regular army.

The Minister recalled that Canada committed herself some months ago to provide a brigade group for Gen. Eisenhower's international army. He said Korea had required dispatch of the 25th (Special Force) Brigade and the situation there "does not warrant any assumption that that formation could be released to form part of the integrated force within a reasonable period."

"Keeping our force in Korea up to strength will obviously continue to be the No. 1 army priority so long as any of our troops are engaged in actual combat."

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., (PC-Nanaimo) asked whether men joining the 27th Brigade would be available as reinforcements for the 25th Brigade in Korea.

Mr. Claxton said the men would be joining the Canadian army as did the men who enlisted in the Korean brigade. Canadian army men were available for service anywhere in the world.

Gen. Pearkes also suggested Mr. Claxton might say, perhaps later, whether the 27th Brigade would join a Commonwealth group in Europe or whether it would be absorbed by some other formation on that continent.

co-operation, to use a military term, an exercise which has produced the country of Canada and made Canada able to do the job it is trying to do today in co-operation with other nations."

The Minister said that it is a matter of pride and privilege to come from Ottawa to pay respects to the Province where confederation started and he hoped that the N.A.T.O. scheme would have the same success as Canada has had since 1864. Mr. Claxton said that there is here one of the great training stations of the Air Force and it has always received cooperations from the people living here. He added that Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., has consistently helped to prolong this relationship.

Later when asked if there was any chance of expansion of R.C.A.F. establishments in this Province, Mr. Claxton said that one station for 90,000 people seemed to him to be pretty good. He said that every member of Parliament would like to have one in his constituency but only seven of them have.

Dairymen Hold Conference On Local Problems

Concern over the apparently increasing amounts of margarine being imported into the Province was expressed yesterday afternoon by members attending a meeting of the directors of the Dairymen's Association and men connected with the dairy industry. The view was expressed, that it would be necessary to take steps to counteract the importation of the butter substitute.

The members were of the opinion that the floor prices for butter and cheese were not set high enough. They felt that the 58 cents a pound for butter would not encourage farmers to produce enough milk for home supply and they objected to the setting the support price on the Montreal market as the standard.

It was thought that the prices for Charlottetown and Montreal should be the same. Freight charges on butter would set the support on Island butter below 57 cents, it was stated last week by Mr. H. J. MacDonald, Dairy Superintendent.

Cheese men felt that although the support price on cheese was not very strong, they would obtain fairly reasonable prices throughout the summer.

They appeared more concerned over the 90 day holding order on cheese. Under the regulations of the Pure Food and Drug Act cheese can not be sold for 90 days after it is packed. The men pointed out that as no cheese would be packed here before the middle of May, it would be at least the middle of August before any could be sold in the Province.

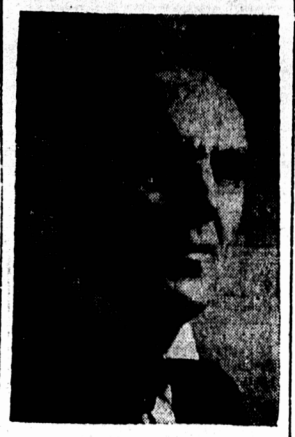
The Dairy Industry Act was discussed and the meeting felt that, according to indications, it will soon be necessary for each Province to pass a Dairy Act of its own.

The matter of advertizing dairy products was discussed thoroughly and an advertizing committee was appointed. Members of the committee are Messrs. Leslie Hunter, Bridgetown, Cheese; Percy Gay, Charlottetown, fluid milk; Percy Simmons, Charlottetown, ice cream; John Wright, Dunk River, butter.

The use of the Government cold storage plant was also dealt with and a committee was appointed to work with the Department of Industry and Natural Resources in allocating storage space.

The meeting was held in the Federation of Agriculture offices and was presided over by the President of the Dairymen's Association, Mr. R. A. Profitt, Freetown. About 40 representatives of the dairy industry were present.

Temperance Field Secretary



Rev. Ross Eaton, D.D., formerly of the first Baptist Church, Charlottetown, has accepted the position of Field Secretary for the Maritime Temperance Federations. He has resigned from the First Baptist Church, Truro, N. S., to take up the work of promoting and co-ordinating the anti-liquor forces of the three provinces and is well known as a leader in temperance work. His visit to Prince Edward Island is arranged for the late summer.

Kirk Organization Elects Officers At Annual Meeting

Mr. Frank W. Curtis was elected President of "The Men of the Kirk" at the annual meeting held last night at the Church Hall. Other officers elected were, Sinclair MacKay, Vice-President; E. K. MacNutt, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Executive includes, Dr. Don Campbell, Dr. O. H. Curtis, Messrs. L. A. Stewart, W. E. Agnew, H. E. Hyndman, Frank Andrew and C. M. Mellish.

The retiring President, Dr. R. Gordon Lea presided at the meeting and spoke briefly thanking the members for their co-operation and reviewing some of the activities for the year.

Col. J. D. Stewart presented a very encouraging report on behalf of the Financial Committee in respect to the renovation of the Kirk Hall.

The Minister, the Rev. T. H. B. Somers dealt with future plans for the organization and complimented the members on the interest taken in the work of the congregation.

It was decided that the date for holding the annual Sunday School Picnic would be left in the hands of the incoming Executive.

Death Yesterday Of Mr. R. D. FitzGerald

The death occurred in the Prince Edward Island Hospital Friday afternoon of Reginald D. FitzGerald. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry FitzGerald of this city. For 22 years he was resident dentist for Sainte Pierre et Miquelon and returned to Charlottetown last December where he had intended to take up permanent residence.

He leaves to mourn besides his wife and his son Reginald, four sisters, Miss Emma FitzGerald of the staff of this paper, Miss Kathleen FitzGerald, City, Mrs. Frank Harrington and Mrs. C. Howatt of Boston, Mass., and one brother, Henry J. FitzGerald of this city.

P.E.I. Attractions Finely Featured

The principal feature in the April issue of the Canadian Geographical Journal, just off the press, is entitled "Prince Edward Island Pictorial" and contains over sixty beautifully produced photographs grouped to portray different aspects of the Island, particularly its tourist attractions and its agricultural and fishery industries.

Many of the pictures occupy a full page, and there are four pages in colours, including the cover which depicts surf bathing on the North Shore.

Illustrated articles on Prince Edward Island have appeared frequently in the Canadian Geographical Journal, but none to compare with the current issue of this fine magazine in the completeness of its pictorial coverage or with its value as publicity on the eve of the opening of the Island's tourist season.

Newman Club Ends Successful Year

The Newman Club ended another successful year of activities last night with a big party at the Whelan Memorial Hall. Over 50 members were present.

After the reading and approving of the minutes the moderator, Rev. James Kelly, spoke briefly to the club. Father Kelly thanked the members and extended the wish for another successful season of activities next year.

Rev. Father Quinn spoke to the group and afterwards entertained them with piano selections. Later the members engaged in modern and old time dancing, followed by a lunch.

During the year three regular meetings were held with the guest speakers as follows: His Excellency, Bishop James Boyle, Rev. Owen Sharkey and Rev. Edmund Roche. Other activities during the year included debates, a mock trial and fun nights.

Festival Stars Heard In Delightful Concert

"Stars of the Festival", one of the highlights of the present sixth annual Festival of Music, was presented last evening at the Prince of Wales College auditorium to a crowd which overflowed and completely filled all standing room.

Before the program started, doors of the auditorium were locked and many disappointed people turned away. The first of the three concerts of winners, proved to be one of the fastest moving and most smoothly organized programmes since the inception of the Festival in this Province.

Dr. G. D. Steel, President of the Musical Festival Association acted as chairman, and introduced each number. Mrs. J. A. Lawson and Mrs. J. L. B. Anderson of the Scholarship Committee were on hand to present scholarships to the winners who were performing. Explaining the method used in choosing scholarship winners, Mrs. Lawson stated that sometimes a number of classes were grouped for one scholarship, and it was the competitor with the top mark in this group who received the scholarship. By this method it was possible for every entry in the entire Festival to be competing for a scholarship.

Adjudicator Speaks

During the intermission, the two adjudicators, Mr. J. J. Weatherseed, Toronto, and Mr. C. Hare, Calgary, spoke briefly on the value of music to the world of today, and each commended the organization behind the local Festival on the reputation it is gaining for the very successful manner in which it is fostering the love of good music in this Province.

Presented with scholarships last evening were the Charlottetown Male Chorus; Carol Elderkin; Alan Campbell; Winsloe School Rhythm Band; Parkdale School Chorus; Norman Stewart; St. Vincent's Orphanage; Central Royalty Glee Club; Cherry Valley United Church; Notre Dame Academy; Frank Mellish; William MacEachern; Prince Street School; Rochford Square School; Kirk Girls Gallery Choir; Basil Phillips; Maureen Blake; Nancy MacNevin and Barbara Rupert, and Mrs. Lorna Kipfer.

Following the concert, the two adjudicators, members of the executive, and the official accompanists were guests at an informal reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Steel.

Junior winners of the Festival will be heard in a concert this afternoon at P. W. C., and the Festival will conclude this evening with the winners of Thursday and Friday sessions presenting the final "Stars of the Festival" concert at the Prince of Wales College.
