A FIRE at the residence of Mr. James Robinson, Upper Great George Street, last evening, was extinguished before any great damage was done. The fire started, from some unknown cause, in a mattress in one of the bedrooms, and when discovered had obtained so much headway that the bedding had to be thrown into the street to save the house.

THE Summerside Pioneer says that Mr. Joseph McNeill met with a serious accident on Thursday last. While working a circular saw in Compton's factory his foot slipped and his hand came in contact with the saw, completely severing the second and third fingers from his right hand and cutting a deep gash between his thumb and first finger. Dr. Carruthers dressed the wound.

IS our report of the waterworks meeting there was an omission of one of the amendments proposed to the second resolution. Mr. C. Palmer moved in amendment that the qualification of voters for water commissioners be possession of real estate worth $350 or payment of rent to the amount of $40 per year. To this amendment Councillor Kelly moved his amendment, as reported. The first amendment was then withdrawn; and Councillor Kelly's adopted.

CAPTAIN DEAL, of the schooner Annie A., writes to the Halifax Chronicle from Boston, under date of the 18th inst.: "There are at present about twenty Nova Scotia vessels in the port of Boston, loaded or partly loaded with potatoes from P. E. Island. Many of these vessels have been here three and some as long as four weeks waiting a chance to get out cargo. The weather has been for the most of that time cold and stormy, and as vessels are chartered for fair working days to count as lay days only, the loss to owners will be considerable. P. E. Island potatoes are all but unobtainable, and if present prices and weather continue many vessels will be here till March."

(SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.)

THE FISHERY TROUBLE.

Senators on their War Horse.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.

The Senate this afternoon adopted, by a majority of 46 to 1, the bill recently introduced by Mr. Edmunds, and reported from the committee on foreign relations providing that the President shall issue a proclamation denying to Canadian fish, vessels and products such privileges as are denied to American vessels and fishermen in Dominion ports.

The debate on the bill opened at 1.30 p. m. Mr. Frye, of Maine, suggested that the words "also if he thinks proper," should be omitted before the words authorizing the President to deny the entry of fish from Canada, because that language seemed to suggest this prohibition would be the last resort of the President, while in his (Frye's) judgment it should be the first resort and probably the only one. Mr. Frye's suggestion was adopted; and it will have the effect, should the Bill be passed, of making it compulsory on the part of the President to prohibit the entry of Canadian fish instead of leaving it optional with him.

Mr. Ingals expressed the opinion in the debate on the bill, that these fishery difficulties must be settled either by negotiations or war. This measure, he said, was distinctly one of retaliation. He would like to ask whether the bill was intended to be pacific or hostile, whether it was an invitation to negotiate or a declaration of war? He quoted from the report of the committee, and declared that countries had been inundated with blood on less provocation. The conduct of the Dominion and of Great Britain in the matter was such as to justify and warrant a declaration of war on the part of the United States; but he thought the reporting of a measure which authorized the President to enter simply on a process of retaliation was hardly consistent with the gravity of the situation. Mr. Frye said that Canada was playing the same role now she had played twice before. She played it but for one purpose, and that was to secure negotiations for Reciprocal Treaties, and these reciprocal treaties had turned out to the disadvantage of the United States and to the advantage of Canada. If the President of the United States were to-morrow to take advantage of this bill which would authorize him to close American ports against Canadian fish, that he believed would end all trouble between the United States and Canada. Canada would stop all outrages.

Mr. Ingals said he understood from the statement of Mr. Frye that if this bill became law, it was a declaration to Great Britain that she would continue these practices at her peril, and that if they were persisted in they must be enforced by war.

Mr. Hoar supposed the seizure of a vessel of one nation (without right) by the vessel of another nation was as clear a casus belli as could be supposed. Was it any less so if the act was done under pretended (and not real) lawful authority?

The debate was continued at great length. The tone of all the speeches was that if the measure should become law, and it did not prevent a recurrence of the outrages complained of, then other means should be tried; but if nothing else would protect the rights of Americans in Canadian ports, then, and only as a last resort, should war be declared against Great Britain by the United States.

Bad Outlook for McCready.

SUSSEX, Jan. 24.

J. G. Coulter White presided at the McCready meeting to-night, to the surprise of many who expected to see J. E. B.'s right hand man, Fred Stockton, occupy the chair. Mr. White and three speakers had the platform all to themselves. It is safe to say there were not over a dozen straight McCready voters in the hall.

DIED.

Suddenly, at Union Road, on Sunday, Jan. 23, of heart disease, Ann Selzer, beloved wife of Charles Selzer, aged 39 years. She leaves a sorrowing husband, eleven children and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. A faithful wife and mother has gone. Lone are we thinking that her race was run. In life she trusted in Christ, her head. And now she rests with the triumphant dead.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"Not Guilty."

Sir,—When Bernard Toole was arrested last summer, and an investigation was held before the Stipendiary Magistrate, the daily papers published lengthy reports of the case. But the accused was not in a position at that time to defend himself. The evidence was all on one side; in view of which I think it but justice that a synopsis of the evidence for the defence should now be published.

In the first place it was proved by credible witnesses that, before the Supreme Court opened, McLean offered to settle the case, providing that Toole would pay him the paltry sum of twenty dollars! But Toole refused to settle the case on any terms. After hearing all the evidence for the prosecution the Grand Jury threw the bill for an indecent assault out and found a bill for a common assault only. I presume to give Toole an opportunity to defend himself in open court. A bill was found accordingly and the case was tried in due form. The evidence of Dr. McLeod and the mother of the child proved that McLean's charge was unfounded. Besides other witnesses, John McKinnon, bailiff, was sworn. He testified that, some time before the arrest of Toole, McLean had threatened, while in his company, to have revenge of Toole for the seizure of a certain horse, if he should go to hell afterwards. Toole himself was also placed on the witness stand and testified that when driving alone, he always had made a practice of giving a lift to any person he overtook on the road. On this occasion he overtook two little children near Southport and asked them to get into his carriage. One of them got in, the other did not. Having travelled all day on bailiff business without eating anything, he stopped his horse to take a drink of ale out of a bottle, when he was struck from behind by McLean and knocked senseless. After he recovered consciousness he found himself under arrest as already reported. When the case went to the jury, they returned in less than fifteen minutes with the following verdict: "We find the prisoner Not Guilty."

McLean may have had his revenge, but it was dearly bought.

Yours, etc., FAIR PLAY.

Ward Four.

Sir,—At the last moment Mr. Davison issues a "Card," professing in favor of Waterworks. It is well understood by the electors of Ward Four that Mr. D. has always been closely allied to the anti-water party, and I can hardly believe that his views have materially changed on the subject. He has as his supporters (although in a minority) all the opponents of a water supply, and by his latest tactics is bidding for support from Waterworks men. The device is, however, too gauzy, and will not work. If the Council Board were composed of men holding the views of Mr. Davison, I fear our chances for a good supply of pure water would be very weak.

Porto Rico Sugar.

THE good old West India raw sugar is now hard to get—for the refined article is cheaper and has almost crowded it out of the market. We often hear the remark made: "The sugar sold now-a-days is not as sweet as that we used to get years ago." Whether this is so or not we shall not attempt to say—but we do know this, that those who taste our Porto Rico Sugar declare it to be the real article, and "something like the thing." It is sweet—and no mistake, but it is dear—seven cents per pound. Can we sell it cheaper than this? Not if we are to make any profit out of it! But we have promised to give some bargains this winter, and we will begin with this Sugar, and for a little we will offer it at 6 CENTS PER LB. Now this is a genuine bargain and much below the value of the Sugar, and we expect those who want some of it to procure it without delay. It won't last long at this price.
