Miss Jean MacKinnon of Toronto arrived by plane recently to spend a month's vacation at her home in Pisquid.

Dr. J. B. Brown of Watertown, should wear my Sunday-best!" she smiled somewhat anxiously. "This is an occasion, you know."

However it was the rose-pink dress, she herself had made in a 4-H class back in the years, she chose to be her "good luck" garment, when she set out in the truck with her dad for town, to try the practical test which when successful gives one, as the lawful operator of a car, all the rights of the road.

"There's apt to be a repeat on this!" she offered with a shadowed expression, when the little truck eased down the driveway.

Her dad, a much sterner parent than James was in his day, though also most kindly to his children, observed drily, "Not with me driving you off to it, some day of the haying!"

James came in through the morning to the old armchair, picked up his glasses and opened the newspaper.

"I wonder how she's doing now" he smiled.

Alex was the first to glimpse the two returning to the yard.

"She has her license," he beamed. "I just know she has by the happy look on her face!"

So a gracious day, this has been. It blessed the work of the farmers, and that of the carpenter on the roof. To her delight, it gave Granddaughter her much desired treasure of paper, and for our pleasure, all of these things, and besides: a fine memory-peony, shook out a first bloom.

Until tomorrow — — Diary— God-night. . .

ELLEN'S DIARY

Summer's Enchantment Is In The Sun And Shade

Now, belated, the summery days, we have-full of enchantment. Yards flecked with shade and sun, branches so leafy they completely conceal the summer nests rashioned there. . .So empty and cold these were through the white days, when the wind blew a solemn tune along the farmlands, or when snow fell into a silence about. Happy winds blow now, zephyrs from the west, or a rising sunny breeze to bless those already into the haying.

"One of these days," the younger farmer of this place said this morning, "we must commence the mowing. If we only had a couple of fields to do, I'd want to leave it to grow for a while yet. But it looks as though, we'll have a nice lot to gather, so we'll have to get on with it soon, to be done in good time."

But not yet. Other items of the farm must be settled first. The weeding must be finished, and the cultivating of all the hoed crops before our haying-days are here.

This was a day of some excitement for Granddaughter, a morning of high adventure for her. Naturally, she being a true daughter of the sex, the underlying question when awaking to the new day and its promise, was "Now what shall I wear?"

"That was a question easily settled by most girls of the farm in the long ago," we chuckled. "You wore, in order of respect to the occasion, your Sunday-best. So, as we recall it, there was little worry over that!"

"Then, I think, by rights I

MR. AND MRS. EMILE GERVAIS

Young Couple Plight Troth In Ceremony At Summerside

St. Paul's Church, Summerside, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on June 16, 1962 when Therese Anne Heustis, daughter of Harold Heustis of Summerside, and the late Marguerite Heustis became the wife of Emile Louis Gervais, son of of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gervais of Duck Lake, Sask.

Rev Pierre Arsenault performed the ceremony. The organist was Mrs. Clarence Steele and she accompanied a sextet of girls who sang appropriate hymns during the service.

For her wedding the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wool suit of sandy brown with three quarter length sleeves. Her accessories were in a mint green shade and her corsage was of yellow sweetheart roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Yvonne Frenette, cousin of the groom. She wore a pink and brown flowered sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bestman was Denis Frenette and the usher was Mr. Thomas Glenney of St. John's, Newtoundland.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, which was decorated for the occasion with pink, white and blue streamers and floral arrangements. Mrs. James Johnston, sister of the bride, received. She was wearing a white sundress with mint green accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Following the reception the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to points of interest in the Maritimes.

Telegrams of congratulations were received from Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly of St. John's Nfld. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkins, Dartmouth, N.S. Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacAuley, Mr. and Mrs. R. Blais, and Mrs. A. Dube all of Prince George, B.C. and Mr. and Mrs. T. Pallant and Mr. and Mrs. G. Nicholls of Prince Rupert and Mr. and Mrs. G. Cote of Montreal, Que.

Island Exchange Student Tells Of Smithsonian Institute Visit

( Ed's note: Miss Sharon Baker of Margate is in Kensington, Maryland as an exchange student sponsored by the Kensington Lions Club. The following is an account, written by herself, of her activities since leaving the province.)

I would like to tell a little more about the Washington Cathedral. It was fifty years in building, and across from this enormous church, I visited the "Bishop's Garden" and the "Herb Cottage." I was completely amazed with these places.

I find Americans very modern, for instance the five minute car wash. In one door and out the other completely washed and ready for the road.

Mass. returned to his home after attending the funeral of Mrs. Brown. Also attending the funeral were Mrs. Brown's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rad Ferguson of Jacksonville, Fla. and another sister from Ontario, her brother, Mr. Claude Ross, of Pinehurst, N.S. two nieces of Halifax, Mr. and Mrs. Willard MacSellan and two children of Somerville, Mass., and Mrs. Gertrude MacDonald of Somerville.

Mrs. John MacIsaac, Mr. Leroy Villard of Charlottetown and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meals and Mrs. Nellie Schultz of Hartford, Conn. were recent visitors to Souris where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry.

Msgr. J. A. Murphy, Souris, had as his recent guests his brother Mr. P. B. Murphy and Mrs. Murphy of Regina, Sass.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison Wright of Central Bedeque returned home on Tuesday after an extended trip to California where they visited Mr. Wright's brother Elmer and his sister Mildred. On their return home they visited their son William, his wife and family in Toronto.

Dr. Florence Murray, a retired missionary from Korea, spent a few days last week as the guest of Miss Louisa Calbeck in Central Bedeque. She will be returning to Korea later in the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Heard of Halifax visited their cousin, Mrs. Brewer Clarke and family in Linkletter; Mr. Clarence Bradshaw of Central Bedeque and Mrs. T. J. Inman last week.

Friday morning I again travelled to the heart of Washington to visit the Smithsonian Institute, and the Natural History of Arts Building. There is a sign on the door of the Smithsonian Institute, that states, If you spend ten minutes at every exhibit, you will be there for ten years, so as you might gather we did not see it all, but it was most interesting and we even saw Lindberg's plane hanging from the ceiling. On Friday evening I went to a baseball game between two local high school teams; then moved to the Mac-Curdys. We visited Welles Restaurant, and I was surprised to find that there they sell everything from a ten cent coke to a thirty dollar ice cream sundae. As it rained Saturday, we went for a drive into Georgetown, the quaint section of Washington where most of the Ambassadors and senators live. The shops and homes, among them President Kennedy's old home, were beautiful. After returning from that drive I went bowling with a gang of teen agers. The alleys here are either ten pin or duck pin. No one has heard tell of the five pin bowling we have on P.E.I. I also found out about the dances of the teenagers down here. They do a greater variety of modern dancing.

On Sunday I went to the Methodist Church for service, after church a short rest and then to cook out, where I had luscious steaks and hamburgers. I also enjoyed playing shuffleboard which was something new to me.

Monday was another big day, my host was Mr. Cupola and his thirteen year old daughter. After visiting one of the many schools in Kensington we drove down to F.B.I. headquarters in Washington, where we joined a tour of the building. I was amazed at the clues this agency is able to get from such minor details.

After lunching at Blackies, the most popular restaurant in Washington; we visited the Department of Interior, then to the Islamic Center where we watched a Mohammed follower go through the various rituals of worship. On returning to Kensington I moved to the home of Dr. Bailey.

I am having a wonderful time, and learning much. Hope Christopher is having a good time.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort
Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In case hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
