to know it. The meeting had a good effect on the large audience assembled.

The western bound express on the Grand Trunk Railway left the rails a short distance east of Brockville, Ont., on Friday evening last. The express, baggage and post office cars rolled down an embankment. The first named car was smashed to atoms and the other two badly wrecked. Two first class coaches and a Pullman also turned partly over, but were not much damaged. The dining car and engine alone kept the rails. Strange to say no one was seriously injured, although several were badly shaken and bruised. The rails spreading caused the accident.
The protest recently sent by the Pope to President Grey, in regard to church matters in France, is couched in an amicable though firm tone. His Holiness points out the painful position of the church in France because of the policy of the republic during the last few years. He says that laws hostile to the church are now being prepared. He hopes that the pacific assurances given by France at various times really signify a desire to avoid a painful conflict which would be equally disastrous to both Church and State. He requests President Grey to use his high influence to prevent such a conflict.

Among the items in the estimate of expenses for the Duke of Edinburgh's special mission to Moscow is £1,000 for "gratuities." People who think that this amount is exorbitant will perhaps change their opinion on learning that when the Emperor Nicholas visited the Queen at Windsor Castle in 1844, he gave £2,000 to the servants and £1,000 to the housekeeper, as well as six gold snuff boxes, with his picture set in diamonds, to the lords of the household, and six with his cipher to the equerries and grooms in waiting. These were the chief gifts, but for the other dependants about a babel of rings, watches, and broaches were distributed. When the late Emperor Napoleon stayed at Windsor in 1855, he left £1,500 for the servants.
