Local and Other Items.

AT THE CAPES.—Crossing both ways to-day. The twenty-two bags for Charlottetown arrived this afternoon.

ACROSS THE STRAITS.—Capt. J. S. Allen brought a case of embroideries across the Capes last week, for Stanley Bros.

BIBLE CLASS.—Young men are urged to attend the Bible Class this evening, in the Y. M. C. A. parlour at 8 o'clock.

TEMPERANCE.—A meeting of the Temperance Executive Committee will be held this evening, in McLeod's Hall, at 8 o'clock.

PROHIBITION.—Mr. W. L. Cotton will read a paper on "Prohibition" at the meeting of the Literary and Scientific Institute this evening.

LOTTERY.—The drawing in connection with the Lottery of a horse donated by Mrs. Hunter for the benefit of the Charlottetown Hospital, will take place at Kelly's Cross, Lot 29, on St. Patrick's Day, the 17th inst.

TO THE FRONT.—The Truro Guardian says it is stated that two wealthy citizens of that town are willing to guarantee an indemnity fund of $10,000, in the event of loss to the town, by a thorough test of the existing liquor legislation.

SIGNS OF SPRING.—The Moncton Times reports that on Thursday last a cream-colored butterfly arrived at the house of a man named Carroll, on the Irishtown Road, where it still is, alive and smart.

A NEW DEPARTURE.—The Springhill, N. S., cricket club, played a game on skates, on a small lake about two miles from the town, a few days ago. The game was witnessed by a large number of people and occasioned much mirth.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.—Mr. George Eysel, a prominent stenographer and one of the Hansard staff, Ottawa, who a few weeks ago was beaten and robbed, and while lying unconscious on the stretcher, was badly frozen, has died from his injuries.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The members of the Benevolent Irish Society, intend giving a Dramatic Entertainment in the Lyceum, on March 17th. The Lyceum Comedy Company, are hard at work preparing for the occasion, and a good time may be expected.

TIME IS MONEY.—Some of the St. John's, Nfld., papers contain a notice of the marriage of Mr. W. H. C. Edwards, of Boston, and Miss Susan M. Day. The young man went to St. John's a few weeks ago, on business, and the pair arranged an engagement in two weeks and married in four.

KILLED WHILE COUPING.—An I. C. R. brakeman named Wallace Hartlan, fell between the cars which he was coupling near the deep water terminus, Halifax, on the 27th ult., and the wheels of the rear car passed over him. Death was instantaneous. Hartlan was a young man, and had been in the railway service some five years.

INFORMATION WANTED.—On Saturday last, a gentleman of the City, while in a hurry, left a framed picture and case in some place until he would call for it. As he can not recollect the premises at present, he would feel greatly indebted to the party in whose charge it is, if he would drop a postal card in the Post Office to M. J. D.

SMOTHERED.—Mrs. Cousman, daughter of the proprietor of Lakeside Hotel, Forest City, wrapped her baby snugly in warm clothing and started to drive a short distance. After driving two or three miles she stopped at the Rev. Mr. Buckingham's to warm. Upon unwrapping her little one she was horrified to find it quite dead. It is supposed that it smothered.—Fredericton Gleaner.

THE TARES REMOVED.—For several days past Capt. Knight and her court martial have been engaged separating the wheat from the tares in the Salvati Army, and as a result of their labors seventeen lads and lasses have lost their insignia of membership. The Captain says she is determined to have none but true and faithful soldiers fighting under the banner of the 135th Corps.—Fredericton Reporter.

JUST SO.—The Summerside Journal states that "THE EXAMINER is a peculiar paper." We admit that THE EXAMINER differs from the Journal in at least one respect: THE EXAMINER occasionally contains an idea worth considering. That the Journal should lecture THE EXAMINER on its consistency is in accord with the fitness of things—just what might be expected; the Journal has been everything by turns and nothing long!

SUNG THE TOWN.—A man named McKay, the owner of three or four tenement houses in Moncton, is said to be preparing a suit for damages against the town. It appears that the cellars and lower floors of Mr. McKay's buildings have been flooded and families living in the tenements have been sick all winter and have been warned that the premises are dangerous to health. Mr. McKay claims that the flooding is due to the action of the town authorities in closing up certain sewers and decreasing that water must run up hill.

PERSONAL.—Hon. John Lefurgey, Summerside, is in town to-day.

Hon. Alexander MacKenzie, has arrived in Ottawa. He is in poor health.

Mr. Blake, who is now at a watering place near Rome, writes that his health is almost re-established.

Mr. J. T. Mellish arrived home last evening from Halifax, where he had successfully passed the examinations required for admission to the Bar. Mr. Mellish studied law for the full term some years ago in the office of Robert Sedgewick, Q. C., the present Deputy Minister of Justice, and his admission was moved for by C. S. Harrington, Q. C., President of the Nova Scotia Barriers' Society.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Debates and Proceedings.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.

In the Commons to-day, Mr. Baird, of Queen's N. B., was presented by Sir John and Hon. Mr. Foster. Sir Richard asked that Wednesday of next week be appropriated to the discussion of his Commercial Union resolutions, and the debate to be continued day by day till finished.

Sir John consented, provided the Fishery Commission papers were not ready, as these would take precedence.

W. W. Wallace moved for a select committee to inquire into the working of certain "combinations" existing in Canada. He urged that such "combinations" were of a dangerous character, and that in the interest of morality and commercial freedom they should be suppressed.

Mr. Edgar said the history of the National Policy had been no protection to manufacturers and cheap goods. These combinations of manufacturers raised the prices to protect themselves. He wished the resolution included the words "or manufacturer." (His suggestion was agreed to.)

Mr. Edgar then at length denounced the N. P., and contended that the only remedy for "combinations" was to abolish the present tariff.

Mr. Guillett showed that to abolish protection to Canadian industries would only leave Canada open to larger combinations by other countries. He directed attention to the coal oil and salt rings which existed in Canada prior to the N. P.

Mr. Lister followed, denouncing the N. P., and advocating its repeal as the sole remedy for existing combinations.

Mr. Wallace argued that the present tariff had reduced the price of everything produced in Canada, and agreed that the committees should enquire into the combinations among manufacturers.

Mr. Mitchell said that while an anthracite coal combination existed the Government had combined to compel Montreal to purchase from Nova Scotia three-fourths of coal used. "Combinations" should be destroyed by reducing the maximum of protection. The best way was to throw down all barriers of trade with the United States.

Mr. MacNeil contended that as Canada had no control over American combinations it would be the most gigantic blunder possible, for Canada to accept Mr. Mitchell's proposal.

After remarks by Mr. Moncrief, the motion passed and a committee was appointed.

French Affairs.

PARIS, Feb. 29.

The debate on the Foreign Budget began in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. The Marquis Debretville reviewed the situation in Europe caused by the triple alliance, and said France must wish the Czar to remain the arbitrator of peace. France must seize every opportunity to show him sympathy, and make him understand, without exaggerated demonstrations, that the French are strong but discreet friends. He hoped the relations with England and Italy would become more friendly.

Taken for a Murderer.

A YOUNG VERMONT'S EXPERIENCE ON HIS ARRIVAL IN LONDON.

A mild mannered and altogether inoffensive-looking young man from Vermont crossed the ocean on the City of Chicago and arrived in London on the 23rd February. He got off the train from Liverpool at Euston Square Station and drove off to a hotel in a hansom. Just as he was engaging a room two men, whom he remembered having seen watching him closely at the Prince's landing-stage, Liverpool, stepped up to him and demanded to know who he was. The young man got angry and told them that he was an American here on a pleasure trip, and that it was none of their business who he was. The men told him they were detectives and that he bore a striking resemblance to Tascott, who was wanted for murdering millionaire Snell in Chicago, and that, unless he could give a satisfactory account of himself, they would lug him off to Scotland Yard. The young man, thoroughly frightened, assured them that he was not Tascott, and showed them letters of introduction from prominent people in Vermont to Minister Phelps. The detectives went away and the young man jumped into a cab and hurried to the American Legation to find out what it was all about. While he was talking over old school days with Mr. Charles P. Phelps, son of the American Minister, the two detectives came in and wanted to know if the letters of introduction were all right. Being assured that they were, the detectives apologized, and by way of atonement, showed the young man all around Scotland Yard. Singularly enough, the young man did bear a striking resemblance to the description of Tascott called there, and the detectives were amply justified in following them as they did. The instance only goes to show how closely every man who crosses the Atlantic is watched, and how thorough is the system of communication between the police of the two nations.

The Irish in America.

Mr. Gladstone, in an article in the last issue of the Contemporary Review, makes another appeal to the Conservative Party. He says the Home Rule question is one on which both parties can co-operate. Enlarging upon the arguments advanced in a former article, he observes that the vast tribute paid for many years by America to the landlords in Ireland had not shocked the most sensitive. Yet, for the sums America has contributed recently, she has been fiercely denounced. Mr. Gladstone thinks that America suffers in her internal politics from the unsettled state of the Irish question, the action of the Irish in America being directed not by American but by Irish motives.

KILLED WHILE COUPING.—The eleven-year-old son of Peter McNaughton was killed at New Glasgow N. S., on Saturday by running into a train, while coasting. None of the train men saw the accident. This is a double bereavement, the boy's mother having been buried the week before.
