inquired about the educational standards required of apprentices. Mr. MacKay told her they tried to hold it at Grade 11 or 12, but could not always do so. He said the apprentices were trained on the job under the supervision of the experienced employees.

Public Welfare

Mr. J. O. C. Campbell noted that up to that time there had been no mention of a strike in the hearing and spoke of a letter directed to Mr. MacKay telling of a strike vote having been taken. He asked the witness the relative effect on the safety and health of the people if the light should be cut off and the telephone service stopped.

Mr. MacKay thought either one would be serious. He said that in some rural communities he could see that a phone service stoppage might be very serious.

Mr. Allison Gillis, commission counsel, asked if it were not true that the present day method of reporting a fire was by telephone. When told he was correct Mr. Gillis suggested that this alone might present a serious matter.

Regarding the purchase of supplies he said that the majority came from Northern Electric Company, but items such as tools might be purchased wherever they could be obtained cheaply with regard to quality.

Mr. Gillis asked if the witness knew of any industry where the five day week had proven preferable. Mr. MacKay replied that he could not say as he had never worked it himself. He maintained that it was only logical that more work would be done in 5 1-2 days and criticized a remark of the previous day that the workmen going out Saturday morning lost most of their time loading their truck. He said the truck should be loaded the night before under normal practise.

Asked it he thought the five day week sent the man back with renewed energy he replied that if it did "this age is decadent".

Income Taxes

Mr. F. Doyle, general manager, was recalled to the stand by Mr. Randolph W. Manning, Commission advisor, and they held a financially technical discussion on the method of computing income taxes for estimated years.

Mr. Campbell inquired about the method of handling long distance calls and was told there are cables from Wood Islands to Caribou and from Borden to Cape Tormentine. Messages are also carried via the micro-wave station from Tea Hill to Fraser's Mountain, N.S. There is also a VHF system operating between Egmont Bay and New Brunswick. The cables, he said were owned by the Federal Government while the micro-wave was jointly owned by the Maritime Tel. and Tel. and the Island Telephone Company, and the VHF was jointly owned by New Brunswick and the local company.

Mr. Bruce Judson, secretary of the Alexandra Rural Telephone Company, said there were several small rural companies operating on a poor scale. He said most of their equipment was obsolete. He said the reason for them being in such poor shape was lack of supervision and financial conditions. He told of the costs of installing phones in farms and said that generally the small company serviced the farms. It was the high cost to the farmer that was the reason for fewer rural phones, he stated.

He said it was the desire of his company to co-operate with the Island Telephone Company to give the best possible service.

Agricultural Conditions

Mr. A. Walthen Gaudet cited a large number of figures to give a picture of agricultural conditions in this Province and concluded by reminding the Commission that we do live here on a lower economy than elsewhere in Canada.

Mr. Gaudet pointed out that in industrial centres where men lived long distances from their place of employment a 40-hour week might be needed when a man might spend two hours a day in going to and coming from his work. Here, he said, few were more than 10 or 15 minutes from their jobs.

He maintained that one of the necessities of rural life is a telephone and any increase in costs would lead to a decrease in use as farmers cannot go on in the face of declining farm incomes.

Bar Ass'n. Resolution

Mr, Campbell said he wished to read into the record a recent resolution passed by the Canadian Bar Association. The resolution in question reads:

"Resolved that the Canadian Bar Association recommends that legislation be enacted by the Parliament of Canada and by the respective Provincial Legislatures to enable the Governor-in-Council or the appropriate Lieutenant Governor-in-Council to withdraw the rights of strike and lockout and to substitute further compulsory binding arbitration in the case of any specific labor dispute where such authority considers that the health or safety of the general public would be placed in jeopardy".
