

The re-sale of Vella La Vella 2084 whose career in this Province was so outstanding and which continued so in Cape Breton, has caused expressions of regret by many horse racing fans here. The new owner is Angus MacRae, popular Sydney River service station owner, Sydney River, N.S. and she joins the stable of Joe MacDonald who handled her so capably in Cape Breton previously. Walter Hennessey, we presume, acted on the good business policy of taking a substantial profit when the chance came. Many of us would feel better today if she had followed his example. Somehow it appears to the writer that when one refuses a good offer their luck never seems to be as good again.

Since that sale, however, Mr. Hennessey has met with a very bad loss in the death of Candy Chief 204. He died with an injury and blood poisoning set in. At least we believe that was the cause of the death of this very valuable horse. He was only nine years old and was sired by Chief Abbedale 200, one of the best sires in the United States. In his brief racing career Candy had won $38,000 and he took his record over a half mile track. There are a few foals by him here and each is an outstanding individual so the loss is not only a monetary one but also a bad blow to the breeding industry. Candy has the distinction as far as we know, of being the only horse buried in the centerfield at the Exhibition grounds. It has been the practise at leading tracks in the United States to bury horses that have had a distinguished racing record in the centerfield of tracks and he is certainly worthy of that honor.

We welcome our friend Jim Pennington, Kensington, to this column with a very interesting letter. "There is great activity in training here, especially on the Mainway Road. There is a lot of space on each side which is not gravelled. The two-year-old colts seem to occupy the spotlight. Clegg's, Budlong's, Squire Hanover's, Kalmuck's, Jolly's, etc. That sounds like pretty good racing blood. Such high racing blood in time might vindicate the following: 'Bay State'—the Kentucky of Canada. I understand that the claim is made that the 'blue-grass' soil of Kentucky contains some chemical ingredients that put extra vigor in all animal life—not excepting human beings. It is evident that our Island soil has some chemical property giving extra vigor and virility to animal life. Fish biologists tell us that even our trout grow about twice as fast as the average on the mainland—directly attributed to soil food.

"In very early days here our horses always took precedence on the mainland. Our virility and progenitiveness have been noted by British biologists. There seems to be some ambiguity about the originator of the name 'Kentucky of Canada.' I wrote an account of racing in P.E.I. for a Boston paper. The Horse Breeder in the early 1920's and I think the term was used. Myron MacArthur saved it and gave it to me a few years ago, but I can't find it now. I wonder if anyone else has saved it?"

"The new Summerside track is a tremendous layout. It will be the plus ultra in all the East—time and space precludes a description. You should take time out to take a visit. I think they are putting special opening ads in the leading Maritime papers and we may expect a big influx of people for the July 1st opening. The boats will be crowded. It will give our 'Garden' Province a still greater boost in racing—especially in West Prince County. This is a list from memory of some of the colts here. I may have omitted some and you will please note that W. D. Profit recently trucked to Monticello, Maine, a year-old named Watson Clegg by Abner T. Clegg, dam by Watson Peter. The new owner is E. C. Wellington, who is also the owner of Mr. McGee 210 and Marcia Clegg.

"Theo. Ling has Len Bud by Calumet Budlong, dam, Josefine Lady Lou. It is a two-year-old. Irvin Jay has a six-year-old by Abbe Worthy, trained by Mr. Jay. Peter McMahon has a two-year-old by Clegg, dam by Simcoe Harvester, granddam, Babe McElwyn. Harry Crozier, Danley, a two-year-old by Squire Hanover, dam, the blind mare Mignonne, mother of Babe Britton. Ken Champion, Spring Valley, a three-year-old gelding by Abner T. Clegg, dam by Bellini Scott. Dr. Bowness, a 2-year-old colt sired by Jolly, dam, Nora Worthy by Great Hal. The veteran trainer and driver Clarence Schuman, who is much improved in health, is giving the comparative noices expert advice in the art of bringing them along in the way that they should go. Mr. Schuman was born in Maine and started with the 'horses' during the regular time of the doughty and redoubtable Teddy Roosevelt. He has campaigned on most all Eastern tracks in U.S. and Canada.

Will Anderson, popular mall driver of Broadalbane who has been here today for Dartmouth where they will compete against golfers from across the Maritimes for the Rose Bowl Trophy.

The members of the local team are Bob Gray, Don MacDonald, Art MacKenzie, Frank MacInnis, Andy Lasky, Doug Saunders, Harry Simmons and Bill Beer. The golfers will play 36 holes tomorrow. In the morning they play 18 holes, two ball foursomes and in the afternoon it will be 18 holes match play with total points to count.

The members of the defending Dartmouth team are Bob Foley, Clarence O'Hearn, Don O'Hearn, Rex Joudrey, Lorne Smith, Peter Doig, Pud Carter and Bob Jollymore.

Following the matches on Sunday evening the visiting golfers will be given a dinner at the Dartmouth Club and entertained.

Miss Nora Longworth won the Lady President's Match at the local golf course by aggregating a total of 34 points in the four stage competition. Mrs. Fred Cannon was runner-up with 31 points.

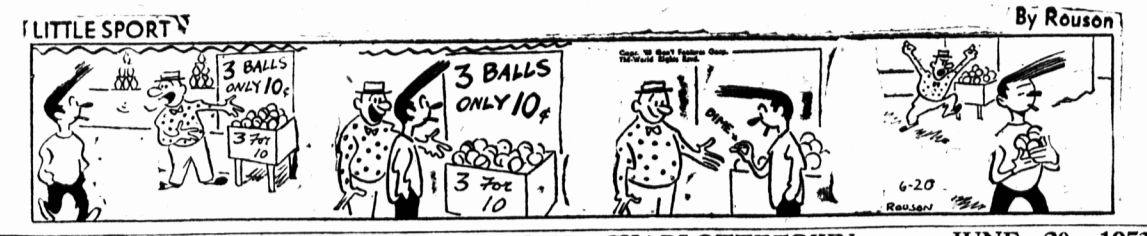

A letter from our friend Louis G. Najac, Providence, R.I. has the following: "Bay State Raceway opened at Foxboro last week. The barns are full—in fact some have been turned down who wanted stall space. Looks like a bigger and better season than ever for that track. It escaped the tornado that did millions and millions of dollars in the Worcester section Tuesday afternoon. It is a terrible sight—the ruins of thousands of homes and garages and other buildings, autos flattened right where they parked. People without clothing, food or home now. Some people think that the tornado was caused by the atom bomb tests. It came mighty near the Foxboro race track."

Before the end of next week Brewer's Gallon 2004 will be in Joe O'Brien's stable either at Roosevelt Raceway or Yonkers. He recently worked the Turf track in 212 for trainer Johnny Conroy and should not take many workouts before he will be ready to start. He is staked at Roosevelt and other tracks. Brewer's Gallon is a very familiar name to Maritimers where he raced exceptionally well before going to the United States. In his short racing career he has won over $37,000 and practically all of it with Joe O'Brien in the driver's seat. All Maritimers will be hoping for Brewer's Gallon to win another big hunk of money for owner B. C. Cruikshank of Halifax.

The opening card of racing at Buetoche, N.B., track drew a big attendance. Sandy D. owned and driven by H. Cormier, Moncton, was the winner of Class A with 1-1-4. His first heat in 2:17 was the fastest of the afternoon. Jean Henley, owned and driven by O. Cormier, Buetoche, won the Class B with 1-1-2. Doc B. Grattan 2-3-1, best time 2:19 for Jean Henley. Class C was won by Just Nellie C. owned by Pellerin and MacArthur and driven by the latter with 3-1-1. Sandy Mary (J. Robichaud) 1-3-2, best time 2:21 1/2 by Just Nellie C.

Dean Gallon 3, 2:11, now a 4-year-old, owned by Earle Semple, Kensington, trotted a mile in a workout over the Summerside track yesterday morning in 2:09 with halves equal in 1:04 1/2. This is the fastest mile ever trotted over the Summerside oval with the exception of the race on July 15, 1942, in which Watchim 2:06 and Squire Hanover 2:08 dead-heated the first in 2:08 and Watchim won the next two heats in 2:08 1/2, 2:08 1/4. . . Durelle Retains Crown With Split Decision Over Harry Poulton

STELLARTON (Special)—Hard hitting Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, New Brunswick, successfully defended his Canadian middleweight boxing championship here Friday night by winning a split decision from boxing master Harry "Kid" Poulton of Charlottetown.

Judge J. MacInnis of New Glasgow and referee Bobby Beaton voted in favor of Durelle while judge Bill Roy of Westville gave Poulton the nod.

The bigger and stronger Durelle forced the fight most of the way but could not penetrate the defenses of the smooth working Poulton. Durelle took a lead in the early rounds but Poulton closed fast to outpoint the champion in the final rounds.

No Knockdowns

There were no knockdowns in the 12-round fight and neither fighter was seriously hurt although Poulton suffered cuts around both eyes early in the fight.

Poulton staggered Durelle with a two-fisted attack late in the tenth round but Durelle weathered the storm. It was Poulton's best round of the fight and the only time either boxer came close to hitting the canvas.

It was a cautious fight most of the way and at times the fans called on referee Bobby Beaton to speed it up.

Both fighters fought a very clean fight.

Poulton outmanoeuvred Durelle beautifully in every round and at times had Durelle turning in circles as he ducked beneath wicked right hand swings by the champion.

Referee Bobby Beaton scored six rounds for Durelle, four for Poulton and two even. Judge Bill Roy saw it four for Poulton, two for Durelle and six even while judge MacInnis had it nine for Durelle and three for Poulton.

The final round contained the most action of the fight as both boys were looking for the knockout. Durelle nailed Poulton just as the round started but Harry counter-punched beautifully to take the steam out of the champion's attack and launch an attack of his own.

There were few good blows landed in the opening round as the boxers were content to feel one another out. Durelle cut Poulton's left eye in the second round but Harry came on late in the round to score with his famous holos.

The third round was slow but

HUNTERS' CORNER

A conviction, held by many wildlife supporters that the promiscuous use of deadly poison sprays to combat insect pests is gradually killing off our song and insectivorous birds and thereby defeating the purpose for which they were invented, appears to be gaining more adherents with every passing season. This columnist commented on this danger several times during the past few years. Mr. Ansturthe Calder, our Provincial taxidermist, has received numbers of warblers, juncos, finches, etc., that congregated around gardens, to be mounted. Inquiry elicited the information they had been picked up in the garden. The birds were fat and healthy in appearance and death was apparently not from natural causes.

A New York paper carried the following headline: "Are Voraciously Ramping in Record Herds" The headline referred to two of mankind's toughest insect opponents—army worms and tent caterpillars. The news item also referred to areas in Massachusetts where gypsy moths are expected to strip trees of their foliage across 25,000 acres. No one ventured to say what the cause of the outbreak was but freakish weather was mentioned as a possible reason in some quarters.

Few people, unless they be confirmed outdoorsmen, realize the colossal number of insects, including moths, caterpillars and what have you, birds destroy during the course of a summer day. If one sits quietly by a dam or water-course or in a quiet swamp for twenty minutes or a half hour it's amazing what one will see. The birds become reassured after five or ten minutes and they'll suddenly appear in numbers from seemingly nowhere and resume their normal way of life that was halted momentarily by your appearance in their midst. Sitting with my back against a tree and half hidden

DETROIT, (AP)—Sports editor Bob Murphy of the Detroit Times predicted Friday that the Detroit Tigers' 23-3 loss to Boston Red Sox Thursday would mean the end of Freddy Hutchinson as Tiger manager.

Following the fight Lafferty received an offer to fight on a card for Gussie MacLellan in Glace Bay later this summer.

Former Charlottetown boxers Tom and Ace McCloskey worked in the corner for both Poulton and Lafferty.

In the preliminaries Wilfred Paris, 150, New Glasgow, stopped Paddy MacNeil, 154, Trenton, N.S., with a technical knockout in the second round. Don Chisholm, 152, Pictou, N.S., drew with Sparky Paris, 155, New Glasgow.

Olson Outclasses Paddy Young To Win American Middleweight Ch'ship

NEW YORK, (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco outclassed Paddy Young of New York in 15 rounds Friday night at Madison Square Garden to win the American middleweight title and the right to meet England's Randy Turpin for the world championship. Olson weighed 159 3-4 pounds. Young hung around to pose for photographers after scaling 159 1-2.

The winner is slated to meet Britain's Randy Turpin in August for the world championship. Olson, winner in 52 of 87 pro starts, was a strong 3 to 1 favorite over Young, a New Yorker.

The Hawaiian-born San Francisco favorite slipped beef broth from a thermos bottle after he stepped off the scales in the offices of the New York state athletic commission. He weighed 159 3-4 pounds. Young hung around to pose for photographers after scaling 159 1-2.
