GOV'T PLANS HUGE ARMY CAMP IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Opposition To Request For Freight Rates Boost

Alberta To Resist With All Means Available

(By John LeBlanc)
OTTAWA, July 15 — (CP)—A fourth post-war round of freight-rate increases was sought today by the railways and opposition was promptly voiced by Premier Manning of Alberta.
The new boost, if granted, would cost more than $80,000,000 a year.
In Edmonton, Premier Manning said "We believe the Western economy has to bear more than its share of the freight rates burden. We will resist any further increase with any means at our disposal."
The request also aroused a protest from Winnipeg's Mayor Garnet Coulter. He announced that his city and the Chamber of Commerce will oppose the application.
The railways asked the Board of Transport Commissioners to authorize separate increases of seven and nine per cent, which would bring the boosts of the last few years up to a cumulative 97 per cent. The increases are effective on about half the railways' $900,000,000-a-year freight business.
Besides applying for the general increases, the railways also called on the Board of Transport Commissioners to let them hoist the Shaw, president of the local Caledonian Club, which is staging its annual sports and Scotch Gathering today at Montague. Lord Lovat is here to attend the function. The distinguished visitor—Highland Chief of the Clan Fraser—was met at Moncton by Mr. Shaw and Mr. George Fraser, director of the Travel Bureau.

W. A. C. Bennett Chosen To Head S. C. Party In B. C.

VANCOUVER, July 15 — (CP)—W. A. C. Bennett tonight was chosen Social Credit leader in British Columbia and will become the Province's next Premier.

Announcement Of N. B. Election Date Deferred

FREDERICTON, July 15 — (CP)—Announcement of an election date for New Brunswick, previously expected today, has been deferred until tomorrow.

Premier J. B. McNair said it will be made Wednesday after another cabinet meeting. The Legislature will then be dissolved and election writs issued.
In a Monday night announcement of the proposed action, Mr. McNair said the issue would be his Liberal Government's refusal to recognize an international union as bargaining agent for public servants of the province.
The matter came to head when most maintenance employees of the crown-owned New Brunswick Electric Power Commission set this Thursday as a deadline for stopping work failing Government recognition of their union, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (I.B.E.W.).

The election will be the first in Canada with recognition of a government employees' union as a major issue. The nearest similarity occurred in 1937 when Mitchell Hepburn opposed the union in the Ontario election. His re-election was interpreted as a vindication of his stand against the labor organization then headed by John L. Lewis.
Premier McNair has declared that any Power Commission employees' union will have "voluntarily discharged themselves from the service." He said steps would be taken to keep the system operating and protect from "interference or annoyance the personnel needed to carry on."

Lord Lovat Charmed With First View Of P. E. Island

The love of all Islanders for their native land could more easily be understood after he had seen the land for himself, Lord Lovat said last night on his arrival to attend the annual Scotch Gathering at Montague today. The distinguished former Commando leader stood up practically all the way over in the plane from Moncton last evening to better see the beauty of the Province.
The Highland Chief of the Clan Fraser, Lord Lovat, is an Army brigadier with the Distinguished Service Order and the title of Right Honorable. He is making his first visit to the Maritimes after having been a special guest at the Calgary Stampede. He was met at Moncton yesterday by Mr. Walter Shaw, president of the Caledonian Club of P.E.I., and Mr. George Fraser, Director of the Travel Bureau.

Notes Similarities

Lord Lovat was very impressed with the appearance of this Province and remarked that from a height of 2,000 feet it was just like his own country. He noted that fields were similar in size to those of the Old Country and the farms almost the same way with the inter-connecting roads. He remarked on the noticeable greenness and compared it to Ireland while stating that the high state of cultivation reminded him of both England and Scotland. The nearness to the sea also made a deep impression with His Lordship as it recalled the British Isles where he said a person was seldom more than 45 miles from the water.

The pipe band greeting the Fraser chief at the Charlottetown Hotel was the Sydney Girls' Pipe Band, now in their second year of training at the Gaelic College Summer School at St. Ann's. Their spirited piping and colourful appearance brought rounds of applause from hundreds of Charlottetown people gathered to witness the arrival of Lord Lovat. The band was accompanied here by the

Location May Be In Gagetown Area, Is Belief

OTTAWA, July 15 — (CP)—A huge army training base, the first in Canada capable of handling the manoeuvres of a full division, will be built in New Brunswick.
It is expected to be larger than any of the camps the army now has—Wainwright, Petawawa, Borden and the others—and to be the first big base capable of training large formations all year around.
The cost is expected to be well up in the millions of dollars by the time the thousands of acres of land have been purchased or expropriated and the clearing and construction work completed.
In the past the ideal area has been described as one about 500 miles long and 20 miles wide, 1,000 square miles or about half the size of Prince Edward Island. Initial plans for the New Brunswick development do not, it is understood, call for an area that size.

Keep Site Secret

Cabinet is believed to have given its approval today to the giant plan but every effort is being made by the Defence Department to keep the location as secret as possible because among other things, official publicity might send land values soaring.
Initially there won't be accommodation for a division because current army plans don't call for any operational formation that size. However it will be able to handle the housing and training of

20 West German Farm Labourers Due Next Week

The Province's acute farm labor shortage will be relieved somewhat by the arrival of twenty West German farm laborers next week. Fifteen of those have been allotted to farms in Queen's and King's Counties and the other five are slated for Prince County.
The immigrants brought to Canada under the Dominion-Provincial assisted Loan Passage Scheme, are expected to land in Quebec City next week end. They will be part of a full shipload of young Germans destined to fill farm jobs all across the Dominion.

The National Employment Offices in Charlottetown and Summerside arranged the placement of the newcomers with the cooperation of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.
Their coming will be timely for their former employers who have been unable to obtain assistance in hay-making.
Under the terms of the agreement by which the men enter Canada they are expected to remain in agricultural employment for one year.
Farmers who engage them are asked to keep them for the total period of time. They are not obtainable for short periods, such as the haying season.

Expect Record Vote In Quebec Election Today

QUEBEC, July 15 — (CP)—French Canada elects 92 members to its 24th Legislature tomorrow. Climaxing a vigorous month-long election campaign, Quebec voters go to the polls to determine the makeup of a Quebec Provincial Assembly in which the governing Union Nationale Party commanded a majority of 71 members at dissolution May 28 last.

This was the standing in the last House:
Union Nationale, 81; Liberals, eight; Nationalist, one; Independent, one; vacant, one; total, 92.
Not at stake in tomorrow's voting are 24 seats in the non-elective Legislative Council, Canada's only provincial upper house. Its members, appointed for life by the Government in office, includes 10 Liberals and seven Union Nationale, with one vacancy.
The list of eligible voters totals nearly 2,250,000, highest in provincial history, and all indications from lively, well-attended campaign meetings point to a record vote.

Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. EDT.
By law, campaigning ends at midnight tonight. Broadcasting of political speeches ended midnight Sunday night under CBC regulations.
Party leaders already are in their home constituencies for clean-up platform appearances and

800 Planes Will Take Part In Mock Battle

MONTREAL, July 15 — (CP)—Approximately 800 planes will fight a mock battle for air supremacy over the skies of Eastern Canada and the United States in Exercise Signpost July 15-27.
Taking part in the exercise, designed to test existing air defence arrangements, will be Canadian and United States radar spotting stations, air-ack units, and the 150,000 U. S. volunteer sky watchers whose job is to put the local air defence commands on the alert for approaching "enemy" aircraft.
Four hundred of the aircraft, mainly fighters, will carry Canadian insignia, as the R.C.A.F. puts 12 regular and auxiliary squadrons into the air. The balance will come from the U. S. Strategic Air Command.
With the Canadian and American air forces set to become fully operational Saturday, secrecy surrounds the defence plans of the R.C.A.F. and the size and direction of attacks planned by United States bombers. Eastern American cities, as well as cities and defence facilities in Canada, may be targets for long-range raids from the mid-western United States.

To defence Eastern Canada, the R.C.A.F. has regular squadrons flying Sabres and auxiliary squadrons equipped with Vampire jets and Mustangs at 10 bases stretching from the Maritimes to Ontario.
Maritime bases are at Greenwood, N. S.—where the R. C. A. F. has sub-chasing converted Lancaster bombers—Summerside, P. E. I., and Chatham, N. B. In Quebec there are airfields at Bagotville, St. Hubert and Dorval—headquarters of the Transport Command. Squadrons from Rockliffe and Uplands, near Ottawa, and Downsview, outside Toronto, will likely participate.

Developments Expected In Cold War Situation

(By William J. Ryan and Francis W. Carpenter)
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., July 15 — (AP)—There is an air of hopeful expectancy at United Nations headquarters. For good or bad, something seems about to break in the cold war. The break may be in the form of a move by world Communism dictated by Moscow.
Some highly-placed persons here express the feeling that a peace in Korea—however nervous it may be—will come to pass, perhaps in August. If it does, it will fit in to place a section of the whole jigsaw puzzle of Soviet world policy.
Many eyes are turned toward the chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, Jacob A. Malik, at a time when his vacation in the Soviet Union is overdue and he has created the impression of a man awaiting important orders.
It was Malik who announced Russian—and thus Red China and North Korean—willingness for a cease-fire in Korea to discuss a truce. That was just over a year ago. Fruitless talks have been going on ever since.
Malik is now said to have his eye on the post held until recently by another young Soviet dynamo-diplomat, Andrei A. Gromyko. The post is that of first deputy foreign minister, given up by Gromyko in the recent puzzling Soviet diplomatic shifts in which he wound up as Ambassador to London. While this notion, it took away from Moscow a key figure, a protégé of Vice-Premier V. L. Molotov. It could easily mean a shift in overall Soviet policy; Possibly a retreat into watchful waiting by the cautious element of the ruling Politburo.

That series of diplomatic shifts could be part of an intricate pattern for future Soviet moves. If Malik should go back to Moscow and stay there in a job a notch above the one he holds now, the implications with regard to Korea would be inescapable.
Some sources here tie up their expectations concerning Korea with the nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower by the Republicans for president, the U. S. S. R. faces the prospect of a dogged determination to keep South Korea out of Communist hands and to continue the West's resistance to Communism elsewhere in the world, regardless of which party wins the U. S. election. The Korean adventure, costly to both China and the Soviet Union, may be considered no longer worth the trouble.

Inventor of Jet Engine Quits Post

LONDON, July 15 — (Reuters) — Sir Frank Whittle, inventor of the jet engine, announced tonight he is giving up a top advisory job with Britain's major state-run airline.
He denied reports that he intends to emigrate to the United States following clashes of opinion on jet-development technique with British officials.
The 45-year-old engineer-airman gave no reason for his decision to quit his honorary post as jet adviser to British Overseas Airways Corporation.

Kefauver Camp Charges Gang-up Tactics Used

By DON WHITEHEAD
CHICAGO, July 15 — (AP)—The calm Democratic front was shattered today by a charge of a "gang up" plot against Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Then came a report that President Truman still is determined not to run for re-election.

The gang-up accusation came from Gael Sullivan, Kefauver's campaign manager, who told a news conference that supporters of rival candidates were involved in a "Beat Kefauver" move. He did not say who they were.

Two N. B. Areas Hit By Severe Electric Storms

SAINT JOHN, N. B., July 15 — (CP)—Two widely separated areas of New Brunswick are recovering from savage mid-summer storms that uprooted trees, disrupted power services, smashed windows and, at Eastport, N. S., caused extensive property damage.
On the heels of scorching heat, a miniature hurricane lashed the border district in a night-long assault by lightning, rain, hail and wind. St. Stephen officials of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission said 250 transformers were burned out in the area, cutting off power in many localities.
At Campbellton, the summer's worst electrical disturbance hit power lines, forcing use of a stand-by engine to maintain current. Over a wide area of Restigouche County trees were split and gardens punished by a deluge of rain. At border points the storm left a swath of toppled trees and shattered chimneys. St. Stephen crews were hard hit and power lines toiled through the night unsnarling tangled lines and restoring service.

High Temperatures
HALIFAX, July 15 — (CP)—Temperatures climbed to the high 90s in some parts of the Maritimes today as Eastern Canada went through the fourth day of a sweltering heat wave.

Started Forest Fire
GRANVILLE, N. B., July 15 — (CP)—Blamed on lightning, a forest fire was burning tonight on a remote mountain 25 miles north of Jumper.
Spotters placed its location on the north branch of the Southwest Miramichi River.
The blaze was said to be centred 10 miles from the nearest road. Because of the region's inaccessibility, the fire was expected to be hard to control.
After its discovery about 5 p.m., a Provincial Forest Service plane circled the fire to gather data.

Elizabeth May Challenge New Speed Record

NEW YORK, July 15 — (AP)—The New superliner United States defied into a queen's throne today and settled the maritime world to unseat her.
The fastest passenger liner afloat, she docked to a triumphant New York harbor welcome after wrestling trans-atlantic speed laurels from the bigger British liner Queen Mary.

Asked about the Mar's chances of regaining the title the United States skipper, Commodore Harry Manning told reporters: "I wish her luck but I doubt very much that she could do it."
The Queen Mary had held both east and west trans-atlantic speed records since 1938. The United States broke them both within two weeks.
The United States' owners, the U. S. Lines, said the new speed queen now will settle down to a regular schedule of five-day Atlantic crossings.
The United States docked four blocks from where the world's largest liner, the Queen Elizabeth, broke out welcoming bunting.
The Elizabeth is probably the only ship afloat with a chance to outspeed the United States. Her secret wartime speeds are reported to have been terrific.
There have been veiled hints that the Elizabeth might give it a try one of these days.

Elizabeth May Challenge New Speed Record
SINGAPORE, July 15 — (AP)—An air shipment of 1,000 United States carbines arrived today in response to a request of Sir Gerald Templer, British High Commissioner, for light weapons to arm rubber planters in the war against Communist guerrillas.

Queen Suffering From Slight Cold
LONDON, July 15 — (AP)—The Queen took to her palace room with a slight cold today and missed the wedding of her royal cousin and a former showgirl.
The fashionable affair in St. Margaret's Church united in marriage Gerald Lascelles, 13th in line for the British throne, and Angela Dowding, step-daughter of insurance executive Sir John Fox. He is 28 and she is 33.
A crowd numbered by police at up to 10,000—mostly women, "hepatitis" and plain curious—lined the streets to see the culmination of a romance that blossomed in jazz clubs. They were disappointed when the Queen did not appear. But they thrilled at the sight of the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Margaret.
The Queen held an investiture this morning conferring honors on 250 men and women. Shortly after that, an official palace announcement said she had a "slight chill" and regretted she would be unable to attend the wedding.
Both Lascelles, owner of one of the biggest libraries of jazz records in Britain, and his bride are jilted. They met at a fashionable ball 2½ years ago. They grew to love each other at jam sessions of jazz clubs.

Record Vote In B. C. Election

VANCOUVER, July 15 — (CP)—British Columbia polled a record vote in the June 12 provincial election which defeated the Liberal administration and gave Social Credit more seats than any other party.
Final first-count returns under the alternative voting system show the vote was 744,300. Previous record was 688,086 in 1949.
The C.C.F., which elected 18 members, got the largest share of the vote 30 per cent, compared with 35.1 in 1949. Social Credit, which elected 19 members and is expected to be called upon to form the new government, got 28.6 per cent of first-choice ballots. It had only 1.6 per cent in 1949 and, until the June election, never had elected a member in B. C.

The Liberals took 24.2 per cent and Progressive Conservatives 17.4 per cent. In 1949 the two old parties, as a coalition took a total of 61.4 per cent.
