THE COMMISSION

Prohibition Pressed Home

MR. GARDINER SPEAKS CLEAR AND STRONG.

Even Liquor Dealers Think Prohibition Desirable.

REV. MR. BREWER

Shows how a Drunkard's Money Goes

Father McAulay Thinks Prohibition Irrational.

C C Gardner, Esq (sworn)—Am a man of leisure I have been in the city and royalty 20 years. Under license the condition of the city was very different. I was not a temperance man, never belonged to a society. We used to come in and stand treat and nobody thought anything about it. It was necessary for people driving in from the country market days to return home before sun down because the roads were generally crowded with drunken drivers who were just as likely to run you down as not. Several times I was run down. The Scott Act entirely changed that. The farmers went home sober. I think ten men went home drunk under license for one under the Scott Act. In spite of the poor enforcement of the act it did great good for country people and many in the city also. The rough element probably got more liquor under the Scott Act than they do now. They could buy it sometimes and demand it at other times to be kept quiet Repeal was brought about from various causes. 1st not being properly enforced and second the people got tired waiting for the overthrow of the business. The continued struggle against the rumsellers was discouraging. Those men were uncessing in their opposition. They were fighting for their living and they hoped that the people would in time grow disheartened and give up the fight and they would get back to license.

The effects of the drink traffic are most disastrous in the business interests.

To Mr. Clarke—The lowest class of rumsellers never voted to sustain the act in my opinion. I think that under the license law there was a worse state of affairs than under the Scott Act. I don't believe in license in any shape or form. The public become partners in the business and share the responsibility of any evil.

John Kelly (sworn)—Am in the commission business. Have been a Councillor for Ward 2. I think the present regulation act very good. I prefer a good license law and a limited number of saloons. With proper restrictions to make license effective, you must deal with the persons who drink, as well as those who sell. The Magistrate could make a monthly report of persons who were becoming drunkards and the sellers should not be allowed to sell to them. I would permit a man to drink until he became a drunkard and then I would stop him. I would close at 7 o'clock and on Saturdays earlier, so that when laboring men get their pay there would be no temptation for them. The old license law I don't think was very strictly enforced. The licensees fairly well observed the law. The licensees never kept an eye on the illicit sellers, as I never knew of any such. As soon as the Scott Act came in force I went out of the liquor business.

I prefer license to the Scott Act as we had it. I think the law was responsible for perjury. I think men who at first would swear straight later on grew less careful. As a business it was not considered as reputable as when it had the authority of law. A prohibitory law, if it could be enforced, I would prefer. It would have a better effect on the community.

To Mr. Gigault—I think there was a considerable temperance sentiment where the Scott Act came into force. It was not a matured sentiment. Men who voted for the act would be seen afterwards drinking. I think the clergy and the temperance societies are doing good. I think there was not much improvement under the Scott Act. I think it was pretty well enforced at times.

There is considerable difference of opinion as to how the Scott Act fines should be expended. The city was guaranteed all fines and penalties for its general fund. When, in the council, I always opposed placing this fund to the credit of the Scott Act. If that money had been expended in enforcing the law it would not have made much difference as public sentiment was lax.

To Dr. McLeod—I don't know any who sold under the Scott Act who are not selling now. I think there may be others selling now whom the marshal has'nt counted.

Herbert Beer—(sworn)—The Scott Act was fairly well enforced at times. Its non-enforcement caused its repeal to a certain extent. Then some of our newspapers were continually writing against the Act,—a man could'nt get drunk but some papers used it to bring the act into dispute. The act was hampered by the Council also.

To Mr Clarke—I have been elected a Councillor twice. The liquor party was not always in the majority. A prosecutor was appointed at one time and the act was fairly well enforced. The liquor party dismissed this official. If the Scott Act came in force now the Council would use every dollar of the fines to enforce the act. Under the old license law there was much drunkenness. It was looked upon as a very ordinary thing. The Scott Act has changed all that. I know several respectable farmers who gave up excessive drinking when the act came into force. It was difficult for a certain class to get liquor under the Scott Act. The active avowed opponents of the act were the liquor sellers. The large majority of the best citizens wished to have it enforced. I believe enforced total Prohibition would be a grand thing. I don't think it would be nearly as difficult to enforce as many people make out. Many who always voted against the Scott Act have said they would support prohibition.

Commission adjourned to meet Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Commission assembled at 10.15 o'clock.

Hon. A. B. McKenzie called attention to the statement in the published evidence that "he had been a member of the House of Assembly." He said that if he made such a statement it was not correct and called attention to it in case the official reporter had the same mistatement. Judge McDonald ordered such a statement erased from the official report.

James Currie—To Judge McDonald—I have been collector of customs at Charlottetown for 13 years. There are 12 outports besides Charlottetown.

Mr Currie submitted the following memorandum to his lordship—spirits, etc, imported and entered for consumption at the port of Ch'town (Kings and Queen's Counties) for one and a half years ending 31st December, 1890:

IMPORTED.

Goods	Gals.	Values.
Ales	7,570	$ 4,340
Spirits	24,358	26,919
Wines	1,407	2,395
Totals	33,335	$33,654

ENTERED FOR CONSUMPTION.

Goods	Gals.	Values.
Ales	7,978	$ 4,487
Spirits	34,292	31,185
Wines	1,742	2,541
Totals	43,012	$38,213

Spirits, etc. imported and entered for consumption at the port of Ch'town (Queen's and King's Counties) for one and a half years ending 30th June, 1892:

IMPORTED.

Goods.	Gals.	Value.
Ale	5,551	$ 3,532
Spirits	32,592	35,999
Wines	2,389	2,591
	40,532	$42,122

ENTERED FOR CONSUMPTION.

Goods.	Gals.	Value.
Ale	5,655	$ 3,613
Spirits	35,572	34,822
Wines	2,143	2,537
	43,370	$40,972

A statement of the spirits, including wines and ales, entered for home consumption at this port for the fiscal years from 1887 to 1890, as follows:—

Year.	Gals.	Value.	Duty.
1887-88	33,623	$26,701	$46,899.38
1888-89	30,357	24,234	34,705 81
1889-90	30,124	25,750	38,389,71

Owing to the burning of the custo house, I can give no statement previous to the enforcement of the Scott Act.

To Mr Gigault—The Scott Act was at times poorly enforced. It would have been a good deal better enforced had it not been for the insincerity of its friends. From common report I should say the Scott Act was not as well enforced as it should be. All the imports were not consumed in Charlottetown.

To Mr Clarke—The common practice of most liquor dealers is to purchase liquor and then reduce it with water. From the time the Scott Act was repealed there was no restriction on liquor selling. There are from 20 to 30 roughs who are continually drinking. During the Scott Act liquor was sold illegally. We have in the community men who were hard workers in the cause of temperance and attentive to their business; and we have men professing to be temperance men who are not. You cannot get 4 out 10, who voted for the Scott Act who had not been drinking during the enforcement of the Act. These men were, perhaps, ill, but a great many of them were ill very often. I believe there was a very large quantity of liquor brought from Halifax, St John and Montreal, which had been duty paid at those ports. I think we have a very good law now. If the present law was a little stricter and enforced with all strictness, it would be better than Scott Act, as it was. Those who thirsted for drink under the Scott Act would have to act the sneak. Under the present law those who want a drink can get it. The law for closing up at 10 o'clock and at 6 o'clock Saturday, is an excellent one. I know a den in this city—

THE CANAL TOLLS

Haraisons Bid for the Popular Vote.

Press Comments on the Proclamation.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—President Harrison has issued a proclamation imposing retaliatory tolls on Canadian vessels going through American canals.

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—The Empire in an editorial says that the spirit of President Harrison's action in issuing the proclamation imposing tolls on Canadian vessels passing through the Sault Canal is an unfriendly one, and will not tend to increase the cordiality of feeling between the two nations. The Montreal Star and Witness also deal with the question of tolls. The former says the President issued the proclamation to make political capital, while the latter looks upon his action as a moderate one.

Gladstone at Osborne House.

LONDON, Aug 22—The stories that Gladstone was received coldly at Osborne House are absolutely untrue. The interview with the Queen was especially cordial.

Among the honors conferred by the Queen is a Baronetcy to Sir Julian Pauncefote, Minister to Washington.

A previous despatch says that Mr. Gladstone had a warm reception at Osborne. Although Queen Victoria does not like Mr. Gladstone's politics, she has the respect of a veteran for a veteran and is known to be grateful to Mr. Gladstone for the tact and success with which he has often intervened to protect the royal family from radical assaults in parliament. Her Majesty talked with Mr. Gladstone for half an hour in private. Lord Salisbury himself was never treated more cordially.

St. John Lawyer Missing.

He had been entrusted with the management of a great deal of property, including the Drury, Botsford, Tate and Simmonds estates. There are a great number of small creditors. Messrs Baird and Hazen, M P's, have gone to Boston to look after Lee.

CURED BY THREE BOTTLES!

MR. D. T. ELWELL, FORMERLY OF PATTEN, AROOSTOOK COUNTY, ME., BUT FOR THE LAST THREE YEARS LIVING AT ROCKLAND, ME., No. 5 BUNKER ST., WRITES:

GENTS:—I am now 79 years of age. Have been troubled for twenty years with Inflammation at neck of bladder and enlargement of Prostate Gland. For six years, have been afflicted with Irregular action of the bowels, alternating between Diarrhœa and extreme Constipation. For two years the Constipation has been BETTER so great, that for five or six days would have no action of the bowels at all. I have been a great sufferer from indigestion with no appetite. Within fifteen minutes after taking food into the stomach, it would become sour, nearly acid with extreme burning sensation, and no action of the stomach whatever. Previous to taking SKODA'S DISCOVERY and SKODA'S LITTLE TABLETS, I had taken many remedies, including near THAN ly all the sarsaparillas upon the market to-day with not the least benefit. I had been taking your Discovery but a few days before I felt a decided change. I have now taken one-half course (three bottles), and have a fine appetite; not the least distress or souring after eating, bowels regular in action every day, and feel to-day as good as I did when a boy; my bladder trouble has entirely disappeared, and I have experienced so great a change that I feel GOLD it my duty to testify to the wonderful effects of your remedies.

Very truly yours, D. T. ELWELL.
