

Don't Stop My Paper.

Don't stop my paper, printer,
Don't strike my name off, yet;
You know the times are stringent,
And dollars are hard to get;
But tug a little harder
Is what I mean to do,
And scrape the dimes together,
Enough for me and you.

I can't afford to drop it;
I find it doesn't pay
To do without a paper
However others may.
I hate to ask my neighbors
To give me theirs on loan;
They don't just say, but mean it,
Why don't you have your own?

You can't tell how we miss it.
If it, by any fate,
Should happen not to reach us,
Or come a little late;
Then all is in a hubbub,
And things go all awry,
And, printer if you're married
You know the reason why.

I cannot do without it,
It is no use to try,
For other people take it,
And printer so must I.
I, too, must keep me posted,
And know what is going on,
Or feel, and be accounted
A togy simpleton.

Then take it kindly, printer,
If pay be somewhat slow,
For cash is not so plenty,
And wants not few, you know.
But I must have my paper,
Cost what it may to me,
I'd rather dock my sugar,
And do without my tea.

So, printer, don't you stop it,
Unless you want my frown,
For here's the year's subscription,
And credit it right down,
And send the paper promptly
And regularly on,
And let it bring us weekly
Its welcome benison.

Why Women Marry.

The question which we considered last week, "Why Men Marry" in the degree in which men are in all respects less interesting than women. The willingness of women to marry is greater and more patent than that of men; and, we will add, that it is a great deal more wonderful. That women have, to use a colloquial phrase, the worst of it through life, we entertain no doubt, and that the matrimonial state, as understood by experience, has, as a rule, fewer attractions for them than men, we also believe to be true. Yet, while there are many men who from choice abstain from marrying, and still more who put off marrying till the last practicable moment, we doubt if there are any women worth mentioning who refuse the married state from option and deliberation, and not many who postpone marrying till a late period of life from a general repugnance to having a husband. That women refuse individual men, and sometimes go on refusing man after man, is true enough; but then their objection is to the man, and not to the condition of life the man proposes; or, not unfrequently, their refusal arises from mere skittishness, from a feeling they may do better, or from a cheerful conviction that there is plenty of time to "think about it." As a rule, however, women who have the chance of marrying, marry; and they would marry yet more promptly than they do, were it not that they are frequently held back from taking a foolish step by wise parents or dissuading friends. How is this apparent paradox to be explained? There is less to induce women to marry than to induce men; yet men hesitate to marry and women jump at marriage. Some will answer that man is a rational and woman an irrational animal, but over and above the distinction being too uncomplimentary to be true, it is one of those plausible explanations that explain nothing. Again, it is sometimes affirmed that in marrying, men sacrifice liberty, whereas women, in marrying, acquire it. But this is an epigram easily disposed of. When men sacrifice what is called their liberty by marrying, they are already tired of their liberty, or that particular form of it which bachelorhood enjoys; and were the point thoroughly examined, we suspect it would be found that they abandon a form of liberty of which they are weary for another form they have not yet possessed.—Vanity Fair.

Brethren, before we sing the next verse of "John Brown's body lies moulding in the grave," let us take a look into the grave and see that it is there. In these days of Ohio medical colleges a cemetery isn't no safer than a savings bank, and it may be that political glee clubs, who have been singing the song quoted above, have been chanting a rhymetic lie for the past 15 years.

The man with the ulster occupies an equivocal position in society, but his legs are warm, and he is raised high above many of the petty annoyances of ordinary humanity. He can wear his trousers every day and he doesn't care if there is a patch on the knee and the whole rear platform is worn off.

Shouldn't "Bachelor's Halls" be built without? Answer by postal,

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS.
The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undoubted fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well know the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will cure hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canada.
