MAY ADJOURN PARLIAMENT BY AUGUST 4

Premier Undergoes Barrage Of Opposition Questions On International Situation

LONDON, July 19—Amid new preparations to strengthen the defenses of Great Britain and her allies, Prime Minister Chamberlain today launched a drive to clear up vital legislation so parliament may adjourn Aug. 4.

The Prime Minister had a stormy day in the House of Commons, first facing a series of opposition questions ranging over most of the international situation and then precipitating bitter criticism which he sought to cut four days off the time for debate of government bills.

The parliamentary opposition obtained little information from him beyond the fact that negotiations are being on in Tokyo concerning the Trentia dispute and that he hopes to be able to announce conclusion of a British-French-Soviet Mutual Assistance Pact before Parliament adjourns.

"We certainly have not got an agreement yet," the Prime Minister said in response to questioning.

Military defence steps taken included—

1. Creation of a new military command in the important Suez Canal area.
2. A night flight by Royal Air Force bombers over France and a hint by the Air Minister, Sir Kingsley Wood, that similar flights may be made over Poland, Greece, Rumania and Bulgaria.
3. Announcement by the Admiralty's Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Geoffrey Shakespeare, that British warships would visit Greek and Turkish ports soon and that the Government was considering such visits to Rumanian, Russian and Bulgarian ports.

At the same time, informed quarters said, Britain was considering a loan to Poland in addition to credits which the Government is planning to grant for strengthening Polish defenses.

Chamberlain hinted at the possibility of a Polish loan, saying that negotiations now are going on which might result in an agreement.

Manitoba Premier Explains Proposed Trade Agreement With German Government

Manitoba would probably proceed with her trade agreement with Germany, Premier John Bracken said here last night in an interview, but it would be under the terms laid down by the Dominion Government. Premier Bracken is a guest of the Prince Edward Island government here for the Confederation Celebrations being held this week.

The proposal made by Germany sought only two things, Premier Bracken said. First, to purchase certain equipment as cheaply as possible; second, wider markets for agricultural products.

It was a question wholly of reciprocal trade, he said. Outside of the German-Canadian agreement, Germany was willing to buy our surplus agricultural produce to the full extent of purchases we would make from them providing the Dominion Government approved.

"We have been offered technical equipment delivered in Manitoba at prices 25 per cent below the market value," he said.

And to the extent of our purchases, we could have sold in Germany butter, honey, barley, seeds, and other surplus agricultural products at prices which would have moved some of these surplus products out of Canada."

Germany would consummate the agreement only if the Canadian Government approved, the Manitoba premier said. When the Dominion Government was approached, it would not agree to the proposal unless it was brought within the terms of the German-Canadian trade agreement and the German-Canadian payments agreement.

"Had we been able to proceed as we had planned, the total of the exchange would have been $10 million," he said. "The Dominion Government required us to comply only a portion of the exchange we sent to Germany will be used to buy Canadian agricultural products."

"The payments agreement permits Germany to take 37 per cent of the money we send them and use it to purchase any commodity they may desire, even to commodities that could be used for armaments, such as nickel and copper. The other 63 per cent of the money we expended for German goods would under this agreement be spent in Canada, for many products, agricultural and others, on the basis of quotas set out in the agreement.

"If Manitoba should proceed of the money we send them and use it to purchase any commodity they may desire, even to commodities that could be used for armaments, such as nickel and copper. ### British-Japanese Quarrel Develops On Chinese Fronts

SHANGHAI, July 19—The Japanese Army's quarter in British interests in China, developed on several fronts today.

The Japanese military at the North China port of Tientsin, where the British Concession has been blockaded since June 14, announced they were considering a "new step" against the Concession in the event the British "persist in aiding" General Chiang Kai-Shek.

Dispatches from Chefoo, Shanghai Province port, said the entire consular staff of the British Imperial Chemical Industries quit their jobs after five Chinese visited the establishment and threatened to behind all who remained.

Britons said this, like many other instances of intimidation of native employees of British firms, was Japanese-inspired.

At Tientsin the British steamer Yunnan and a Japanese ship were slightly damaged in a collision in the Hai River when the Japanese ship tried to pass the Yunnan while it was being detained by a Japanese river patrol.

The Yunnan was held three hours at anchor in mid-stream tying up all traffic, because a German passenger attempted to photograph a Japanese policeman.

Rescue Of 1200 Belgian Miners

LIEGE, Belgium, July 19—Two hundred miners were rescued tonight from the 4,500 foot shaft of the Limburg Mine. Colliery after facing dangerous air for several hours.

They were imprisoned when fire destroyed the power house, electric cables, disabling the lifts and rendering the shaft dangerous.

Mine officials reported that the power-line had been repaired and the miners brought to the surface without casualties.

The mine is located at Eyden-Sainte Barbe, 25 miles from here.

Police Finally Catch Up Alleged Kidnapper After Search Takes In 8 States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 19—(AP)—An eight-state search for a kidnapper, who charged with kidnapping his divorced wife last night from her present husband's side, ended tonight with his capture at gunpoint in New Salem, about nine miles from the scene of the alleged abduction.

Found with him in a cabin, police reported, was Mrs. Bernice Beckwith, 27, who divorced him six years ago after he was sentenced to a reformatory on a burglary charge. She apparently was unharmed.

Her husband, Cyril Beckwith, precipitated a dramatic scene at the State Police Barracks here when Kehoe and Mrs. Beckwith arrived, accompanied by State Troopers. Beckwith raised blows at Kehoe's face as they entered, shouting: "You haven't any gun now."

Troopers piled the men apart,

DANZIG POLICE ARREST 20 IN ALLEGED PLOT

Counterpart Of German Gestapo Conduct Political Purge In Free City.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, July 19—Danzig's new political police, the Free City's counterpart of the German Gestapo, (secret police) today arrested 20 men described as a ring of "Socialist dynamite."

The political purge to crush remnants of any opposition to the local Nazi Government coincided with announcement that the Free City police force had been increased to about 4,000 men on active duty.

Police said that 20 "Marxists" had been jailed on charges of treason. Officers declared only three more men actively hostile to the Nazi Government remained in Danzig. They were arrested and Germany will be at large.

Authorities said the arrested Socialists were die-hard workers who refused to recognize changed conditions when the Nazis became dominant in 1931. They asserted they had evidence the Socialists conspired to bomb bridges and public buildings in event of a clash with Poland.

Police said there were indications those arrested had "relations with a hostile foreign power" and in official circles no effort was made to conceal suspicion that the "foreign power" was Poland.

Evidence of military activity, meanwhile, increased in Danzig. Several small detachments of indoctrinated men were seen in the streets. Many trucks appeared frequently, moving between barracks on the Danzig-Zoppot highlands and Danzig's two hills—Bielobog and Hagelberg. Several German army officers were observed on the streets and a few steel-helmeted dispatch bearers sped about on motor cycles.

Police said the arrests appeared normal on the streets were about as many storm troops and other uniforms as are to be seen in almost any German city.

Queen Of Carnival

MISS SALLY HUGHES
Pretty Sally Hughes of Charlottetown was crowned Confederation Queen at the carnival last night, celebrating the meeting in Charlottetown 75 years ago which led to the formation of the Dominion.

National Park Is Officially Opened Miss Sally Hughes Chosen "Queen Of The Carnival."

A spectacular Mardi Gras parade through Charlottetown streets last night with the crowning of pretty Sally Hughes of Charlottetown as "Queen of the Carnival" featured closing hours of the Confederation week program for the fourth day. A mammoth street carnival followed the "Coronation" and wound up with the firemen's "nightshirt parade" at midnight. The whole population of Charlottetown, with hundreds of visitors from elsewhere were at last night's street carnival, or so it seemed.

Not for many years, if indeed ever in this City's history, had such crowds been seen on the streets at night as thronged almost every available inch of space for blocks around Market Square where the crowning of the Queen took place to be followed later by community dancing.

National Park Opening
Celebrations resumed their fast moving pace yesterday morning with the official opening of Prince Edward Island's new National Park. Mrs. Thane A. Campbell, wife of Premier Campbell, cut the ribbon closing off the first tee of the golf course which is one of the attractions of the latest addition of the Dominion's system of national parks.

Following the opening ceremony on the course, Hon. T. A. Cresser and Hon. C. D. Howe played a challenge match. The history making game was won by Hon. Mr. Howe.

NAZIS EXODUS FROM TYROL REGION BEGINS

(By Charles H. Gupitt, Associated Press Foreign Staff)
BOLZANO, Italy, July 19—Exodus of Germans has begun from the Italian Tyrol astride the road over the Brenner Pass into Germany. They are leaving under Premier Mussolini's orders designed to Italianize the frontier.

Inhabitants estimate that about 100 Germans already have gone to the Reich. They are described as the "Fervent Nazis" among approximately 10,000 Germans due to leave under the new repatriation agreement between Rome and Berlin.

There have been rumors of an imminent irredentist movement in the Tyrol. This has been considered in foreign circles as largely responsible for the desire of Mussolini to move the German-speaking inhabitants of the Tyrol away from the frontier, thus removing a subversive which might eventually cause trouble.

Evacuation is expected to take place in orderly fashion although conversations held in the course of a tour through the area indicated that the approximately 20,000 German-speaking Italians in the Province still are uncertain as to what measures would be taken to uproot them.

There have been reports that many inhabitants were disgruntled at the prospect of moving away from homes they and their ancestors occupied for centuries—as they were at previous efforts to Italianize them after Italy acquired the South Tyrol from Austria in the Great War settlement but evidence of trouble was lacking.

A quick survey before Bolzano police authorities requested me to leave the province indicated eva-

New Safeguards For Submarines During Tests

LONDON, July 19—(CP)—New safeguards during diving tests by submarines were announced in parliament by the Government today as a result of the sinking of the British submarine Thetis in Liverpool Bay June 1.

Geoffrey Shakespeare, financial secretary to the admiralty, said that henceforth a Naval vessel capable of communicating with a submerged submarine will attend diving trials and the submarine itself will tow a marking buoy so that her position will be known throughout the test.

The Thetis was not located for many hours after the time when she should have emerged from her fatal dive. She was attended by only one tug.

Civilians participating in the construction of submarines who may be aboard testing vessels will be given an opportunity to practice with the Davis 'Escape Lung, which only four of 103 men aboard the Thetis used successfully.

The number of men aboard for test dives will be "closely scrutinized" in the future, Shakespeare added.

The Thetis' testimony indicated that dial had failed to show that one of the torpedo tubes was filled with water. This was followed by opening of the tube and flooding of a compartment, resulting in the tragedy.

Suggests Alberta Gov't Take Over Gasoline Market

CALGARY, July 19—Major L. R. Lipsett, commissioner on the McGillivray Commission, today suggested the Alberta Government might take over the marketing of gasoline in Alberta through distribution of gasoline as liquor is now marketed in Alberta Government liquor stores.

Major Lipsett, marketing expert from Ardley, Alta., made the suggestion in questioning C. D. McEltabarge, manager of the Texas Company of Canada, regarding possibility there were too many wholesale and retail outlets for gasoline in Alberta, and these outlets led to high marketing costs.

Commerce Congress To Meet In Canada

LONDON, July 19—(CP)—The 1942 meeting of the British Empire Congress of Chambers of Commerce will be held in Canada, the Congress decided here today at its concluding meeting.

Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Vancouver were mentioned as possible meeting places for the Congress, but the decision was left in the hands of the Canadian Legation of the present meeting.

Members of the delegation said they would probably decide while returning to Canada or shortly after arrival in the Dominion.

At its closing session the Congress passed a resolution urging all governments throughout the British Commonwealth to cooperate in developing new technical methods for international trade designed to meet changed world conditions.

Issues Warning Note Re Proposed Legislation And To Stamp Out Terrorism

LONDON, July 20 (Thursday)—(CP Cable)—The Daily Express (Independent) warned today that legislation proposed by the Government to stamp out terrorism, particularly aimed at the outlawed Irish Republican Army, further threatens "the rights and liberties of the citizen."

While commending the Government's decision editorially, the newspaper added that "this bill proposes to make infringements on the liberties of British citizens which the Express cannot welcome."

"It confers on the police an extended power of search without a Magistrate's warrant," it said. "This extension is dangerous, and all the safeguards with which the use of that power is hedged do not alter the fact that the rights and liberties of the citizen are further threatened."

The Express said that deportation orders against 100 suspects, believed to be members of the I. R. A., would be signed as soon as the Government's proposed Legislation is enacted.

The Daily Herald (Labor) said that the bill will be rushed through a 7 stages in Parliament next week, while the Daily Mail (Ind.) added that Sir Norman Kendall, Chief of the Criminal Investigation Department and Chief Constable Albert Canning, who accompanied the King and Queen to Canada, were planning a "great round-up" of I. R. A. suspects when the Bill is effective.

The Express said that only 88 of 200 suspects detained during the various recent terrorist outrages have been convicted but that now should the police desire it, if the remainder can be expelled, Legislation passes.
