

four millions of thalers (15,000,000f). The commercial cities of Germany, particularly Berlin and Hamburg, will be sufferers by this event. The trees planted at this time last year in Taymouth Park by the Queen and Prince Albert, are flourishing beautifully. The oak planted by the Queen has already made a shoot of eight inches, and the Scotch fir a foot; Prince Albert's are also making equal progress. We trust these will remain for ages a lively memorial of the royal visit to Taymouth and the city of Perth. There are now living in one house in Loughborough, three persons, whose united ages amount to 250 years, two of whom are females. Dicky Usher, the celebrated clown (second only to Grimaldi), died at his residence in Lambeth on Saturday last, in his 58th year. On Sunday last, Divine Service, according to the forms of the Free Church of Scotland, was performed at the Literary Institution, Edward Street, Mary-lebone. A Lismore correspondent of the Cork Examiner states, that "a man named John Walsh, in that town, has died of the cold water cure. The wife and relatives of the deceased man are making loud lamentations on the matter." We have been informed that a special commission is about to issue for the trial of the prisoners concerned in the recent disturbances in South Wales. The presiding judges have not yet been named, but the most active exertions are in progress on the part of government to get together evidence against the prisoners already committed. Mr. J. Weippert, the celebrated band-master, died on Monday the 15th Sept., from the effect of injuries he received on the previous Thursday, by his chaise coming in collision with another vehicle, and deceased being thrown out upon his head.

THE QUEEN'S TOUR.—The Queen of England is at home again; having in a few short weeks added considerably to her experiences—having been admitted as a resident guest in two foreign courts, and having seen something of Belgium itself. Although the second visit will not possess for the future historian such important associations with public affairs as the visit to Lu—the crowning-point in the reconciliation of two rival nations—yet in past historic associations of a more ordinary kind, the old towns of the Netherlands are of course richer than the French sea-coast villages; and certain inscriptions and flags did not neglect to recall a few of them. The young British Sovereign, in traversing the region, would not fail to remember how it had been swept by foreign invaders; how Spain had once defeated as well as abused her own high power by the exercise of intolerable despotism; how, more recently, the Dutch dynasty had been shaken off; and how, finally, her own country had helped to set up Belgium independent among the nations—the nations of the West, whose sovereigns belong to the people, not the people to the sovereigns. In her uncle's dynasty, in the freedom of the people that greeted her, in their very name, she saw monuments of the strength of British opinion. Lying between the Gallic and Teutonic races—much influenced by French tastes, yet being like the English a manufacturing and enterprising community—the Belgians constitute a middle between her own people and the inhabitants of the other land that she so recently visited; but there was to be seen no approach to that haughty distance which separates the powerful and the lowly in England. At Bruges, the people kept order for themselves, arranged their share of the ceremonies for themselves; yet, with materials often of a homely kind, they devised an impressive pageant; and though exhilarated by unrestrained festivity, they kept perfect order. At Ghent, Queen Victoria presided at a spontaneous presentation of the citizens. At Brussels, the capital, it was the same: there was a show of military, but no use of them to bar out the multitude; the Queen sat at an open-air concert in the Park, with nothing but "the divinity that doth hedge a king" between her and the many thousands. Could such a scene be in Hyde-park? Of course not; for the people are not used to it. Yet was it once assumed that free admission would be the destruction of museums, and pictures, and plants, and other things of price in public galleries and gardens; and now Sir Robert Peel has officially declared that in places of the kind the public are their own best police. We know that dangers are apprehended from the too near approach of the populace to the royal person; but we believe that the isolation and conspicuous position so carefully maintained have far less safety, either to the person or the institution, than the closer approach which the Queen has witnessed in Belgium. Would that it were etiquette for sovereigns to follow the general fashion, and make a book! Queen Victoria's own account of her excursions, and of her observations and reflections, would be far more interesting than the newspaper reports. And how it would sell!—why, it would bring in a huge additional revenue to the privy purse. The hint is worth taking; and the publishers should forthwith make tenders.—London Spectator.

Every where throughout her Majesty's progress, has she been received in the most enthusiastic manner by the Belgian people. Since her visit to Bruges, the ladies of that magnificent city, themselves famed far and near for their beauty, talk of nothing else but "la belle Reine d'Angleterre." Her Majesty, we are happy to say, appears to be in the enjoyment of excellent health and spirits. At the Privy Council held yesterday at Windsor Castle, a proclamation was issued against the deficient gold coin still in circulation, and by which it is commanded that all loving subjects, particularly all the officers, collectors, and receivers of revenue, from and after the 1st of January next, do cut, break and deface such pieces of the said gold coin as shall be found deficient in weight. It has been given in evidence before a Committee of the House of Commons, that no less a sum than one thousand millions annually is exchanged by 28 of the principal London bankers, at the clearing room; and that all the gold and silver required to effect this enormous exchange, is about 20l. a day.

The Colonial Herald.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1843.

Owing to an unlucky combination of circumstances, namely, the unavoidable absence of the Editor, upon urgent business in the country, and the illness of two of our principal hands, the Herald did not appear on Saturday. We trust this explanation will satisfy our readers that the non-appearance of this paper on the usual day, was not owing to any intentional neglect on the part of its conductors.

In consequence of the boisterous state of the weather for the last fortnight the Steamer St. George has not undergone the necessary cleansing, &c. and will, consequently, not proceed to Miramichi until Friday next, the 3d Nov. The St. George returned from Pictou on Friday evening, with the usual American and Colonial Mails. The papers are, however, destitute of News.

HALIFAX, Oct. 24.—The Mail Packet Velocity, which arrived on Thursday last, brings us Bermuda news of the 10th inst. Private accounts of the 13th have been received. The papers do not mention any abatement of the fever, and from the number of deaths recorded we presume that it still rages violently. Capt. Newman of the XXth regt. had fallen a victim among the military.—Times.

The Right Revd. and Honble. the Lord Bishop of Jamaica, with family and suite, embarked on board H. M. steamer Hermes for Jamaica on Saturday last, and sailed on Sunday at 2 o'clock. The Hermes will call at Bermuda on the passage.

PICTOU, Oct. 25.—The Steamer Albion, on her passage from Charlottetown to this Port, on Friday last, fell in with a schooner, apparently about 40 tons burthen, derelict; but, on account of being short of hands and deficient in coal, and the sea running high at the time, the captain did not attempt to board her.

It is said, that within the last six months not fewer than two hundred and fifteen murders have been committed in the United States.

An extraordinary carrot, said to be very like a man, was lately left at the office of the Aedean Recorder, in Halifax, for the inspection of the curious.

DOG HOSPITAL AT CONSTANTINOPLE.—The present Sultan will probably imitate his father in the reforms to be brought about, and it is expected that the enormous absurdity of a Hospital for Dogs will be speedily abolished. The young Sultan's remark to Akim Effendi was as follows:—"We want hospitals for men and women, and must have them: and at whatever expense, must have all the lights of medical science. I have already made arrangements in England, for supplies of that invaluable remedy, 'Holloway's Ointment,' and also for 'Holloway's Pills,' as a most powerful auxiliary to the Ointment. In this way I hope to banish the plague from my dominions, as well as gout, rheumatism, paralysis, scrofula, cancer, obstinate wounds, and all external disorders. Send Mr. Holloway the Order of the 'Golden Horn,' by the next steam-boat."

Passengers. In the steamer St. George, from Miramichi, on Thursday last—Mr. M. McDonnell, Mr. Craig, and 10 in the steerage. In do. from Pictou, yesterday—Hon. J. H. Peters, Mrs. Langrish, Capt. Robinson, Messrs. C. De Weir, H. H. Gaudet, C. Goodrich, and one in the steerage. In the William, for Liverpool—Messrs. C. Welsh, J. M. Tucker, J. Brown, F. Norton, Story, and Hewlet.

Ship News. Arrived, at Casumpeque, on the 8th inst., the Brig John Hawkes, Scott, 30 days, from Bideford. Sailed, on the 25th inst., from Three Rivers, for Waterford, Brig Ann Forrestal. 26th Barque John Bromham, for Richibucto—to complete her cargo. 26th, Brig William, for Liverpool. The Brig Constance, Jones, Master, belonging to Mr. B. Davies, of this Town, was moored near the edge of the channel in Orwell Bay, a few days since, with the view of discharging her ballast, preparatory to taking on board her cargo of timber, deals, &c. On the night of Wednesday last, the tide having risen to an unusual height, the stern of the vessel was driven by the violence of the wind upon the flat at the edge of the channel, and on the tide receding, she broke from her moorings, and slid, bow foremost, into the Channel. The bow-port being open at the time, she immediately filled with water and sunk. The Captain and Crew, at 4 o'clock on Thursday morning, were under the necessity of taking to the boats, and reached the shore almost in a state of nudity. On Friday, at low tide, the bow-port was closed, and the pumps got to work, but notwithstanding the most strenuous exertions, we regret to learn, that every attempt to raise the vessel has hitherto proved unavailing.

MARRIED. On Monday, the 23d ult., by the Rev. Mr. Strong, Mr. Charles Laird, to Mary, daughter of Mr. Samuel Boyer, Covehead.

DIED. On Tuesday the 17th inst., Mr. George Mutch, Lot 48, aged 27 years.

To Correspondents. A COMMISSIONER was received too late for insertion in this day's paper, but shall appear in our next.

The Purgative Pills operate in the most gentle manner in cleansing the Stomach and Bowels, and removing obstructions. In severe Chronic Diseases they are an invaluable Alternative, and when combined with the Stomachic Pills, quickly improve the secretions of the whole system—the stomach is strengthened—a healthy flow of bile is produced—the bowels become regular—and disease, whether Local or Constitutional, gives place to health and vigour of mind and body. In all diseases of the Digestive Organs, accompanied with loss of appetite, nausea, sour stomach, and general debility, the Stomachic Pills (with the occasional use of the Purgative), will be found of the greatest utility. The Stomachic Pills should always be taken after Fever and Inflammation are reduced by the Purgative Pills—as they greatly facilitate the recovery of the patient. Weak and delicate Females will find the Stomachic Pills of the utmost value in all complaints to which they are subject. In all diseases of debility they will be found to increase the patient's strength, and rapidly restore him to the enjoyment of perfect health. Sold in Boxes, price 1s. 6d. each.
