

His Little Joke.

"Do you know General Wilkins?"
 "Oh, yes."
 "He is considered a very wealthy man, I believe?"
 "Well, I don't know about that. His daughter is my housekeeper."
 "You don't mean to tell me so?"
 "I do, indeed. She has been my housekeeper."
 "You don't mean to tell me so?"
 "I do, indeed. She has been my housekeeper for several years. We have several children. I took her to the Olympic last night."
 "How dare you talk in that way, sir! The daughter of General Wilkins must be a lady, sir."
 "Well, I should say she was a lady. She's my wife, sir. Ha, ha, ha."

Submitting a Case without Argument.

He was a young lawyer, and was delivering his maiden speech. Like most young lawyers he was florid, rhetorical, scattering and windy. For four weary hours he talked at the court and jury, until everybody felt like lurching him. When he got through his opponent, a grizzled old professional, arose, looked sweetly at the judge and said:
 "Your Honor, I will follow the example of my young friend who has just finished, and submit the case without argument."
 Then he sat down and the silence was large and oppressive.

Blessings.

City Cousins—"We are having such a nice time here this summer. The farm is such a lovely place for the children."

Farmer John—"Ahem!"
 City Cousins—"How nice it is to have relations. Don't you think relations are blessings, Cousin John?"

Farmer John—"Um! Ah! Yes, of course. That's what the poet says, you know."

City Cousins—"The poet?"
 Farmer John—"Yes. He says 'Blessings brightened as they take their flight.'—Philadelphia Call."

A Finished Education.

Mrs. De Jones—"Your son is in Canada, I believe?"

Mrs. Von Brown—"Yes, the dear boy preferred the climate. He has more time to study too."

Mrs. De Jones—"He is very finely educated. I understand. Strange he ever went into a bank. Did he ever go through college?"

Mrs. Von Brown—"No. He went through the bank."—N. Y. Graphic.

MRS. SOPHIA POTTER'S

Bone Rheumatic Liniment

It is a fact worth knowing that Mrs. Sophia Potter's Bone Rheumatic Liniment cannot be excelled for removing pain and soreness. It is no worthless trash, as some may suppose, simply because they have been imposed upon by others but is positively the "King of Pain." Sore throat cannot stand before its power.

All we ask is a trial that you may be convinced of the truth of our statement. Our experience is that one bottle tried also sells many more.

See circular for particulars and testimonials, and try a bottle—it will not fail to do all that is promised.
