

'NOW I KNOW WHO I AM' Newly Discovered Mother Meets Son After 29 Years

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MONTREAL (CP) — Don Whillans, who believed himself an illegitimate until four months ago, Thursday started to find out what it means to have a mother.

Mrs. Kathleen Musson, who put him out for adoption as an infant when she was deserted by her husband 29 years ago, stepped off an airliner from London and into his life.

They embraced briefly, both near tears, while flashbulbs popped. Then the vivacious, gray-haired little woman was led off to go through customs.

"Now I know who I am," Don mused aloud. "It's established."

Beaming during the reunion was the man who made it possible, Fred Musson, 31, of Lindsay, Ont., Don's newly discovered brother.

WIFE DESERTED

Mrs. Musson had taken Fred to England with her when she went to live with her parents after her husband left her. She felt Don would have a better life if adopted into a good home, and left believing he was well cared for.

He was well treated by the Whillans family who adopted him, but his foster mother died when he was about a year old. A succession of housekeepers cared for him until one set him to kindergarten bleeding from a beating. He was turned over to the children's aid.

He was brought up in 13 foster homes, in two of which he was happy, and became an electrician.

He married and settled down in Bowmanville, Ont., to raise his two children, but never gave up hope of finding his mother and solving the mystery of his birth.

Then he discovered an old lawyer's letter that led him to Fred Musson, who had moved to Canada in 1953 and lived on a farm at Lindsay, only 40 miles from Bowmanville, with a job with a gas company. He has five children.

"I was scared silly when this damned fool showed up," Fred grins. "But he had the papers right there."

FAMILIES FRIENDLY

The brothers, both tall and good looking, have become close friends on bantering terms. Their wives also took to one another. Fred's wife wrote Mrs. Musson in England that Don had shown up and asked her to come.

"I'm too blunt to write letters," Don says.

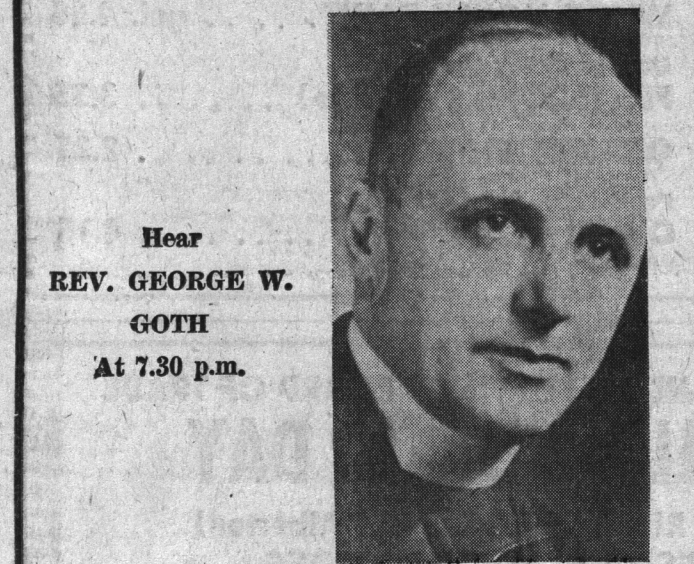

Mrs. Musson wrote she was on her way for a two month visit. She must return to care for her ailing, 82-year-old mother but hopes eventually to settle in Canada.

Don moved his family into Fred's spacious home for the visit. The brothers drove the 320 miles to Montreal Wednesday to be on hand when their mother's plane arrived.
