

FAT BABY

Fat is the cushion that nature fills out and surrounds the little ones with, to protect their tender parts—the same with kittens and puppies—fat is not tender. Fat they must have; and fat they must be.

If your baby is anyway short of his rights, give him Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We'll send you a little to try if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

Where Quinine is Good.

Dr. Crosse, in an article in The Lancet on blackwater fever, incidentally calls attention to the fact that it is not wise for those who have an idiosyncrasy against quinine or who suffer from even slight albuminuria to go to malarious climates. He believes that in the more malarious districts at least five grains of quinine should be taken a day to prevent chronic malarial poisoning. This he considers necessary in addition to ordinary precautions in regard to exposure to chills, wet and the sun and as to moderation in eating and drinking.

Confuting an Impossibility.

"I want to see Mrs. Smythe," said the visitor. "You can't," said the servant. "She has the toothache." "You must be mistaken," the man replied. "I'm her dentist, and I have her teeth here in this package."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50-cent size bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. It contains over three times as much as the old 25-cent style, which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equalled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have used Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1851. As a family remedy it has been used and incorporated for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments. Internal as much as External. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 10c and 50c. J. B. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

BUILDING THE PLATFORM.

(Minutes of Caucus)

Sir Wilfrid—"The first question we have to decide, gentlemen, is whether we are to have a platform."

Sir Richard—"I say 'no'. The public are always taunting us about the Ottawa Platform."

Sir Wilfrid—"Well, the Ottawa Platform helped us to get into power."

Sir Richard—"And it is going to help us get out again, because we have never been able to stand on the infernal thing."

Sir Wilfrid—"But as, Tupper says, Liberal platforms are car platforms—they are not intended to stand upon, but to get in upon. Somebody suggest the first plank."

Sir Louis—"What is the matter with our old stand-by, 'retrenchment and economy'?"

Mr. Fielding—"What on earth is the good of our talking about retrenchment and economy with my report staring the electors in the face? We are not 'viewing with alarm' just now."

Sir Louis—"That is all right, then. Point with pride to the fact that there never was so much room for retrenchment as now."

Mr. Dobell—"Could we not start with something about my bottle-necks?"

The Master of the Administration—"I think, perhaps, the less we say about retrenchment and economy just now the better. Wait till you see us next year."

Mr. Blair—"Why not begin by affirming our loyalty to the Empire?"

Sir Richard—"No, no! That will look as though we had gone on back Unrestricted Reciprocity and the continent to which belong."

The Master—"I have no objection to a loyalty clause, provided you insert a paragraph stating distinctly that this is not to be regarded as a precedent. France is ever my dear good taste for any honorable minister, and especially one who is not a member of the Cabinet, to mention the word 'rope' in a family, a member of which has been recently hanged."

The Master—"Order, gentlemen."

Sir Wilfrid—"If the honourable gentlemen can mention any variety of tariff policy that I have not publicly advocated and abandoned, I am prepared to adopt it now."

The Master—"We will appoint the Premier a committee of one, with power to add me to his number, to find out what are his present unalterable convictions on the tariff question."

Sir Richard—"Don't you think the Minister of Trade and Commerce ought to be a member of that committee?"

The Master—"No. I think it is better to have some one who is more in 'touch' with the commercial institutions of the country. Business is business, and elections are not made with prayers."

Mr. Dobell—"I maintain that our tariff should be modelled on bottle-necked lines. I have a model here."

Execut omnes.

Result of the Recent Quarterly Examination.

The quarterly examination of Rollo Bay West school was held in the school-room on Friday, Oct. 5th. The examination was conducted by Robert Lawless, Little Pond, with the help of a number of the ratepayers. The pupils, by their ready and correct answers, gave sufficient evidence that their teacher, Mr. C. L. McLean, is efficient and painstaking in his work. During the past three months the school has been making rapid progress, and, no doubt, will continue so. Remarks were passed by Messrs. McRae, and Townshend, expressing their satisfaction as to the discipline and general

Sir Louis Davies and the Secrecy of the Ballot.

This section of the Dominion Election Act was in the bill as it was introduced by the Government of which Sir Louis is a member; and the Patriot declares that it "practically destroys the secrecy of the ballot."

"In the Province of Prince Edward Island, if any person desires to vote, whose right to vote is objected to on the ground of want of qualification, and if a candidate or any agent of a candidate or (in the absence of such agent) any elector acting in the interest of a candidate, so objects in the presence of the elector, the deputy returning officer in addition to placing his initials on the back of the ballot paper, as provided by section 70, shall also place on, the back thereof a number corresponding to that placed opposite the voter's name on the poll book.

Here are sub-sections 5 and 8 of section 96, safeguarding the secrecy of the ballot, with Sir Louis Davies' attempted amendment in italics:—

Sub section 5. No candidate, officer, clerk, agent or any other person shall communicate at any time to any person any information as to the number on the back of the ballot paper given to any voter at a polling station, except to a court or judge lawfully requiring him so to do or attempt to ascertain at the counting of votes the number on the back of any ballot paper; but this provision shall not apply to ballots marked in accordance with sections 67 and 74 of this Act."

Sub sec. 8. Everyone who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred dollars, and to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor, in default of payment of such penalty.

country. On second thoughts, we will leave the question of loyalty to be dealt with by our candidates individually according to geographical and other circumstances.

Mr. Mulock—"We don't seem to get much forrader. Suppose we start with prohibition."

Mr. Fisher—"I was thinking that as the last plebiscite turned out so satisfactorily, we might have another, asking the electors to declare whether or not they favour the Government's policy on the liquor question. As nobody knows what the Government's policy is that ought to be equally satisfactory to the Dominion Alliance and to Larry Wilson, the enterprising liquor merchant, who so successfully organized the Government's plebiscite campaign in Quebec."

Sir Wilfrid—"But how would the electors have to mark their ballots?"

Mr. Fisher—"There would be two simple questions: 'Are you in favour of the Government?' Second, 'Are you against the Opposition?'"

The Master—"But that has no bearing on the liquor question."

Mr. Fisher—"It is open to that objection, but then, if you remember neither had the first plebiscite. And in that respect it would resemble the latest platform of the Dominion Alliance."

Mr. Dobell—"I would be disposed to agree with the Minister of Agriculture if he would include something about 'bottle-necks.'"

Mr. Fitzpatrick—"Is it not usual to have something about the tariff in Liberal platforms?"

Sir Richard—"I do not think it is

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

THE PETREL AGAIN HEARD FROM

Sir,—I see by the Star that the S. S. Petrel has gone after violators of the fishery regulations at Kingston. Is this our old Petrel, the only really original work Sir Louis ever did for us—or is it a new ship?

[Likely enough the old craft whose owners had a strong pull with the New Liberals.—ED. EXAMINER.]

SOME OF SIR LOUIS' WORK.

Sir,—In reading your article the other day on Sir Louis' action with regard to the Public Works of Canada, it struck me that while there was a good deal of truth in it you should at least be just and mention some of the things he has done. The wire fence breakwater at Summerside the Stanchel branch and the steamer Petrel are his ayowh—and who'll take the honor from him?

[We think Mr. Bell will claim some of the wire fence project, Supt. Sharp the Stanchel branch, and the Petrel—well, we give her over to Sir Louis.—ED. EXAMINER.]

Swallowing

A sword is a trick not conducive to health or longevity. But it is not more injurious than the hasty swallowing of half masticated food washed down by gulps of ice water in summer or cups of hot coffee in winter. Hasty eating is the foe of health. Sooner or later it must result in indigestion or some other form of stomach disease.

For the cure of the diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition, there is no medicine so effective as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It always helps. It almost always cures.

Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "I will always recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets' for they cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I could not lie down to sleep, and everything I ate would almost clamp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago. I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds, and am having better health than ever before. My friends all say they can hardly believe that I am the same person; after being sick so long, I have changed to be robust and rosy checked. I have taken fifteen bottles of the 'Discovery' fifteen of the 'Prescription' and fifteen of the 'Pellets.'"

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth binding is desired send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
