WHAT nonsense! Manufacture in P. E. Island. Impossible! We're an agricultural country— an agricultural country; and our people must live by the produce of the soil. We can never manufacture.

This argument (?) is frequently heard. Those who use it seem to forget that men who till the soil themselves require a variety of manufactured articles on the farm and in the household, and do not consider that it may, perhaps, directly and indirectly, "pay better" to have many of them manufactured here "on the spot," than to import them from foreign countries, or even from other parts of our own country.

But to consider the "argument" would be mere loss of time. Let us point to a few facts which show that manufactures, prudently managed, (there's the rub), do prosper in this Island with advantage to the material interests of its people.

Mr. Boyle's Leather Factory was established some thirty years ago, has survived the hard times of all those years, and is now again being enlarged and improved to meet the demands of the leather trade in this Province and in Newfoundland.

The City Tannery, under Mr. McKinnon—another practical man—has been, and is a flourishing institution, sending leather to the neighboring Provinces, and supplying the local demand.

"The Esdale Foundry" was established about eleven years ago, by Messrs. McKinnon & McLean—both practical men—in an old building at the West End. The buildings and machinery in the establishment are now worth some $30,000 or $40,000; the firm employ about forty hands; and make boilers and castings, not only for the Island, but for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick as well.

Hall's Agricultural Machine Factory at Summerside, under Mr. Hall's prudent and clever management, constructs machines which give satisfaction here and in the neighboring Provinces.

Newson's Furniture Factory continues to flourish; the furniture factory of Compton & Webber at Summerside is doing better every year; and the practical ability of Mr. Mark Wright will, no doubt, ensure the success of the factory of which he has lately taken charge.

The Tryon Woolen Mills have been in operation many years, and, as managed by the Messrs. Reid Brothers, are still growing and flourishing, and selling goods abroad as well as throughout the Province.

The Charlottetown Woolen Factory, under the management of Mr. McKay, has been in operation only two years; and already its machinery and operatives have doubled, while its wares are sold, not only in the Island, but also in Halifax and Montreal.

Everyone said, when it was started, that THE DAILY EXAMINER could not live a year; yet it has lived five years, has never failed to pay 100 cents in the dollar, and is in greater request than ever.

Messrs. Dorsey & Goff's Boot and Shoe Factory has received double as many orders as last year.

Perhaps it may be a little too soon yet to speak of our Starch Factories and Cheese Factories; but it is worthy of remark that the Lobster Factories which have been well managed—as that of Messrs. Frowse & Son—still hold out, notwithstanding the falling off there has been in both the lobsters and the markets.

The Gas Company, under Mr. Murphy's management, has long done a paying business.

...er, who... on July... near Port Elizabeth, by a fellow passenger named O'Donnell, was not killed outright, but shortly after he was shot. O'Donnell surrendered quietly. He was put in irons and surrendered to the police. When the Melrose arrived at Port Elizabeth, Carey was travelling under the name of Power. His family were with him. He embarked on the Kingfawn's Castle which left Dartmouth on the 6th inst. for Cape Town, where she transferred her passengers destined to Port Elizabeth, Natal, and other ports, to the steamship Melrose. From Maderia he wrote to the authorities describing the voyage. He said he had shared in conversation in which the Invincibles and the miscreant Carey were specially denounced. He said he intended to FORGET THAT IRELAND EVER EXISTED.

DIED WITHOUT SPEAKING

O'Donnell is an Irish-American. He took passage on the same steamer as Carey, and was accompanied from England by his wife, who appeared to be on intimate terms with Carey's family during the voyage. Third-class berths on the steamer Kingfawn's Castle were secured on June 30th, at the Dublin office, for Port Elizabeth, for a Mr. Power and seven children, which it is well-known, was the exact number of James Carey's family. On July 2nd, O'Donnell secured a passage for himself and wife on the same steamer. He denies that he knew who Carey was, previous to his arrival at Cape Town; but it is believed that he has been dogging Carey ever since the latter left Kilmainham jail. It is reported that

AN INFERNAL MACHINE WAS FOUND in his possession. The Government had taken special and expensive measures to protect Carey. They selected Africa as the safest place for him. It is doubtful whether he knew his destination before sailing. It was not even revealed to the police who took him from Dublin to London. They have little doubt that he was followed from Dublin. They believe the Fenians took most elaborate measures to prevent his escape. The authorities think that O'Donnell was implicated three years ago in an attempt to blow up the Mansion House, and escaped with Coleman to New York.

The Times pronounces the death of Carey as a public misfortune. It says he has been the instrument of justice and that the murder is calculated to encourage daring lawless spirits to acts of violence.

JOY OVER THE INFORMER'S DEATH.

The joy caused in Ireland over the informer's death is proof that many elements of danger still exist there.

The news of Carey's death caused many exhibitions of delight in Dublin. A large crowd gathered in front of his late residence cheering loudly because the informer was killed.

In New York Irishmen express the opinion that Carey has richly deserved his death. Leading Irish nationalists claim to be ignorant of any organized effort to follow Carey, although they admit his doom was certain.
