Those Rough Riders

WHEN football experts talked about possible Big Four football champions, it's almost a sure bet that the name of Ottawa Rough Riders was never mentioned.

This was a year when Frank Clair and his squad would be hopelessly outclassed. It was a year the battle would undoubtedly be between the defending champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats and the vastly improved Montreal Alouettes. The Riders would be merely excess baggage this season, just another team to help fill out the schedule.

Frank Clair certainly didn't try to argue with those experts. Clair, frank as only a Canadian can be, was honest and the Riders must have wondered what they were doing in this league at all. Little was expected of them as the 1963 season swung into action.

Today as we glance at the Big Four standings, we find these same Rough Riders perched atop the loop with four wins in seven starts. Their last three victories have come at the expense of would-be power, the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, the Winnipeg Blue Bombers and the British Columbia Lions.

The Tiger-Cats share first place with the Riders but Ottawa could own the top perch by themselves by downing Toronto Argonauts this coming Saturday afternoon at the Dominion Stadium. Such could and should come to pass because the Riders are indeed capable of upending the squad from the Queen City.

Clair Looks Good

NO one hasn't said that the Ottawa Rough Riders will represent the East in the Grey Cup classic November 30. It still would appear that these Tiger-Cats after the team had to beat especially after watching them claw to pieces those Lions from British Columbia.

But do not bet that Clair has once again proved himself an expert coach. He has molded together, with the material limited, a fighting aggregation which seems to fear no one. Probably they should have lost some of those early wins so none nobody told them how great the opposition was, they came through with victories.

A win Saturday would put them six points up on Toronto and Ottawa would still have a game in hand. Such a triumph would just about insure a playoff spot.

Lions Stop Roaring

AND those British Columbia Lions have lost a lot of their roar. Lions came out of the west last week and some folks were predicting terrible things for Hamilton and Ottawa. These Lions were the big noise in the WFLU and a sweep of the eastern in-house was not unexpected.

However, things didn't happen this way and the Tiger-Cats and the Rough Riders managed decisions over the British Columbia squad which has returned with a much better appreciation of the Big Four conference football. They are idle until next Monday night when they get a stern test, hosting those hustling Saskatchewan Roughriders. The Lions will surely appreciate the layoff. It was no pleasant excursion into the east and Lions aren't anxious for another such trip. They would like to see the journey end and it could be that they'll prove rough foes from the Grey Cup-conscious Stampede.

The Coming Action

BOTH Montreal and Hamilton are idle the rest of this week and when they resume action Sunday afternoon it will be against each other at Hamilton. This should be a great battle with Jim Trimble using every trick at his command to throw his former team for a loss. That will be hard to do, however, because the Tiger-Cats haven't suffered a home loss this year.

But there's always a first time and Trimble will really have his outfit on for this one. It will probably be the most important Big Four game this season and although the Tiger-Cats must be installed favorites, you will better watch out for those invading Alouettes.

Things are going great guns from a spectator point of view. Turbines are clicking merrily and should continue the rest of the season. However, the Alouettes are not expected to be in the top six for a long time. That will be hard to do, however, because the Tiger-Cats haven't suffered a home loss this year.

Abouettes Edge Calgary Stamps

BY JOE DEPUITS
MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes were down Calgary Stampede Tuesday night with a hard-fought defence for a 20-17 victory in a Canadian Football League interlocking game watched by 21,115 fans.

The victory created a three-way tie for first place in the Eastern Conference with Ottawa and Hamilton. It was a 17-17 saw-off until the third quarter when the Alouettes sprang on a fast-tiring Calgary team, showing the strain of two games in three days, for a touchdown and single to cement the victory.
