Young Women's Guild Meeting

*Mrs. Malcolm MacKenzie presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Montague, held at the Manse, Monday evening, April 11. There were fourteen members and one visitor present.

The meeting opened with the hymn "Simply Trusting". The scripture lessons were read by Mrs. Lorne Johnston and Mrs. MacKenzie, followed by prayer by Mrs. S. D. Reid.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Claude Nicholson, and were adopted as read. Mrs. John MacKenzie reported for the sick committee. It was deeply regretted that the president, Mrs. Percy Myers, was ill in the P. E. I. Hospital. Mrs. Lorne Wigginton, reported that her committee had purchased yarn and print cotton and this material was given out to the members. Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Alex MacDougall were appointed in charge of the work committee for next month.

The financial report was read by the treasurer, Mrs. Byron Stewart. On motion a sum of money was voted towards the church's building fund. An invitation to meet at the home of Mrs. H. Smith next month was accepted. Mrs. James Shaw and Mrs. John Leland Nelson were appointed on the devotional committee and Mrs. John MacKenzie and Mrs. John Gaudet were appointed on the lunch committee. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and lunch was served by hostess, assisted by Mrs. Claude Nicholson and Mrs. Roy Clow.

Fire Yesterday in Tenement at Souris

At noon yesterday fire broke out in a double tenement house at Souris owned by Frank MacDonald, and occupied by Gae Cheverie and J. Dunphy as tenants.

The fire was discovered by young Jimmy Cheverie, the son of one of the tenants, who smelled smoke and rushed upstairs to find the place on fire.

The quick response of the Souris Fire Department prevented a great deal of damage which was confined to the second floor. The origin of the fire is unknown. It was understood that the loss is partly covered by insurance.

Teachers Attend Banquet At Local Centre

"That public relations should be cultivated by teachers and parents so that our schools can do better work," was emphasized by Dr. S. R. Laycock at a banquet held at the Community Centre last night by the Prince Edward Island Teachers' Federation.

The teachers were honoured in having as their guests His Honor, Lt.-Governor Prowse, Premier A. W. Matheson, Mayor J. D. Stewart and Dr. Lloyd Shaw, deputy minister of education.

Dr. Laycock said that the work of teachers was not interpreted to the public as it should be. He suggested that instead of report cards, meetings should be held with the parents to discuss the pupil's progress and devise means of overcoming his weakness. He felt that parents were extremely ill-informed by use of report cards.

As an example he took the case of two or more children in the same family where one would bring home better marks than the other. The result quite often would be that the pupil having the lower marks would be criticized for not coming up to his brother or sister but at the same time he was not given praise for the subjects in which he had shown good promise.

"The public determines what a school will be like," said Dr. Laycock, "schools are no better than the public on which they depend. We should have more co-operation between teachers and public so that they will know why a certain subject is taught and just exactly what is trying to be accomplished."

He suggested that pamphlets on different subjects would be a help to the parents as a help to better understanding of the subject being taught. "If we improve public opinion in our schools, we will be able to do a better job," concluded the speaker.

Queensland, one of the six Australian states, produced a record sugar yield of 1,250,000 tons in 1954.

Montague Lady's 90th Birthday

*Mrs. A. J. MacLeod, Montague who celebrated her 90th birthday on Saturday last, was guest of honor at an afternoon tea given by her daughters, Mrs. Ethan Stewart, Mrs. D. C. Schurman and Mrs. Russell Moore at the home of Mrs. Stewart.

The dining room and living room were tastefully decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. Callum Bruce poured tea while Mrs. L. A. Johnston, Mrs. H. Smith, Miss Mary Martin, Miss Charlotte Fraser and Miss Adah MacGregor assisted in serving. Guests were met at the door by the Misses Sandra Stewart and Myrna Beck. During the afternoon Mrs. A. J. MacLeod's favorite piano selections and Mrs. William Garrick sang a solo "In the Garden."

Mrs. MacLeod is to be congratulated on her continued good health and the full enjoyment of all her faculties and on being able to assist with many household duties.

A poem was composed in her honor by her niece, Mrs. W. A. Bruce, Valleyfield, and read in the afternoon.

Make Progress In Austrian Treaty Talks

By SIDNEY WEILAND

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Soviet and Austrian leaders expressed confidence Wednesday night their current talks on a state treaty for Austria will succeed, but both sides emphasized the final steps to a pact depend on Four-Power agreement.

The impression mounted here that Russia will try to avoid obstacles to an independence treaty to demonstrate her desire for a Great Power conference on other outstanding East-West issues.

To Unveil Monuments Board Plaques During The Summer

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell, representative of the National Historic Sites and Monuments Board for Prince Edward Island, has asked the general manager of the Charlottetown Centennial Committee, Mr. Walthen Gaudet, to name the time and place at which the unveiling of plaques to the memory of three of Prince Edward Island's famous sons will take place.

Mr. Gaudet is now able to announce that the plaque honouring Sir Andrew Macphail will be unveiled at Prince of Wales College on July 11, at 8:00 p.m. The speaker on that occasion will be Group Captain H. R. Stewart, Ottawa. A plaque to the memory of Franklin K. Lane will be unveiled at DeSable on August 28 at 3:00 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. Justice J. W. Estey of the Supreme Court of Canada.

A third plaque to the memory of Hon. David Laird will be unveiled at New Glasgow at a date to be fixed. The speaker for this occasion has not yet been named.

Sir Andrew Macphail, noted Island author, was born at Orwell in 1864 and educated at Prince of Wales College and McGill University. He was a professor at McGill in 1907 and became a Fellow in 1909. He was appointed Cavendish lecturer in 1917. His contributions to the encouragement of literature was material and he was well and favourably known on this continent and Great Britain for his essays and literary criticisms. In the medical field, he was a member of the Royal College of Surgeons of Great Britain; a licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians (London), and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. He died in 1938.

Hon. David Laird, journalist and politician was born at New Glasgow, P. E. I. in 1833. He attended the Presbyterian Theological College in Halifax but decided to go into journalism and for a number of years was editor of The Patriot. He was elected to the Prince Edward Island Assembly in 1871. He was one of those who opposed Confederation in 1864 but was later an Island delegate when this Province entered Confederation in 1873. He was regarded by Sir John A. Macdonald as the leader of the Island members in the House of Commons to which he was elected in 1873.

His refusal to support Sir John in the Pacific Scandal crisis was one of the chief factors in the fall of the Macdonald Government. From 1873-1876 Mr. Laird was Minister of the Interior in the MacKenzie Administration. In 1876, he was appointed Lieutenant Governor of the North West Territories and at the termination of this office he returned to Charlottetown. His appointment as Indian Commissioner for the North West Territories, Manitoba and Keewatin took place in 1898, a position which he held until the time of his death in 1914.

Franklin Knight Lane was born at DeSable, Prince Edward Island on July 15, 1864. After leaving this Province he graduated from the University of California in 1886 and subsequently practised law in San Francisco. In 1905 he was appointed by President Theodore Roosevelt a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and was retained in that office by President Taft, serving for eight years. In 1913 he entered the cabinet of President Wilson as Secretary of the Interior. During his term of office the wealth of Alaska was made more accessible by the construction of a government railway. To the Indians he gave special attention, maintaining that perpetual tutelage was wrong. He was a strong advocate of development of national resources and conservation. Resigning his post in 1920, he died the following year in Rochester, Minnesota.
