

URBAN BEAUTIFICATION INAUGURATED

A ceremony marking the inauguration of a national program of Urban Beautification, sponsored by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation was held at the Confederation Centre last night. Participating in the program was the Hon. John R. Nicholson, federal minister of labour. Mr.

Nicholson first announced a $25,000 National Housing Act grant in 1965 to enable Professor Harold Spence-Sales, of McGill University, to direct a study leading to the preparation of a manual and exhibition on Urban Beautification and also to proposals for the improvement of the environs of the Fathers of Confederation Memorial Building, Charlottetown. From the left are Premier Alex Campbell and Governor W.J. MacDonald as they look over a model of the proposals for Charlottetown last night.

Federal Labor Minister Officially Opens Home

Charlotte Court — the province's most modern home for senior citizens, which is located on North River Road in Charlottetown, was yesterday opened by Hon. J.R. Nicholson, federal labor minister responsible for the administration of the Public Housing Act.

Mr. Nicholson, on behalf of Prime Minister Pearson and the government of Canada, extended to senior citizens who now occupy, or will occupy these apartments, sincere wishes for good health and happiness in their pleasant new surroundings. It is the understanding of Mr. Nicholson that there are more than 13,000 people in this province over the age of 65, and that this number represents about 12 per cent of the Island's population.

"For some people, this may not be an astounding proportion, but it does serve to prove that the aspirations of Prince Edward Islanders to a ripe old age, are not without foundation. It is a matter of conjecture whether or not this outlook can be attributed to the progress made in the field of medicine or to the benefits of the salubrious climate and of this island environment. Whatever the reason, it augurs well for the longevity of today's younger generation, and in the years to come, for an increased population of senior citizens."

In his address to a large gathering of residents of Charlotte Court, members of government, representatives of the City of Charlottetown, clergy, and guests who attended the opening ceremonies, Mr. Nicholson said that loans totalling more than $2,000,000 have been made to P.E.I. through Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, for the construction of housing units for senior citizens.

"Prince Edward Island foresees the needs of their elderly people and, wisely established a non-profit organization — the Senior Citizens Housing Corporation — to plan, secure, and administer this substantial element of low-rental housing. MAJOR STEP

The provision of dwellings or homes for the elderly, at a rental fee that is within their financial capabilities, represents a major step towards sustaining a true dignity of life for those whose earning power dwindles as they grow older. This accomplishment should also represent a real and satisfying experience for the responsible provincial officials," stated Mr. Nicholson.

The minister went on to say that the single-story units are designed to preserve the physical energies of the occupants so that they still may seek other pursuits and take part in further and exciting community activities.

The 45 units opened yesterday are fully equipped with stoves, fridges, laundry and kitchen appliances, while complete services of heat, light and water are included in the rentals.

Of equal importance, these homes afford dignity and privacy in pleasant surroundings of this recently developed residential area of the city.

Mr. Nicholson commented: "thoughtful account has been taken of the physical needs without sacrificing that essential ingredient of human nature—the need for identification with familiar surroundings."

REAL CHALLENGE
"Although our tendency is to glorify youth and what youth can accomplish, perhaps by extending this extra slice of comfortable life our senior citizens will continue as a strong and experienced voice in our society. A real challenge is being presented to municipal, provincial and federal authorities in all parts of Canada today to make this extra slice of life not only a fruitful but an enjoyable period of all our lives."

Mr. Nicholson concluded by saying "the future success of housing units such as these will come from the manner in which they serve the men and women, who can and I believe will bring these buildings to life when they occupy them."

Two recommendations were included in the verdict of the jury at the inquest held last night into the death of Felix Joseph Allain, 60, of Charlottetown. The verdict was as follows:

"Felix Joseph Allain came to his death at Palmers Road, Prince County, Prince Edward Island, on October 29 at approximately 6:30 p.m. as a result of injuries received in a collision with a car driven by Emmet Profit.

"The jury recommends that the day a road is opened for vehicular traffic that it be marked with white lines, according to the Highway Traffic Act.

"The jury further recommends that an applicant for a driver's licence 65 years of age or over, should have a medical check by an independent physician, as optician and by the motor vehicle examiner each year that they apply for a license to drive.

"We strongly suggest that these recommendations be noted by the proper authorities."

Witnesses were: Dr. John Craig, pathologist, Charlottetown; Corporal William A. Wilson, RCMP Alberton; Joseph Arthur Arsenault, St. Edward; Joseph B. Allain, St. Edward; James Everett Shea, Montrose; Emmet F. Profit, St. Louis, and Lawson Ralph Adams.

Exhibition Association Elects New President

ALBERTON — Keir Ramsay, O'Leary, was elected president of the Exhibition Association at the 14th annual meeting here last night. Arthur Hudson of Casumpec was elected vice-president.

The retiring president, Winston W. Currie, presided over the annual shareholders meeting and a meeting of directors which followed. The 1967 exhibition will be held on Aug. 9 and 10.

In his annual report Mr. Currie said that the 1965 exhibition was one of the most successful in the history of the exhibition but this year's fair was even more of a success, especially from a financial viewpoint. Livestock exhibits were down slightly in the past two years. Mr. Currie continued but exhibits inside the building taxed the available space. Poultry exhibits were up this year.

Consideration should be given for the safety of the exhibition's books the president said as they make highly interesting reading over the fifty years history of the association. Only four of the original directors are on the board today.

NEW PRESIDENT
The president concluded his report by asking for the election of a new president owing to pressure of other duties. Mr. Currie, president for the past two years, served as secretary for thirteen years.

The names of Albert Cormier, Egmont Bay, and James Palmer, Roseville were added to the board of directors. Perley Hardy was elected chairman of the entertainment committee. The secretary-treasurer, Brendon Wallace was commended on his statement.

Mr. Wallace informed the meeting that he was unable to continue as secretary and Perley Hardy, Gordon Warren and Keir Ramsay were appointed to obtain a secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to hold the annual banquet the later part of November.

Education Minister Presides At Ceremony

Education Minister Gordon Bennett, chairman of the housing commission, presided at a ceremony here yesterday which saw a federal labor minister officially open the most modern senior citizens home in Prince Edward Island.

The 45-unit complex, situated on North River Road — known as Charlotte Court, was declared open by Hon. John R. Nicholson, the minister responsible for administering the Public Housing Act.

Prior to the opening, Mr. Bennett and Henry W. Wedge, M.L.A., commented briefly. Mr. Nicholson, guest speaker, was introduced by Premier Alex Campbell.

Snow of the contracting firm of Fitzgerald and Snow, Summerside who in turn received it from architect Keith Pickard of Charlottetown.

Both Premier Campbell and Mr. Bennett extended to Mr. Wedge, on behalf of the people of the province, recognition for his efforts and personal interest in senior citizens housing and for the emphasis he placed on
