ward Island groups. Honduras and Guiana sent observers who sat at a side table during the discussions which started April 13.

The British West Indies, in a 2,000-mile arc from Venezuela to Mexico, form a vital protective belt north and east of the United States' Panama Canal life-line.

Grants-In-Aid

Under the federation plan agreed on at the conference, grants-in-aid funds with which Britain has been propping up the economies of some weaker West Indian areas will be disbursed by the central government.

If the federation plan gets final approval by the local legislatures, Britain will contribute £500,000 toward building a federal headquarters, the sources said.

The sources added that Britain has agreed to pay its grants-in-aid to the federal government in quarterly installments instead of annually. After the first five years of the federation's existence, it was added, the federal government will review its needs for the next five.

Wednesday's report by the conference delegates will be published by the British government as a white paper, probably in about a month, the sources said.

St. David's Sunshine Social

..*St. David's annual Sunshine Bag Social was held on Thursday evening, April 23rd, in the Church Hall. While illness and the inclement weather kept some people away, those that were able to attend enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

The social opened with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds". There followed a dramatic recitation by Rev. W. A. Paterson. The audience then joined in a musical contest, which was won by Mrs. George Mair. Mrs. W. W. McLaren gave a very entertaining reading, followed by an organ selection from Mrs. E. Easton. Mrs. W. A. Paterson gave a sympathetic reading.

A trio, representing ladies of the Gay Nineties, gave two musical selections which were well received. The trio were Mrs. A. H. Stewart, Mrs. George Mair, and Mrs. E. Easton. Mr. Harry Yorston accompanied the trio at the organ, and also played selections later in the evening. The audience again participated in an amusing game of "Share the Wealth".

This was followed by the final number, a humorous skit entitled "Doctor, Come Quick". The doctor, nurse and farmer, making up the cast of "Doctor, Come Quick" were Mrs. Hobbs, Mrs. Nelson Dicks, and Mrs. Spurgeon Walker.

A very substantial sum was realized from the Sunshine bags brought in at this social. At the close of the evening, a very delicious lunch was served by the ladies.

CMA said currency restrictions among sterling-area countries caused Canadian manufacturers to seek markets in the U. S. However, it was a poor substitute.

The brief said Canada has gone about as far as she can to open her market to foreign goods. Further efforts must come from other countries.

Depreciation Too Low

In reply to Senator Peter Campbell (L-Ontario), Mr. Shiels said manufacturers would like to see allowance made for a higher rate of depreciation on their equipment. Present rates were based on outdated costs of equipment.

The CMA also made these suggestions:

1. Studies should be made of increasing manufacture here of Canadian raw materials.
2. Continued support of international organizations trying to solve world trade problems.
3. Increased immigration to develop new skills and expand the home markets.
4. Greater emphasis on Canada's industrial life in telling Canada's story abroad.
5. Closer trade relations with the British West Indies.
6. Continued aid to under-developed countries through the Colombo Plan.
7. A further reduction of corporation taxes to benefit the economy and allow industry to make better provision for modernization.

May Include Georgetown Slip In Supplementaries

OTTAWA, April 28—(Special)—With all main public works estimates passed by the Commons, there still remain hopes of many members that projects regarded as essential but overlooked in the main estimates will be taken care of in supplementaries in the final days of the session.

Among many of these last-minute projects before the cabinet, it is understood that one that has been given approval is a vote of $10,000 for the construction of a slip for dragger-boats at Georgetown, King's County, P. E. I. For some time past the need for this marine improvement has been urged by T. J. Kickham, Liberal member for King's.

The Georgetown project is one where the province matches the Federal contribution, and this would mean that both the Prince Edward Island government and the Federal Government would put up $10,000. Mr. Kickham has argued that the slip for draggers is an important and progressive enterprise and would yield high returns in additional catches of haddock, cod and hake.

It is expected the item will come before the House within the next week.

was left in the hands of the School Board which will set the subject, name the judges and select the winners.

Mr. McCormac also proposed that the day prior to the Coronation a speaker visit each of the school's and tell the pupils the real meaning of the Coronation and explain what the Crown has meant down through the years.

Brief Speeches

During the ceremonies at the Exhibition Grounds it was suggested by Mr. Charles Sinclair, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, that only two speakers be heard briefly. He named the Administrator of the Province and the Mayor of Charlottetown. Lieut. Col. P. S. Fielding, M.M., Deputy Provincial Secretary, gave a brief outline of the plans for Ottawa and noted that His Excellency Governor General Massey will only speak for three minutes.

It was also decided that the local speakers would be heard before Her Majesty delivers her message so that her speech would conclude the program for the afternoon. She is scheduled to be heard at 4 p.m. local time.

Brig. W. W. Reid, D.S.O., was named to head a committee in charge of the parade and it was suggested to him by Mr. Sinclair that a "fly past" might be arranged through the Summerside R.C.A.F. station. Other speakers thought that possibly a squadron of jets from Chatham, N. B., might also take part.

Pledge Co-operation

Both Brig. Reid and Lieut. MacKenzie, Navy, promised the fullest co-operation to the extent of their facilities. Lieut. MacKenzie said he would endeavour to have the Sea Cadets take part. Brig. Reid said there should be at least four bands and that possibly Pipe Major Wilfred Burke would bring his pipe band for the occasion.

The various women's organizations were unanimous in agreeing that they did not wish to participate in the parade and suggested instead that space be reserved at the Exhibition Grounds for their groups.

It was unanimously agreed that the first consideration of all committees would be the comfort of the children and they would have priority in seating arrangements.

Band Concert Proposed

A proposal to hold a band concert in Memorial Field followed by the fireworks display that evening was held in abeyance with a counter proposal that the fireworks be shown at the Exhibition Grounds where night harness racing will be held that night. This was left for discussion at a later meeting.

All churches will be asked to have special patriotic sermons preached on the Sunday just immediately prior to the big day, although it was understood that a large number of members of the clergy planned this in any event.

The committee, comprising representatives of a large number of civic, fraternal and service groups, adjourned to meet again at 7 p.m. next Tuesday, May 5, in City Hall.

Call a Halt

"It is high time," said the reformer, "that we had a moral awakening. Let us rise in our might. Let us gird our loins. Let us take off our coats. Let us bare our arms. Let us——"

"Hold on!" exclaimed a tall, thin woman near the platform. "If this is to be a moral awakening, don't you dare to take off another thing!"

Address and Presentation

On the evening of April 23rd a farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Proctor in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robertson.

A very fitting address was read by Mrs. Louis Moore and a Kenwood blanket was presented by Mrs. Arthur MacMicken from their friends.

Although taken completely by surprise Lloyd thanked his friends on behalf of Doris and himself, for their good wishes and beautiful gift.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing cards and very enjoyable music was supplied by Miss Joyce Proctor, Gerald Proctor and Stanley Sherren, after which an enjoyable lunch was served by Mrs. Gerald Proctor and Mrs. Victor Robertson, who were joint hostesses. The party was closed by singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", after which all went on their way wishing Mr. and Mrs. Robertson good luck in their new home.

Address

Dear Doris and Lloyd:—

It is with mixed feelings of regret and pleasure that we, a few of your many friends, meet here tonight. With regret that your stay in our fair city has about come to an end, and that you and your little daughter will be leaving the circle of your kind friends and neighbors and making your home in Nova Scotia.

With pleasure that your firm has rewarded you for your many years of faithful service to them and appointed you manager of their store in Amherst. Your ability as a salesman and conscientious employee has merited you this promotion, and we all rejoice with you in your success.

As a slight token of our friendship and esteem we would ask you to accept this Kenwood blanket, knowing in your hearts that our thoughts of you and Doris will be as warm as this blanket.

Wishing you both the best of everything in your new home, we are,

Your friends

U. S. Business Leaders Hear Bright Forecast

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks told 2,500 U. S. business leaders Tuesday the long-range outlook for prosperity is bright and there is no reason to fear a slump when and if peace comes.

"There will be no sudden nose-dive in defence production," Weeks said, addressing the 41st annual convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Weeks' statement marked the second time in the last eight days that a cabinet-rank administration spokesman has sought to dissipate any fears that a Korean truce might lead to drastic cutbacks in multi-billion-dollar defence spending and bring about a recession.

Treasury Secretary George Humphrey told editors and publishers at an Associated Press luncheon in New York April 20 that the United States is "not headed for depression" in the event of an armistice in Korea or world-wide peace.

Whim Road and Vicinity

..*Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Ross and little daughter, Susan, accompanied by Mrs. John Warren and Miss Evelyn Ross, all of Union Road, were recent visitors of Mrs. B. Ross at Whim Road.

Mr. John B. Clarey, Whim Road, was a recent visitor to Charlottetown, where he visited his sister, Mrs. A. Steele.

It is regretted that Mrs. Murdock MacDonald and Miss Lona MacDonald, Whim Road, are ill with the flu, at this time. They are both wished a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nicholson, Victoria Cross, were recent visitors to Whim Road, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Miles MacKinnon.

All are sorry to learn that Mrs. Colin MacDonald, Kilmuir has been confined to her home with the flu.

Mr. Vernon Ross recently paid a visit to Whim Road School, where he gave pupils singing instruction.

Miss K. Martin, Kilmuir, recently had the misfortune to break her arm. Her many friends hope her injury will heal quickly.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. JOHN J. MACDONALD

*The death of John J. MacDonald, a well-known retired farmer, and a life-long resident of Cardigan, occurred April 10th. He was 88 years of age, and was a type of the dignified Scottish gentleman. He took his part in all the affairs of the community. He was a life long Conservative, and for years was the official deputy returning officer for the Cardigan poll. In his youth, he was for years an altar boy, and served Mass for the late Bishop Charles MacDonald when Cardigan was a mission church. When the church was built he was a faithful worker.

Surviving him is his sorrowful widow, the former Florence MacKenzie.

The funeral was held at Cardigan on Sunday, April 12th, at 9:30 a.m. Rev. H. J. Croken celebrated the Mass and the choir was under the direction of Major John A. MacDonald and Mrs. Earl MacDonald. The pall bearers were Messrs. Walter Byrne, George Wilson, John G. MacIntyre, Daniel Sanderson, George MacIntyre and John J. Wilson.
