

Mixed Memories.

A withered flower, worn years ago, Dry-brown and breaking at a touch— I sought to value it, I know, (But then, I have so many such!) Dear memory of days divine, When I was hers and she was mine. Poor flower, do you remember now The summer meadows and the sun, The green leaves on the dancing bough, The quiet words when day was done, The hour you lay—O blessed flower!— Held in her hand—one long, sweet hour? Stop, though!—I don't remember quite Which girl it was that gave it me— I can't be sure it was that night, It might have been—now, let me see— It was that girl I met last June At Mrs. Jones' afternoon!

A Couple that Enjoyed the Lecture.

Some years ago a Maine gentleman was making a journey down east when his train became snowbound. It was then evening, and there was no hope of progress until daylight. But near at hand was a little village which boasted a public hall. It was suggested that the passengers adjourn to the hall and listen to an address by their distinguished fellow traveller. He finally consented to do his part; the hall was warmed and lighted, and the lecturer took his place. The next day the gentleman was approached by a sturdy young yeoman who said: "You're the man who made the speech last night, ain't you?" The identity having been established, he went on: "I want to thank you for it. I don't know how I've enjoyed myself more than I did while you were talking." The orator experienced the genial glow which unconventional and unsought praise is wont to inspire, and he cordially took the honest fellow's hand. "Yes," the young man continued, "it was a good thing. You see, my girl is on the train, and while you were lecturing she and I had the car all alone to ourselves."—Boston Record.

Legal Assistance.

"I sent you an account of $25 for collection," said a man coming into the office of a Dakota lawyer. "Yes, you did." "What success have you had?" "Sued him last week and got it." "That's good. Give me the money and tell me the amount of your fees and I'll pay you." "My fees are $50. I have given you credit for the $25 collected—pay me another $25 and we'll be square." "What!" gasped the man, "I don't see where I make anything by collecting the debt." "Nothing, my dear sir, from a money point of view, but you have the satisfaction of knowing that a dishonest man has been brought to justice! You can use your own pleasure about paying that $25 now; I took the precaution to commence suit against you for the amount this morning."

The Right Man Found.

Cowboy—"Hain't yer got no job for a feller like me?" Dakota Editor—"What kind of a job?" "Anything. I'm not particular, so it ain't punchin' cows. I'm tired of that." "Can you handle a man of your size?" "Yes, an' twice that." "Dead shot, I suppose?" "Every time." "Take that desk there, by the door." "Bully for you. What'll I call myself when strangers come?" "The Responsible Editor."—Omaha Herald.

Business Maxims.

Don't cover too much ground. Don't waste vitality in overwork or worry. It pays to sleep well, eat well and enjoy life. Make plans ahead—but change them for good reason. Make friends and keep them; but cultivate no favorites. Don't brag of what you will do—till after you have done it. Don't wait for something to turn up—turn it up.

A Love for Truth.

"Just throw me half a dozen of the big gest of those trout," said a citizen to the fish dealer. "Throw them?" queried the dealer. "Yes, and then I'll go home and tell my wife that I caught 'em. I may be a poor fisherman, but I'm no liar."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, discussing the plea of insanity says:—"If evidence of odd conduct now and then were sufficient to determine an insane mind every other residence in a great city would become a private asylum." To which it may be added that if evidence of odd conduct now and then were proofs of insanity, few criminals would receive the punishment they have earned, particularly if the politicians come out strongly in their behalf.

TO INVENTORS

I HAVE secured reserved space at the Indian & Colonial Exhibition, London, and I propose to personally attend to an Exhibit of Models and Samples of Inventions and Manufactures. I will sell patents or negotiate for capital for those who wish to start manufacturing; and generally act as Agent for those who cannot attend personally. To parties wishing patents, I can secure patents in England, Canada and foreign countries, at low rates.

H. F. COOMBS, Inventor's Patent Agent, Indian and Colonial Exhibition, London, England.

ON TAXATION.

FARMERS, do not tax yourselves by running around looking for the best and cheapest FARM IMPLEMENTS, for by coming to the Farmers' Depot you will find a full line of Reapers, Mowers, Rakes, Plows and Farm Wagons, which will be sold at prices and terms that leaves all competition in the distance.

TRUE VALUE COOK'S FRIEND BAKING POWDER

As compared with two other brands the "Cook's Friend" is superior, and has been published, carefully omitting cost. 1 tin "Royal" costs 60 cts., gives 2,000 cub. in. of Gas, or 34 inches for a cent. 1 tin "Princess" costs 50 cts., gives 2,400 cub. ins. of Gas, or 42 inches for a cent. 2 packets Cook's Friend cost 50 cts., give 3,064 cub. ins. of Gas, or 60 inches for a cent. Cook's Friend is therefore 25 per cent. better value than Princess, and 75 per cent. better than Royal. The purity and healthfulness of Cook's Friend are unquestionable. Cook's Friend may be had from store-keepers generally.
