

P.E.I. Jersey Bull For Iowa Farm

Mr. Edison Mutch of North River, one of the well known Jersey breeders of the Maritime Provinces, leaves this morning accompanied by his son-in-law, Mr. Fred Kluson of Hampshire, to deliver another one of his Jersey bulls to the farm of Harold and Robert Massee, Nashau, Iowa. The animal will be shipped by transfer.

This young Jersey bull "Pansie's Dale" 123097, is sired by the famous "Jester's Standard Dreamer" 11874 which has recently been delivered to an outstanding Jersey breeder in Ohio for the highest price ever paid for an animal of his breed shipped from the Maritimes.

The young sire's dam is "Maud's Pansy" which has completed a record of 16,621 lbs. of milk with 846 lbs. butterfat. She will finish this year with another record well over that amount. She is also the dam of a very fine cow which has been recently sold by Mr. George MacMillan, Cornwall to Mr. Malcolm MacKay of Rothsay, N. B. She was the only "gold medal and medal of merit" cow to hold this standing in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Mutch is to be congratulated on the sale of this second highest priced animal of the Jersey breed to leave the Maritimes. He has gained fame through his splendid performance at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto and he now has a standing with that of any breeder in America for the size of his herd, both from production standpoint and show ring standards.

While on this extended delivery trip, Mr. Mutch will attend one of the largest U. S. Jersey sales which will be held at Meadow Ridge Farm, Meadowridge, Michigan. At the sale, he hopes to purchase a young herd size to bring back with him. This addition will further improve his noted Jersey herd.

Shipment Takes Roundabout Route

A strange sequence of events centered around the recent waterfront strike in New York is having an aftermath here in the delay of a shipment of importance to the fishing industry. A carload of Manila rope weighing 30,000 lbs was ordered from Manila in the Philippine Islands on Dec. 14th by J. W. Windsor Co. Ltd. and was shipped from there on February 7th by the S.S. "President Tyler", arriving at New York on March 11 for trans-shipment to Halifax by the Furness Red Cross liner "Fort Avolon". Here the strike intervened and prevented the unloading and transfer of the carload as planned. The "Fort Avolon" returned to Saint John, N.B. with her inward cargo to New York untouched.

Island Odds and Ends

With the usual high expectations and anticipation, the sportsmen of the Province are looking forward to the official opening of the trout fishing season, a few days hence. The work sportsmen here-in should be underlined, because few people can be unaware of the fact that fishing has been going on all over the Island for many weeks. In fact for many Islanders such a thing as a closed season is a joke. In this statement an exaggeration? To such people as Norman MacLeod, secretary of the Prince County Fish and Game Association, it is strictly in line with the facts. A few days ago Mr. MacLeod received a very informative letter from a western villager. His correspondent told of one man taking 129 trout from Black Pond one day, and 25 the following day. And there are reportedly dozens of others doing the same all over the province.

It is more than strange, that the trouble of passing game and fish laws, should be taken with all the parliamentary tinnings, and seriousness, and thereafter evaded. Nevertheless, don't join the rush on opening day without a license, because this oversight will land you in court for a fine. Don't be disappointed therefore if your luck is poor on opening day, because the fishing spot you pick may have had a daily going over for many weeks.

To be realistic, it is suggested that our Fish and Game Association should press for the abolition of the closed season on trout. Let everyone fish all year around. This would put the lawbreaker and the genuine sportsmen on the same footing.

Wise folks say that horse sense is an uncommon talent. Not too many mortals command it. A well-known writer and expert on "Management - Labor relations", by quoting from an old book printed in 1894 - "The Biggie Horse Book". The book contained a set of rules for the care and management of a horse. The Labor-Management expert was struck by the fact, that though men understood in 1894 that these rules when applied to horses produced satisfactory behavior, today many of us have failed to advance as far in the handling of men. As you read the old horse rules which follow, substitute the word "man" for "horse", and the word superior or "boss" for the phrase "stableman":

"Always speak to a horse as you would to a gentleman. Be gentle, be kind, be patient. A horse can travel faster, safer and better with his head hanging down or free than it can when it is checked up. By all means, let your horse have his head. Proper food and dots of sentiment will make, with good blood, a good horse. If you must put a frosty bit in a mouth, let it be your own. Suffering breeds sympathy. If your animals throw up their heads, and acts timidly, look after your stableman. Such acts speak louder than words. A clean stable is like a clean heart. It means better things. Cast-iron rules will not do in horse management, any more than in the family. If you care your horse, it will make it feel as happy as a woman experiencing the same sensation. You do not win the confidence of your horse by whipping him. Did you ever think of it? The whip is the parent of stubbornness. It is sure to be found some where in the pedigree of every balky horse. In training a young horse use an intelligent brain instead of a cruel whip. You cannot whip terror out of a horse or pound courage into one. Kindness and reasonable persuasion are the best weapons to use in training and educating a horse. If he shies or frightens, soothe and encourage him, rather than beat and abuse him. Cultivate a cheery way of speaking to your horse.

Sale By Ayrshire Breeders Planned

The Prince Edward Island Ayrshire Club is contemplating an Ayrshire breeders' sale on or about May 28th, according to information released by the office of Mr. L. W. Roper, livestock fieldman, Federal Department of Agriculture. It is expected that approximately 25 of the finest Ayrshires ever offered for sale in one lot, will be at the sale. They are being carefully selected from the herds of the most outstanding Ayrshire breeders in the Province and should give anticipating Ayrshire breeders one of the best opportunities to select foundation stock for new herds or to improve old established herds.

There will be offered also at the same time five of the most outstanding, carefully selected young herd sires which would be an asset to head any herd in the Maritimes. It would be well for young breeders or new breeders to attend this sale which will likely be held at the Charlottetown exhibition grounds.

Pravda Blasts

"The United States is hindering France by every means from starting negotiations with the government of the Viet Nam Democratic Republic," the Communist rebels for putting an end to the war." The Pravda blast is seen here as an attempt by the Kremlin to pin blame in advance on the United States if the Geneva conference should fail to show the way to a genuine peace settlement in Asia.

"Death-Run"

Capt. Douglas Martin, commander of the 36,800-ton carrier, said the sea at the crash scene was too deep—250 fathoms—for salvage operations. In London, the British Overseas Airways Corporation, which began pioneering in Comet flights nearly two years ago, announced Saturday night it has temporarily suspended its regular service by piston-engine Argonauts to South America. It said the Argonauts are required to replace the Comets, now grounded, on other world routes.

get this year is not a major factor. It should be borne in mind that the School Board budget for the year contains an amount sufficient to operate the new High School to the end of the fiscal year. "It should be noted that the total civic indebtedness as of Dec. 31, 1953 of $2,846,199.87 only $120,000 is chargeable to School Debentures. Therefore of the present fiscal year's expenditure of $270,000.00 for Sinking Fund payments, and interest, or 31% of the civic budget, only a very small percentage is attributable to school expenditures. In this connection it may be noted that over the budget 20 years, the School Board has received annually an average of 20c of the tax dollar. In the same period, the average of comparable cities and towns throughout the Maritimes has been 34c of the tax dollar, and in some communities this is at present in excess of 50c.

"In forecasting what the future picture will be in respect to school expenditures, it is anticipated that the total school budget including the operation of the four elementary schools, the operation of the new High School, interest and sinking fund payments to finance the High School and rental charges for the second school will require an annual budget of approximately $285,000.00, or an increase of $100,000 over the present budget. It is anticipated that this will require approximately 30c of the tax dollar, or an increase over the present budget of approximately 8c on the dollar. It is to provide this sum that the Education Tax is assigned.

Mass Surrender

large-scale organized surrenders can be expected in the near future. Erkiner added that "generals" Tanganyika and Kilba, who surrendered last month and later returned to persuade Mau Mau gangs to leave their Mount Kenya forest lairs, now are believed to be either dead or prisoners. The government made its mass surrender offer in February through "General China", captured second-in-command of the Mau Mau. He wrote letters to 26 Mau Mau leaders inviting them to surrender talks.

Soviet Biologist Lysenko Reported In Trouble Second Time In Two Weeks

By Don Dallas LONDON, (Reuters)—Trofim D. Lysenko, who under Stalin became virtual dictator of genetics in Russia, is in trouble for the second time in two weeks. The Ukrainian agriculturist, who helped to put biology firmly on the party line, was in trouble March 26 when a protege of his was stripped of his scientific degree. Now he has been attacked by the Soviet trade union daily Trud for failing to give proper attention to his duties as a trade union council member. His conduct was described as "undisciplined."

Lysenko's theories on biology and heredity was backed by Stalin and incorporated into a new "Soviet" doctrine of genetics, called "Michurinism." In 1948 the Soviet Union threw overboard orthodox genetic theory, named after Mendel and Morgan and formerly accepted the Michurin-Lysenko theories. Western biologists reject them as completely unscientific and inspired by politics. Lysenko, who in February received a second Order of Lenin, Russia's highest civilian decoration, was re-elected March 14 as a member of the U.S.S.R. Supreme Soviet.

He clearly is not at present completely in the dog house, but he does appear to be a legitimate target for press attacks. From 1948 to the time of Stalin's death, no Soviet writer would have dared attack him. The latest rebuff appeared in Trud April 3, a copy of which has just reached London. The Soviet labor daily indignantly described the difficulties organizers had in getting a quorum for a meeting of the central council of the trade unions at Dnepropetrovsk, in the Ukraine. It said that in order to get a quorum, various members of the council were contacted by telephone and then brought by car to the meeting.

Then, said Trud, it was discovered that someone was still missing. The absentee was "no less a person than Comrade Lysenko, head of the agricultural institute and an important member of the council." The newspaper commented: "The strange thing is that no one seemed to think it necessary to explain to the undisciplined members of the council that such an attitude toward public duties is absolutely infeasible."
