

A FARMER'S WIFE

TELLS A STORY OF YEARS OF PAIN AND SUFFERING.

Doctors Utterly Failed to Help Her and Morphine was Continually Resorted to—Became so Weak She Could Scarcely Perform Her Household Duties.

From the Beaver Napanee

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Stone have been residents of the township of Ernestown, about ten miles east of Napanee, for a period of about three years, and in that time have gained the esteem of all their neighbors. For six years previous to this time they had lived in Glenwood Springs, Colorado, and it was during their residence there that Mrs. Stone was attacked with an illness that made her life miserable for years. To a reporter who recently interviewed her she told the following story: "During the early part of our residence in Colorado, my illness first came on. At the outset every two or three weeks I would be attacked with a pain in my stomach. Later on it greatly increased in severity and at times was so bad that I would scream aloud with pain. A doctor was called in, but the only benefit I ever received from his treatment was through the injection of morphine into my arm, as a result of which the pain would gradually pass away. The medicine which was given me, however, had not the slightest effect, and the doctor appeared to be greatly perplexed, and thereafter continually resorted to injections of morphine whenever the attacks came on. These attacks continued at intervals until our return to Canada when they increased in frequency and intensity. The result was that I grew very weak, and my whole system appeared to be giving out. My complexion turned a yellowish hue, and I had little or no appetite. Latterly I would be attacked with fainting spells, preceded by attacks of dizziness. I became utterly unable to stand fatigue, and I could with the greatest difficulty perform my household duties. A doctor was called in who treated me for some time without benefitting me any. Then he gave me what I now know to be Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after I had used two boxes I felt somewhat better. I then purchased the pills myself and continued the treatment. I found that the pain was gradually decreasing. I could get rest and sleep at night, which had hitherto been impossible. I continued using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for several months, and the result is that they have effected a complete cure, and I am now enjoying the best of health. I can assure you it is a great relief to be free from the trouble that made my life miserable for so many years and I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for succeeding when doctors had failed.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly upon the blood and nerves, building them anew and thus driving disease from the system. There is no trouble due to either of these causes which Pink Pills will not cure, and in hundreds of cases they have restored patients to health after all other remedies had failed. Ask for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and take nothing else. The genuine are always enclosed in boxes the wrapper of which bears the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." May be had from all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of 50 cents a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams, Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ATHENS, April 7.—A complete calm characterized the whole city today, although placards have been posted in many places strongly advising war. This evening military patrols paraded the principal streets.

BREVITIES

PERSONALITIES.

Mr. Bean has been elected president of the board of trade in Boston.

Major General Teranchi of the Japanese army, accompanied by a native engineer, Mr. Ozura, has arrived in Vienna to study the Austrian military organization.

In a recently published book Reginald Brett of England says that Queen Victoria once impatiently remarked: "I am no longer queen. Mr. Gladstone is king."

J. C. Knapp of Jamestown, N. Y., has voted at 15 presidential elections, 10 times for the successful candidate. His first ballot was cast in 1840 for William Henry Harrison.

John Burns, the English labor leader, has made a will in which he leaves his best love to his wife, a sound constitution to his son, his books to the parish and his debts to his country.

One of the proudest memories of Jabez Chapman, who died in Erie, Pa., the other day, was his acquaintance with James Fenimore Cooper. Mr. Chapman was 100 years old.

William Bayly, the western mine owner, recently disposed of 51 per cent of the stock of the famous Tom Boy mine at Telluride, Colo., to an English syndicate for the sum of $2,225,000.

Sir George Trevelyan, member of parliament for a Glasgow district, who has resigned his seat owing to ill health, is the author of "The Life and Letters of Lord Macaulay," Lord Macaulay having been his uncle.

John C. Sutton of Denver spent all his money, $30,000, a few years ago in building a church in Denver, on condition that he should be allowed to live in the tower and be employed as the sexton of the church.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland, with several of her classmates, is to make a present of a beautiful stained glass window to Wells college, where she was formerly a student. Mrs. Cleveland, assisted by John Lafarge, has designed the window.

United States Senator Pritchard of North Carolina set out from his birthplace, a little mountain village in Tennessee, 23 years ago to seek his fortune. His stock in trade were a 10 cent piece, a bottle of brandy, some corn pone bread and a good stock of brains.

Mr. F. C. Selous, the famous hunter, has a great reputation for veracity throughout Africa. His title is "the man who never tells a lie." So thoroughly is he trusted, indeed, that the tallest story would be accepted by a native as literal truth if Mr. Selous' name were given as authority for it.

M. Gaston Paris of the Academie Francaise has struck a deadly blow against Germany in declaring that many of Wagner's plots are not German. "Tannhauser" is an Italian legend of the fourteenth century, "Lohengrin" is French, while "Parsifal" and "Tristan," as is well known, are Celtic tales from the King Arthur cycle.

Alfred Nobel, the distinguished engineer and inventor of dynamite, who died recently, would have been, according to a friendly notice in the Neue Freie Presse of Vienna, an author if he had not been a man of science. He wrote many poems in English that were thought by his friends to rise occasionally to the level of Byron.

THE HORSE IN HISTORY.

Few animals possess the sense of smell in a greater degree than the horse.

In the southern districts of China horseshoes are made of cane or bamboo.

Historians believe that the horse was first domesticated either in central Asia or northern Africa.

Horseshoeing with iron was unknown in England until introduced after the Norman conquest in 1066.

The horse differs from all other quadrupeds in apparently having but one toe, though he really has two, the other being disguised in the hoof.

A Welsh law of the middle ages forbade the horse to be used in plowing, this agricultural occupation being performed by the aid of donkeys and oxen.

The famous Darley Arabian was brought to England in the reign of Queen Anne. From this and two or three other noted Arabians are descended most of the race horses of Great Britain.

Pegasus, the poetical charger, which is now being overworked by several thousand of our fellow citizens, male and female, was, according to classic mythology, the winged horse on which Bellerophon rode against the Chimera.

Horse racing was practiced as early as the days when Troy was besieged by the Greeks. In the plain before the city the besiegers celebrated holidays by sports and horse races, and Homer says the walls of Troy were covered with sporting Trojans watching the result.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Kind That Cures.

THE GREAT SPRING HEALTH RENEWER.

Paine's Celery Compound for Men, Women and Children.

Read the following testimony that comes from Miss Blake, of 303 High-on Street, Hamilton:

"For years I suffered greatly, and was under the care of doctors who finally told me I was going into consumption. I was becoming worse through the use of medicines, and I gave up my doctors. While in a very critical condition, not able to sleep or rest, always faint and weak, appetite and digestion bad, and my system run-down and little life left in me. I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After taking one bottle I felt much relieved. I have used in all seven or eight bottles, and am now a new woman, can enjoy life, and am as well as I wish to be. Many thanks for your great medicine."

Kidney Troubles Steal on one Insidiously—A Slight Cold—Then Congestion—Then Inflammation—Then the Deadly Malady Bright's Disease—South American Cure is a Kidney Specific—It Relieves in Six Hours—Never Fails.

Mr. James McBrine, of Jamestown, Ont., says: "I believed South American Kidney Cure saved my life. I was so severely afflicted that my friends had to attend to me daily to take the urine from me."

Mr. A. Williamson, Customs Officer, Kincardine, Ont., writes: "I can highly recommend this specific as the greatest of boons to suffering humanity for all affections of the bladder and kidneys." Sold by Dr. S. W. Dodd.

The Lost Case.

Great Lawyer's Wife—And so your client has been convicted. How did you happen to lose the case?

Great Lawyer (sorrowfully)—The witnesses against him were all preachers and bishops, and I couldn't break the force of their testimony. When I'd ask one of them if he hadn't been in the penitentiary at such and such a time for horse stealing or something, it didn't have the usual effect on the jury—they only grinned.—New York Weekly.

A HEALED HERALD

Thinks Rheumatism is Born of the Lower Regions, but proclaims South American Rheumatic Cure a Heaven-sent Healer

Henry Humphreys, East London, sends his unsolicited testimony: "I was seized with painful rheumatism in my left foot. I could not rest with it day or night the pain was so intense. I tried many remedies but they had no more effect on me than water on a duck's back. I was persuaded to try South American Rheumatic Cure. I followed the directions closely and in a very short time this wonderful remedy effected a complete cure, and there has not been the slightest hint of a return of the disease. It is a sure remedy and I delight to herald the goodness all over the land."

MILK PRODUCERS.

Five States' Association Organizes in New York City.

The plan upon which the Five States' Milk Producers' association began its work of organization at the meeting in New York city was:

First.—The producers at each shipping station to be organized into local associations, uniting in route associations along each railroad system, with delegates on an equitable basis of representation in a central association.

Second.—Local associations to take care of local interests and carry out plans of route and central associations; route associations to have charge of matters specially affecting their routes; the general management of the whole organization to be vested in the central association.

Third.—When five or more local associations on each of the principal milk routes are organized by the executive committee, the first annual meeting to complete the final organization of the central association shall be held, and upon the election and qualification of its officials this committee's duties and powers shall close.

Fourth.—Each member of a local association shall pay as dues to the central association (covering the period up to the close of said first annual meeting) the sum of $1 if during December his production of milk averaged 5 cans daily or less, $1.50 if it was 6 to 10 cans, $2 if it was 11 cans or more. The finances are thereafter to be adjusted as the central association may decide.

Fifth.—That committees be appointed in every township at this meeting or later to work up local associations under the executive committee. The association should employ an agent or general manager to give his time to the work.

Sixth.—When the association is thoroughly organized, its object should be not only to fix the price of milk in co-operation with the buyers of milk, but its objects should also be to furnish any necessary supply of milk from existing milk shipping territory, to mitigate the evils of the surplus to the utmost, to insure better care by peddlers in distribution of milk, to co-operate with reliable dealers and peddlers so that the city end of the business may be put in better condition and to take such further action as circumstances may demand. It is also proposed that the association shall co-operate with the health authorities to prevent adulteration and to insure absolutely pure milk to consumers.

It is believed that with certain reforms in the trade that may be the outgrowth of this movement consumers will be assured of an abundance of good and pure milk without any increase in price to the consumer, but some of the expenses and losses between the consumer and the farmer can be curtailed so that the producer may get a somewhat better price for milk than has been the case of late. The farmers have no idea at present of attempting to change the present system of wholesalers and peddlers, but instead to co-operate with them to the exclusion of irresponsible dealers and adulterators and to the mutual benefit of consumers, producers and the trade.

Remember the Icehouse.

An icehouse should be upon every farm, and it should not be given over to the chickens after a few years either. What is a greater luxury in hot weather than ice cream and other frozen dainties made possible by its use? We just couldn't do without it for this reason if no other. Then, no one can make good butter in hot weather without some cooling agent, and we should all put it in store for this use if for no other. The women folks do not have any too many conveniences to work with, and this is one which every farmer ought to provide.

OH! THE MISERV.

Mrs. Galbraith, of Shelburne, Ont., was a Great Sufferer from Indigestion, the Bane of so Many Lives—South American Nerve Released its Hold—It Relieves in One Day.

"I was for a long time a great sufferer from indigestion. I experienced all the misery and annoyance so common to this ailment. I tried many remedies and spent a great deal on doctor's bills without receiving any permanent benefit. I was strongly recommended to try South American Nerve. I procured and used it. After using only two bottles I am pleased to testify that I am fully restored to health and I have never had the slightest indication of a return of the trouble. I recommend it most heartily." Mrs. JOSEPH NORWICK, of 65 Sorbonne Ave., Toronto, writes: "Pyny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of cough after a few doses. It cured myself of a long-standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for cough, croup or hoarseness."

Any one can use Paint that is properly prepared and use it in the right place. The difficulty is that most people do not know the difference between good paint and poor paint, nor the proper place to use even a good paint. All paints are not alike. One may be good for outdoor use, and not for indoor use, one may give a bright, glossy finish, another an oil finish that can be washed. It is knowing what to use, and where to use it, that makes painting a success.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS FAMILY PAINT

is made for touching up the little things about the house. It gives an oil finish. It can be washed—so it is suited for shelves, cupboards, etc.

Our booklet "Paint Points," covers the ground. It tells what you need to know about good or bad paint. It tells what to use for a buggy, what for a bath tub, for iron bedstead, for a house, for a floor, for a bench. It is a practical book for the home. It is free to any address. Send for it to-day.
